

This short form prospectus is referred to as a base shelf prospectus and has been filed under legislation in each of the provinces of Canada that permits certain information about these securities to be determined after this prospectus has become final and that permits the omission from this short form prospectus of that information. The legislation requires the delivery to purchasers of a pricing supplement containing the omitted information within a specified period of time after agreeing to purchase any of these securities.

No securities regulatory authority has expressed an opinion about these securities and it is an offence to claim otherwise. This short form base shelf prospectus, together with each document deemed to be incorporated by reference herein, constitutes a public offering of these securities only in those jurisdictions where they may be lawfully offered for sale and therein only by persons permitted to sell such securities. These securities have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “1933 Act”) or any state securities laws. Subject to certain exceptions, these securities may not be offered, sold or delivered in the United States or to or for the account or benefit of U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S to the 1933 Act).

Information has been incorporated by reference in this short form base shelf prospectus from documents filed with securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada. Copies of the documents incorporated herein by reference may be obtained on request without charge from Computershare Trust Company of Canada, in its capacity as Issuer Trustee of Glacier Credit Card Trust, at 100 University Avenue, 11th Floor, North Tower, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2Y1, telephone: (416) 263-9200 and are also available electronically under Glacier Credit Card Trust’s profile on www.sedar.com.

SHORT FORM BASE SHELF PROSPECTUS

New Issue

May 22, 2019

GLACIER CREDIT CARD TRUST®

Up to $2,000,000,000 Credit Card Asset-Backed Notes

Glacier Credit Card Trust® (the “Issuer” or the “Trust”) may, from time to time, during the 25 months that this short form base shelf prospectus, including any amendments hereto (the “Prospectus”), remains valid, offer and issue credit card asset-backed notes (the “Notes”) in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $2,000,000,000. The Notes will be issued in series, each of which will evidence debt obligations of the Issuer and will be secured by, and recourse under which will be limited to (except in certain limited circumstances), the assets acquired by the Issuer using the proceeds from the issuance thereof and the proceeds of such assets. In each case, the assets so acquired will consist of a series of undivided co-ownership interests (each a “Series”) in a revolving pool of credit card receivables generated under designated credit card accounts by Canadian Tire Bank (“CTB”), an indirect, majority-owned subsidiary of Canadian Tire Corporation, Limited (“CTC”), and certain related assets.

It will be a condition of the issuance of any Notes that they shall have received a Designated Rating from at least two Designated Rating Organizations.

The offering of Notes hereunder will be made pursuant to the medium term note program of the Trust (the “MTN Program”) as contemplated by National Instrument 44-102 – Shelf Distributions of the Canadian Securities Administrators (the “National Instrument”). The National Instrument permits the omission from this Prospectus of certain terms of the Notes, which will be established at the time of the offering and the sale of the Notes and will be included in pricing supplements incorporated by reference herein, as more particularly described under the heading “Documents Incorporated by Reference”. Accordingly, the specific terms of Notes to be offered and sold hereunder pursuant to the MTN Program will be set out in pricing supplements delivered to purchasers in connection with the sale of such Notes. The Notes will be denominated in, and the principal of, and interest (if any) on, the Notes will be payable in Canadian dollars. The interest rate (if any) applicable to the Notes may be fixed or variable or calculated in some other manner as set out in the applicable pricing supplement. The specific designation, aggregate principal amount, interest payment dates, authorized denominations, maturity, offering price or other specific terms of a particular issue of Notes will also be set forth in the applicable pricing supplement.

RATES ON APPLICATION

The Notes will be offered severally by one or more dealers as may be appointed from time to time by the Issuer (collectively, the “Dealers”) and consisting of Scotia Capital Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., CIBC World Markets

Inc., Citigroup Global Markets Canada Inc., Desjardins Securities Inc., HSBC Securities (Canada) Inc., MUFG Securities (Canada), Ltd., National Bank Financial Inc., RBC Dominion Securities Inc. and TD Securities Inc., as agents of the Issuer or as principals, subject to confirmation by the Issuer pursuant to the Dealer Agreement referred to under the heading “Plan of Distribution”. The rate(s) of commission payable, if any, in connection with sales of the Notes by the Dealer(s) will be as determined from time to time by mutual agreement. The Notes may be purchased from time to time by any of the Dealers, as principal, at such prices as may be agreed to between the Issuer and such Dealer(s), for resale to the public at prices to be negotiated with purchasers. Such resale prices may vary during the period of distribution and from purchaser to purchaser. Commissions may be paid in connection with such purchases and the Dealer(s)’ compensation will be increased or decreased by the amount by which the aggregate price paid for the Notes by purchasers exceeds or is less than the aggregate price paid by such Dealer to the Issuer. The Issuer may also offer the Notes directly to the public from time to time pursuant to any applicable statutory registration exemptions at such prices and upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the Issuer and the purchaser. The commission payable, if any, will be set forth in the applicable pricing supplement. The Issuer and, if applicable, the Dealer(s) reserve the right to reject any offer to purchase Notes in whole or in part. The Issuer also reserves the right to withdraw, cancel or modify an offering of Notes under this Prospectus without notice. The offering of Notes is subject to approval of legal matters on behalf of the Trust and CTB by McCarthy Tétrault LLP and on behalf of the Dealers by Stikeman Elliott LLP.

The Notes are being offered on a continuous basis by the Issuer through the Dealers. The Notes will not be listed on any securities exchange. There is no market through which the Notes may be sold and purchasers may not be able to resell Notes purchased under this Prospectus. This may affect the pricing of the securities in the secondary market, the transparency and availability of trading prices, the liquidity of the securities and the extent of Issuer regulation. Each Dealer expects, but is not obligated, to make a market in the Notes for which it is a Dealer. If such a market develops, there is no assurance that it will continue. In connection with any offering of Notes, the Dealers may, subject to the foregoing, over-allot or effect transactions that stabilize or maintain the market price of the Notes offered at a level above that which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time. See “Plan of Distribution”. See “Investment Considerations” for a discussion of certain factors that should be considered by prospective purchasers of the Notes.

As a result of the relationship between The Bank of Nova Scotia (and its affiliates) and CTC and CTB (and their affiliates) and the Trust, the Trust may be considered a connected issuer of Scotia Capital Inc. See “Plan of Distribution”.

The Notes will not represent interests in or obligations of CTC, CTB, Computershare (other than in its capacity as trustee of the Trust), BNY, the Dealers, the Beneficiary nor any affiliates thereof and none of these entities has represented or undertaken that the Receivables will realize their face value or any part thereof and, accordingly, neither the Trust nor its creditors will have any claim against any of these entities for any deficiency arising in the realization of the Receivables. The Trust is not a trust company and does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company. None of the Ownership Interests, the Notes nor the Receivables are “deposits” within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and are not insured or guaranteed by CTC, CTB, Computershare, BNY, the Dealers, the Beneficiary or any affiliates thereof, CDIC nor any other governmental agency or instrumentality.

DOCUMENTS INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE

Information has been incorporated by reference in this Prospectus from documents filed with securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada. Copies of the documents incorporated herein by reference may be obtained on request without charge from Computershare, in its capacity as Issuer Trustee of the Trust, at 100 University Avenue, 11th Floor, North Tower, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2Y1, telephone: (416) 263-9200, and are also available electronically under the Trust's profile on www.sedar.com.

The following documents filed with securities commissions or similar authorities in each of the provinces of Canada are specifically incorporated by reference into this Prospectus:

- (a) the Trust's annual information form dated April 30, 2019;
- (b) the Trust's comparative audited annual financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2018 and 2017, together with the independent auditor's report thereon and management's discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations; and
- (c) the quarterly portfolio data of CTB as at March 31, 2019, pertaining to the Account Assets in which the Trust maintains an undivided co-ownership interest through ownership of outstanding Series.

Any documents of the type referred to above, any material change reports (excluding confidential reports), any other disclosure document filed pursuant to an undertaking to a provincial or territorial securities regulatory authority, comparative annual and interim financial statements and annual filings filed by the Issuer with the securities regulatory authorities in each of the provinces of Canada subsequent to the date of this Prospectus and prior to the termination of the offering shall be deemed to be incorporated by reference into this Prospectus. All shelf information omitted from this Prospectus will be contained in one or more pricing supplements that will be delivered to purchasers of the Notes together with this Prospectus. A pricing supplement containing the specific terms in respect of an offering of Notes will be delivered to purchasers of such Notes together with this Prospectus and will be deemed to be incorporated by reference into this Prospectus for purposes of securities legislation as of the date of such pricing supplement, but only for purposes of the offering of such Notes (unless otherwise expressly provided therein). Upon a new annual information form and the related annual financial statements being filed by the Issuer with, and where required, accepted by, the applicable securities regulatory authorities during the currency of this Prospectus, the previous annual information form, the previous annual financial statements and all interim financial statements, material change reports and information circulars filed prior to the commencement of the Issuer's financial year in which the new annual information form was filed shall be deemed to no longer be incorporated by reference into this Prospectus for purposes of future offerings and sales of Notes hereunder.

The Administrator will post under the Trust's profile on www.sedar.com on a quarterly basis certain information pertaining to the Account Assets in which the Trust maintains undivided co-ownership interests through ownership of the Ownership Interests. All such information will be incorporated by reference into this Prospectus for purposes of securities legislation as at the date of such posting. Upon new quarterly data being posted by the Administrator, the previously posted quarterly data shall be deemed to no longer be incorporated by reference into this Prospectus for purposes of future offers and sales of Notes hereunder.

Any "template version" of any "marketing materials" (as such terms are defined in National Instrument 41-101 – General Prospectus Requirements of the Canadian Securities Administrators) that are utilized by the Dealers in connection with a distribution of Notes will be filed under the Trust's profile on www.sedar.com. In the event that such marketing materials are filed after the date of the applicable pricing supplement pertaining to the distribution of Notes to which such marketing materials relate but prior to the termination of such distribution, such filed versions of the marketing materials will be deemed to be incorporated by reference into the applicable pricing supplement for the purposes of the distribution of the Notes to which the pricing supplement pertains.

Except as referenced above, no other document or information is incorporated by reference, in or forms part of, this Prospectus.

Any statement contained in a document incorporated or deemed to be incorporated by reference herein shall be deemed to be modified or superseded for the purposes of this Prospectus to the extent that a statement contained herein or in any other subsequently filed document that also is incorporated or is deemed to be incorporated by reference herein modifies or supersedes such statement. The modifying or superseding statement need not state that it has modified or superseded a prior statement or include any other information set forth in the document that it modifies or supersedes. The making of a modifying or superseding statement shall not be deemed an admission for any purposes that the modified or superseded statement, when made, constituted a misrepresentation, an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances in which it was made. Any statement so modified or superseded shall not be deemed, except as so modified or superseded, to constitute a part of this Prospectus.

ELIGIBILITY FOR INVESTMENT

In the opinion of McCarthy Tétrault LLP and Stikeman Elliott LLP, the Senior Notes and the Subordinated Notes, if acquired on the date hereof and if on the date hereof they, in each case, (i) have an investment grade rating with a prescribed credit rating agency (which includes certain Designated Rating Organizations) and (ii) are issued as part of a single issue of debt of at least $25,000,000, will, unless otherwise specified in a pricing supplement, be qualified investments under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the “Tax Act”) for trusts governed by registered retirement savings plans (“RRSPs”), registered retirement income funds (“RRIFs”), registered education savings plans (“RESPs”), registered disability savings plans (“RDSPs”), deferred profit sharing plans and tax-free savings accounts (“TFSAs”).

Notwithstanding that the Notes may be qualified investments for trusts governed by TFSAs, RDSPs, RESPs, RRSPs or RRIFs, the holder of a TFSA or RDSP, the subscriber of an RESP or the annuitant under an RRSP or RRIF, as the case may be, will be subject to a penalty tax if the Notes are “prohibited investments” (as defined in the Tax Act) for a trust governed by the TFSA, RDSP, RESP, RRSP or RRIF, as the case may be. The Notes will generally be a prohibited investment if the holder of a TFSA or RDSP, the subscriber of an RESP or the annuitant under an RRSP or RRIF, as the case may be, does not deal at arm’s length with the Trust for purposes of the Tax Act or has a “significant interest” (within the meaning of the Tax Act) in the Trust. Prospective purchasers should consult and rely on their own tax advisors in this regard.

TRANSACTION STRUCTURE SUMMARY

The following is a brief overview of the transaction structure and is qualified by the more detailed information contained in this Prospectus. Certain terms are defined in this Transaction Structure Summary for ease of reference and are also defined elsewhere. In some cases the meanings of such terms have been simplified or abbreviated to preserve the summary intent of this part of the Prospectus. Prospective investors are cautioned that such intent may be inconsistent with a full understanding of material terms of the transactions described. Reference to the more detailed descriptions, including the defined terms set out in the “Glossary”, is recommended.

Canadian Tire Corporation, Limited and Canadian Tire Bank

CTC operates through three reportable segments – the Retail Segment, the CT REIT Segment and the Financial Services Segment.

The “Retail Segment” comprises: Canadian Tire¹, one of Canada’s most shopped general merchandise retailers; SportChek (and its other banners Sports Experts, Atmosphere, National Sports, Hockey Experts and Sports Rousseau/L’Entrepôt du Hockey), a national retailer of sporting goods and active wear in Canada; Mark’s (including L’Équipeur in Québec), a national retailer of industrial and casual apparel and footwear in Canada; Petroleum (including the Gas+ banner), one of Canada’s largest independent retailers of gasoline; PartSource, a specialty automotive hard parts retailer; Pro Hockey Life, a specialty hockey goods retailer; Consumer Brands, a division which supports the retail banners in the development and acquisition of unique and exclusive brands and products; and Helly Hansen, an international retailer and wholesaler of workwear, urban and sports-specific clothing and footwear.

The “CT REIT Segment” comprises CT Real Estate Investment Trust (“CT REIT”), an unincorporated closed-end trust whose primary business is owning, developing and leasing income-producing real estate properties across Canada (primarily those properties occupied by Canadian Tire stores, stores operating under other CTC retail banners and CTC’s distribution centres). CTC has a 76.2%² effective interest in CT REIT.

The “Financial Services Segment”, which CTC holds an 80% interest in, provides financial and other ancillary products and services including credit cards (primarily Triangle-branded Mastercard credit cards), in-store financing, insurance products and retail and broker deposits. In addition, the Financial Services Segment provides payment processing services to CTC’s various corporate and franchised stores and gas bars including Canadian Tire Associate Stores, PartSource stores, Mark’s stores, L’Équipeur stores, SportChek stores, Sports Experts stores, National Sports stores, Atmosphere stores, Hockey Experts stores, Sports Rousseau stores, Pro Hockey Life stores and Petroleum gas bars and convenience stores (collectively, “Canadian Tire Retail Outlets”). The Financial Services Segment also supports the Retail Segment by advancing electronic-based My Canadian Tire Money (“eCTM”) loyalty rewards to customers when purchases are made on participating credit cards or the Triangle Rewards loyalty card is presented.

The credit card operations are contained within CTB, a Schedule I Canadian chartered bank governed by the Bank Act (Canada) which commenced operations on July 1, 2003 after acquiring Canadian Tire Services Limited’s (“CTS”, formerly Canadian Tire Financial Services Limited and Canadian Tire Acceptance Limited) Canadian Tire-branded Mastercard³ credit card and Canadian Tire credit card business. CTS is a wholly-owned subsidiary of CTC. In connection with such acquisition, CTB assumed the rights and obligations of CTS as Seller and Servicer under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and certain related agreements to which CTS was a party. CTB also assumed the rights and obligations of CTS as Administrator of the Trust.

On October 1, 2014, CTC sold a 20% interest in its financial services business, which includes CTB, to The Bank of Nova Scotia (“Scotiabank”), and received an option to sell, subject to certain conditions, up to an additional 29% of its ownership interest in its financial services business to Scotiabank at any time prior to October 1, 2024. CTC gave Scotiabank an option to sell its equity interest in CTC’s financial services business back to CTC at any time during the six months following October 1, 2024. As a result of this transaction, certain origination and servicing functions which had resided in CTS were transferred into CTB and CTB terminated CTS as sub-servicer and sub-administrator of the Trust.

CTB markets, issues, services and finances (partially through the Trust) Canadian Tire and Triangle-branded Mastercard credit cards and the related accounts and receivables generated thereunder. It also services and finances (partially through the Trust) a relatively small number of legacy Canadian Tire credit cards and the related accounts and receivables generated thereunder. Since the 2018 launch of Triangle Rewards, CTC’s enterprise-wide loyalty program, most of CTB’s credit cards have been rebranded to the Triangle Mastercard, the Triangle World Mastercard and the Triangle World Elite Mastercard. CTB also offers the Cash Advantage Mastercard and the Gas Advantage Mastercard. As at December 31, 2018, CTB’s gross managed credit card receivables totalled $6.2 billion. CTB also markets various insurance and other optional products.

Most of the credit cards issued by CTB participate in the Triangle Rewards loyalty program. The program provides eCTM to customers who use their Triangle Mastercard credit card or Canadian Tire credit card for qualifying purchases. The Triangle Rewards program entitles cardholders to redeem eCTM on future purchases of merchandise and services at Canadian Tire Associate Stores and other participating Canadian Tire Retail Outlets.

² Numbers provided in this Prospectus for CTC and CT REIT are as at December 30, 2018.

³ Mastercard is a registered trademark of Mastercard International Incorporated. CTB is a licensee of the Mastercard* trademark. CTB’s permitted use of the Mastercard* trademark in this Prospectus does not constitute and should not be taken as a Mastercard International Incorporated warranty, guarantee or other endorsement of any kind, of the securities offered by the Issuer in association with Mastercard-related Receivables.

Credit Card Accounts

Mastercard credit card accounts are created in connection with the extension of credit by CTB to cardholders on a revolving basis to finance the purchase of products and services from entities that accept the Mastercard credit card as a form of payment (including those operating Canadian Tire Associate Stores and other CTC operations and organizations associated with CTC) and to make cash advances to such cardholders. Canadian Tire credit card accounts were created in connection with the extension of credit by CTB to cardholders on a revolving basis to finance the purchase of products and services from Canadian Tire Associate Stores and certain other CTC operations and to make cash advances to such cardholders.

Amounts owing under selected Mastercard credit card accounts and Canadian Tire credit card accounts (the “Accounts”), are referred to herein as “Receivables”. The aggregate dollar amount of Receivables fluctuates from day to day as new Receivables are generated in the Accounts and as Receivables are collected, written-off or otherwise adjusted. Other Credit Card Accounts may be designated as Accounts from time to time, but the Accounts currently consist of only Mastercard and Canadian Tire credit card accounts.

The Pool of Receivables

All of CTB’s right, title and interest in, to and under the Receivables, certain related rights and the proceeds therefrom (making up, generally, the “Account Assets”) have been delivered to and deposited with Computershare, as Custodian under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, acting as agent and bailee for and on behalf of CTB and the Trust, as a Co-Owner (discussed below). In connection with the delivery and deposit of the Account Assets, CTB or CTS, as applicable, was, and CTB will in the future, be required to indicate in its computer files that its right, title and interest in the Receivables have been delivered to and deposited with the Custodian.

CTB has the right (subject to certain limitations and conditions), and in some circumstances is obligated, to designate from time to time additional Mastercard credit card accounts, Canadian Tire credit card accounts and Other Credit Card Accounts (the “Additional Accounts”) to be included as Accounts and to sell undivided co-ownership interests in the Receivables and the other related Account Assets existing thereunder to the Co-Owners in accordance with the Pooling and Servicing Agreement. Discontinued use of credit card accounts is normal and naturally leads to attrition in the total balance of Receivables under the Accounts. To offset the impact of such attrition, CTB adds Additional Accounts from time to time, subject to satisfaction of the requirements and conditions set out in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement. Additional Accounts may also be added to increase the size of the pool of Accounts under which Account Assets can be generated. CTB may also substitute Mastercard credit card accounts, Canadian Tire credit card accounts and Other Credit Card Accounts (the “Substituted Accounts”) and Receivables thereunder for Mastercard credit card accounts, Canadian Tire credit card accounts or Other Credit Card Accounts (as the case may be) and Receivables thereunder of the same cardholders. Each Additional Account and Substituted Account is required to meet certain eligibility criteria as of the applicable Addition Date or Substitution Date.

The Trust

The Trust was established as a special purpose trust on March 31, 1995. The name of the Trust was changed from Canadian Tire Receivables Trust to Glacier Credit Card Trust on June 30, 2003. On September 5, 2008, Computershare succeeded the predecessor trustee of the Trust as “Issuer Trustee”. The Trust was established to purchase undivided co-ownership interests (“Ownership Interests”) in the Account Assets and to provide income to the Beneficiary. The Trust may acquire from CTB from time to time, pursuant to specific Series Purchase Agreements and in accordance with the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, one or more such Ownership Interests, which are sold in “Series”. The Trust finances its purchase of an Ownership Interest of a Series by the creation and issuance of a related series of Notes or other obligations. CTB serves as the “Administrator” of the Trust.

This Prospectus describes the transactions under which the Trust may purchase Series and issue a related series of Notes. In the future, CTB may, subject to satisfying certain conditions, sell Series to persons other than the Trust. CTB will retain the residual undivided co-ownership interest (the “Retained Interest”) in the Account Assets. The Trust and each other owner of an Ownership Interest are referred to individually as a “Co-Owner” and collectively as the “Co-Owners”.

The Trust will issue additional series of Notes to finance future acquisitions of Series. Each series of Notes issued by the Trust is and will be secured by the corresponding Series acquired with the proceeds of issuance of such Notes. Recourse to the Trust for amounts owing under a series of Notes is and will be limited to the right to be paid amounts distributed to the Trust in respect of the corresponding Series, together with amounts deposited into or earned in certain accounts established in relation to the Series, subject to the prior payment of certain expenses and priority obligations. The terms of a series of Notes, including the nature and extent of permitted priority obligations, will be specified in a related series supplemental trust indenture (a “Series Supplement”) to the trust indenture dated as of November 29, 1995 between the Issuer Trustee, as trustee of the Trust, and BNY (the “Indenture Trustee”) (successor to the original indenture trustee) (the trust indenture, as so supplemented and as previously supplemented by a first supplemental indenture dated as of November 15, 2004, a second supplemental indenture dated as of November 11, 2010 and a third supplemental indenture dated as of February 8, 2012, the “Trust Indenture”). No Series Supplement for a future series of Notes may change the terms of an existing series of Notes or the terms of the Trust Indenture as applied to such existing series. However, a new series of Notes may introduce events of default that, by the cross-default provisions of existing series of Notes, will apply to each other series of Notes. Certain remedies arising upon the occurrence of events of default, including the right to replace CTB as the Administrator and to exercise certain rights and discretions of the Issuer Trustee, may only be exercised upon the affirmative vote of persons holding a specified percentage of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all outstanding Notes.

Collections

Under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, CTB, as the “Servicer”, is required to maintain a deposit account (the “Collection Account”) in the name of the Custodian, in trust for all Co-Owners and CTB. Collections are required to be deposited into the Collection Account by the Servicer, except in the circumstances and at the times described below. Amounts deposited into the Collection Account will thereafter be deposited into the applicable Series Accumulations Account or other Series Accounts established for individual series of Notes or otherwise will be distributed to CTB in respect of the Retained Interest or held unallocated, in each case based upon the respective entitlements of Co-Owners and CTB to receive allocations and distributions of Collections under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and the related Series Purchase Agreements.

As Servicer, CTB will be obligated to deposit into the Collection Account those Collections which are required for distribution to Co-Owners in respect of all Series within two Business Days of the applicable date of processing. However, if CTB satisfies certain requirements, including the provision of a guarantee from CTC of CTB’s Servicer obligations and the maintenance by CTC of at least an “R-1(low)” short-term rating from DBRS Limited (“DBRS”) (if DBRS is then rating the Issuer’s short-term securities or any of the Notes), at least an “A-1+” short-term rating from Standard and Poor’s Ratings Services (“S&P”) (if S&P is then rating the Issuer’s short-term securities or any of the Notes) and at least an “F1” short-term rating and an “A” long-term rating from Fitch Ratings, Inc. (“Fitch”) or, if not rated by Fitch, the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied in respect of Fitch and Fitch shall not have indicated that it intends to, or has downgraded, any series of Notes (if Fitch is then rating the Issuer’s short-term securities or any of the Notes) (or such other ratings as may be provided in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement), CTB will be permitted to commingle Collections otherwise required to be deposited in respect of a Series with its general funds until the Business Day prior to the relevant payment or specified deposit date (each as specified in the “Distribution Notice”). As of the date of this Prospectus, CTC has no short-term ratings from DBRS, Fitch and S&P. Accordingly, CTB is not currently permitted to commingle Collections required to be deposited in respect of any Series. However, CTB may be permitted to commingle Collections required to be deposited in respect of a Series if it satisfies commingling conditions set forth for such Series. As Servicer, CTB will be obligated to deposit into the Collection Account Collections within two Business Days of receipt of such Collections, but only to the extent that such Collections are required for distribution to or deposit in a Series Account for the benefit of one or more Co-Owners, in each case as specified or determined in accordance with the Series’ Distribution Notice. If CTB commingles any excess Collections, as permitted under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, but is required to comply with the Partial Commingling Condition, and the daily asset test described in paragraph (a) of the definition of Partial Commingling Condition indicates that the Pool Balance is less than the Required Pool Amount on such Business Day, then the Servicer will thereafter deposit Collections into the Collection Account not later than the second Business Day after the applicable date of processing, and no payment will be made to the Seller with respect to its Retained Interest until the Pool Balance is at least equal to the Required Pool Amount or an Amortization Event has occurred, in which case the Seller will only receive payments with respect to its Retained Interest in accordance with the provisions of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or the Series Purchase Agreement that apply upon the occurrence of an Amortization Event. If CTB is not permitted to commingle Collections required to be deposited in respect of a particular Series, but is permitted to commingle deposits in respect of other Series, then, despite the general requirement to deposit Collections into the Collection Account described above, the Servicer will be required to deposit Collections required to be deposited in respect of such Series directly into the applicable Series Accumulations Account or other Series Account, as applicable, on the day that such deposits would otherwise have been made into the Collection Account.

The Revolving Period

The Revolving Period for each Series will begin on the closing of the related offering of Notes and will end on the earlier of the related Liquidation Commencement Day and Amortization Commencement Day. During each month of the applicable Revolving Period, the Trust will receive in respect of each Series an amount sufficient to pay interest accruing during the month under the related Notes and other specified expenses. Collections will be distributed to the Trust to be applied toward payment of such interest and expenses when due and payable. Also, during the related Pre-Liquidation Reserve Period, deposits will be made to the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account as required to the extent of available funds.

The Liquidation Period

Subject to the occurrence of an Amortization Event relating to a Series, the Revolving Period for such Series will end and the Liquidation Period for such Series will commence on a date stipulated in the related Series Purchase Agreement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement); provided, however, that if the Controlled Liquidation Period Length for such Series (determined as described below) is more than one month, the date on which the Liquidation Period for such Series actually begins will be the close of business on the last day of the month preceding the month that is the number of full calendar months prior to the month in which the related Expected Repayment Date occurs equal to such Controlled Liquidation Period Length. As a result, the number of Determination Periods in the Liquidation Period will at least equal the Controlled Liquidation Period Length. On the Calculation Day immediately preceding the Determination Day that occurs no later than twelve months preceding the related Expected Repayment Date, and on each Calculation Day thereafter that occurs prior to the earlier of (a) the Calculation Day occurring in the Determination Period in which the Liquidation Period is scheduled to begin and (b) the Amortization Commencement Day, the Servicer will determine the “Controlled Liquidation Period Length” which will equal the minimum number of months such that the sum of the Controlled Liquidation Period Factors for each month during the Liquidation Period will be equal to or greater than the Required Liquidation Factor Number; provided, further, that the Controlled Liquidation Period Length will not be less than one month. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Controlled Liquidation Period Length for a Series has been determined to be less than twelve months and, after the date on which such determination is made, a series amortization event as designated in any Series Purchase Agreement (each, a “Series Amortization Event”) will occur with respect to any other outstanding Series, the Liquidation Period will begin on the earlier of (i) the first day of the Determination Period immediately succeeding the date that such Series Amortization Event has occurred with respect to such other outstanding Series and (ii) the date on which the Liquidation Period is then scheduled to commence. The effect of the foregoing calculation is to permit the reduction or increase of the length of the Liquidation Period for a Series based on the invested amount of certain other Series which are scheduled or expected to be in their Revolving Periods during the Liquidation Period for the relevant Series and increases or decreases in the principal payment rate occurring after the applicable Closing Date. During the Liquidation Period for a Series, funds are to be accumulated in the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account by way of equal monthly deposits.

The Liquidation Period for a Series will end on the earlier of (a) the last day of the month in which the Invested Amount of such Series is reduced to zero, and (b) the occurrence of the Amortization Commencement Day for such Series.

The Amortization Period

Upon the occurrence of an Amortization Event for a Series that is not waived and, in the case of certain Amortization Events, after the delivery by the Issuer Trustee or the Custodian of a notice to CTB or a Successor Servicer, the Amortization Period for such Series will commence. Unless otherwise set out in the applicable pricing supplement, Amortization Events for a Series include: (a) failure on the part of CTB, in its capacity as the Seller, or the Servicer, to make any distribution, transfer or deposit as required; (b) any representation or warranty made by CTB, in its capacity as the Seller, or the Servicer, in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or the related Series Purchase Agreement, is found to have been incorrect when made; (c) certain events related to the insolvency of CTB or CTC; (d) a Servicer Termination Event has occurred; (e) an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing; and (f) the failure to achieve certain pool performance criteria. During the Amortization Period for a Series, the Custodian will withdraw from the Collection Account and deposit into the related Series Accumulations Account on each Business Day Collections required to be distributed to such Series for the day.

Each Series has its own amortization events, which may be different from those of other Series. Therefore, different Series may not amortize and Collections may not be distributed to Co-Owners in the same circumstances and at the same time.

Enhancement Amount

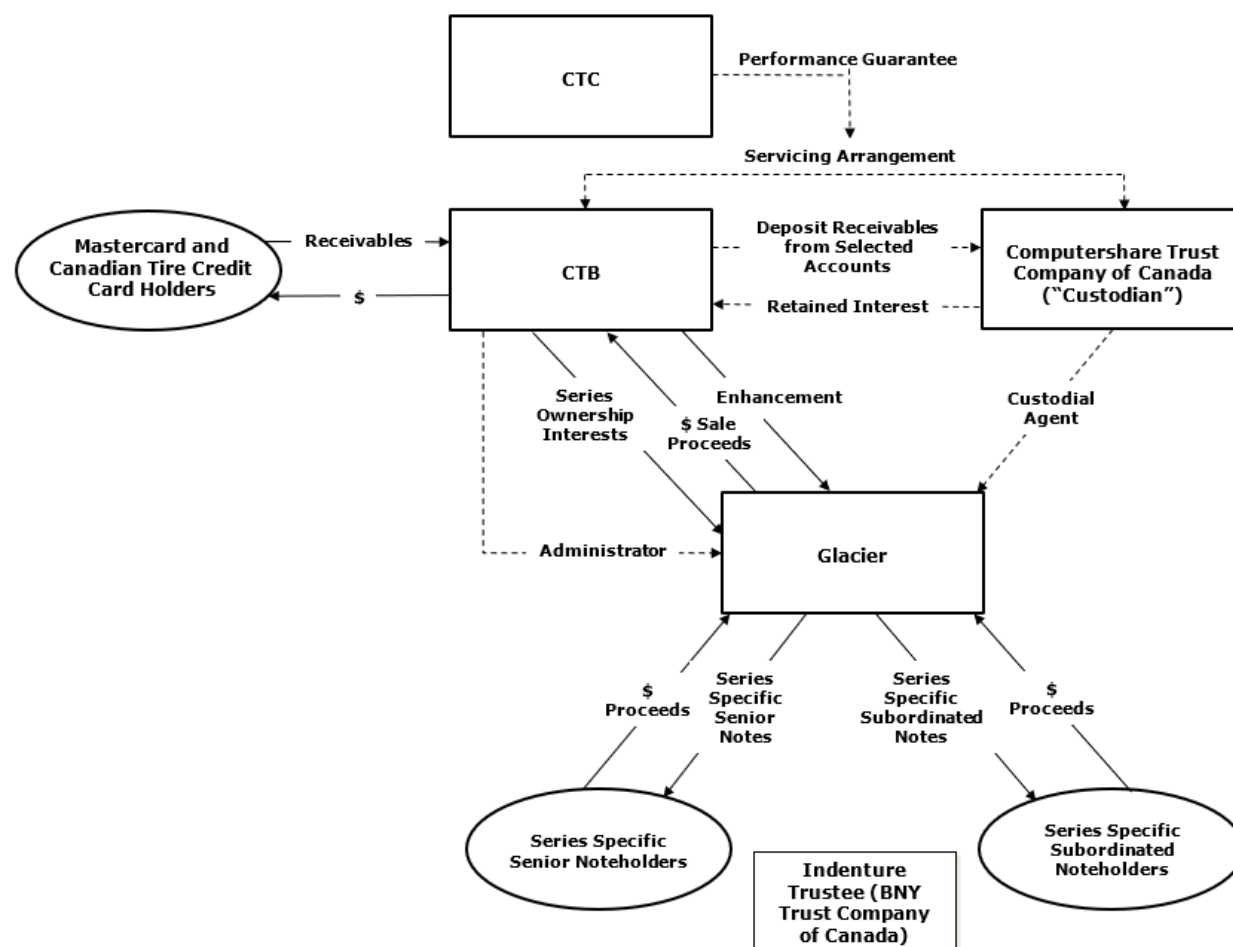

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement generally allocates account balance write-offs and pool income deficiencies to the Seller and Co-Owners proportionately, based on their respective stated dollar interests in the Receivables. However, a Series Purchase Agreement that creates a new Series may, by its terms, disproportionately allocate account balance write-offs and pool income deficiencies to the Seller's Retained Interest. If such disproportionate allocation occurs, the stated dollar amount of the Retained Interest (the "Retained Interest Amount") would be reduced disproportionately. The "Enhancement Amount" of a Series represents the maximum amount, in dollars, by which the Seller's Retained Interest may be disproportionately reduced in these circumstances.

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement requires the Seller to maintain its undivided interest in the Receivables (as represented by the Retained Interest Amount) such that the Pool Balance at any time exceeds the sum of the Invested Amounts for all Series by at least the sum of (i) the Enhancement Amounts for all Series and (ii) a further overcollateralization amount to cover potential pool dilutions. The requirement to maintain the Retained Interest Amount at this minimum level, in addition to covering pool dilutions, is meant to ensure that if a disproportionate amount of account balance write-offs and pool income deficiencies is allocated to the Seller by way of a disproportionately large reduction of the Retained Interest Amount, the Retained Interest will be large enough, in quantum terms, to absorb such disproportionate allocation, up to the Enhancement Amount.

Each Series Purchase Agreement (and each pricing supplement) will specify the initial Enhancement Amount, if any, for the related Series (usually based on the Enhancement Percentage of the initial Invested Amount). If a disproportionate amount of account balance write-offs and pool income deficiencies are allocated to the Seller, the write-offs and deficiencies that would have otherwise been allocated to the Series by way of a reduction in the Invested Amount of the Series will be correspondingly reduced. The Enhancement Amount for a Series would decrease by the amount of such disproportionate allocation, thereby reducing the extent of any future disproportionate allocations to the Seller of account balance write-offs and pool income deficiencies. However, if the Receivables generate net income in the future in excess of the amount required to cover a Co-Owner's Series costs and expenses, past reductions in the Enhancement Amount may be reversed to the extent of any such excess.

Transaction Structure

The following diagram depicts generally the transaction structure.

GLACIER CREDIT CARD TRUST

The Issuer Trustee

Glacier Credit Card Trust (named Canadian Tire Receivables Trust from 1995 to 2003) was established pursuant to the Declaration of Trust dated as of March 31, 1995, as amended and restated as of November 29, 1995, as further amended on November 19, 2002, on June 30, 2003, on September 5, 2008 and on July 21, 2010. On September 5, 2008, Computershare succeeded the predecessor trustee of the Trust as “Issuer Trustee” of the Trust. The Declaration of Trust is governed by the laws of the Province of Ontario. Computershare is licensed to carry on business as a trustee in all provinces and territories of Canada. The head office of the Trust and the Toronto office of the Issuer Trustee are at 100 University Avenue, 11th Floor, North Tower, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2Y1.

Special Purpose Nature of the Trust

The Trust was established only to purchase from CTB undivided co-ownership interests in a revolving pool of credit card receivables and to provide income to the Beneficiary. The Trust may acquire from CTB from time to time, pursuant to specific Series Purchase Agreements and in accordance with the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, one or more Series in the Account Assets. See “Series of Ownership Interests”, “The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Sale of Other Series” and “The Account Assets”.

Payments by the Trust in respect of a series of Notes and any related Additional Funding Expenses (including, in each month, any related Subordinated Loan Repayment Amount) will be made from Collections and other amounts distributed to the Trust in respect of the related Ownership Interest including amounts payable to the Trust from the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account and the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account. As such, holders of a series of Notes will have recourse only to the related Series and the related Series Accounts, and not to Ownership Interests of other Series or other assets of the Trust. A portion of the Trust’s operating and administrative expenses and a portion of the distribution to be made to the Beneficiary will be included in the Ownership Income Share of each Series owned by the Trust.

The Trust Assets

The assets of the Trust (the “Trust Assets”) will generally consist of:

- (a) Ownership Interests of each Series purchased by the Trust using the proceeds of Notes and/or other obligations issued under, or permitted by, the Trust Indenture, including a co-ownership interest in the amounts on deposit in the Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Accounts and the Series Liquidation Principal Funding Accounts;
- (b) amounts received by the Trust in respect of Ownership Interests of each Series and deposited into the Series Accumulations Accounts, together with any Eligible Investments and the proceeds therefrom;
- (c) investments and deposits in Series Accumulations Accounts and possibly other Eligible Deposit Accounts into which amounts received in respect of the Ownership Interests described in (a), above, will be deposited and proceeds of such investments and deposits;
- (d) credit enhancements which may be entered into by the Trust to support, enhance or provide for payment under Notes and other obligations issued under, or permitted by, the Trust Indenture; and
- (e) undistributed residual property to be distributed to the Beneficiary, including undistributed income.

Administration of the Trust

Pursuant to the Administration Agreement, CTB (as assignee of CTS) has agreed to carry out certain administrative and management activities for and on behalf of the Trust, including, among other things, those activities contemplated to be performed by the Trust under the Trust Documents to which the Trust is a party. The Trust has agreed to pay CTB an annual fee of $50,000 in consideration for the performance by CTB of the activities and the fulfilment by CTB of the responsibilities under the Administration Agreement. A portion of the administration fee will be included as Additional Funding Expenses in respect of each Series.

CANADIAN TIRE CORPORATION, LIMITED

CTC was founded in 1922 by J.W. Billes and A.J. Billes. CTC is a family of businesses that operate through three reportable segments – the Retail Segment, the CT REIT Segment and the Financial Services Segment.

Retail Segment

- CTC's Canadian Tire retail banner ("Canadian Tire") is one of Canada's most shopped general merchandise retailers, with a network of 503 Associate Stores (the "Canadian Tire Associate Stores") located across Canada. The Canadian Tire Associate Stores are operated by Associate Dealers, who are independent business owners. Associate Dealers are Canadian Tire retailers who buy merchandise from CTC and sell it to consumers in Canadian Tire Associate Stores. Canadian Tire operates in the Living, Fixing, Playing, Automotive, Gardening and Seasonal categories. Canadian Tire also operates the specialty automotive hard parts banner PartSource with a network of 89 stores located in 5 provinces and the specialty hockey banner Pro Hockey Life with a network of 16 stores located in 4 provinces. As part of its evolution, Canadian Tire now offers many of its products and services for purchase online through its website at www.canadiantire.ca, with in-store pick up and deliver-to-home service for online orders across the entire store network.
- CTC's retail petroleum business ("Petroleum") is one of Canada's largest independent retailers of gasoline with a network of 297 retailer-operated gas bars located across Canada, including 297 convenience stores and 87 car washes. Petroleum operates under the Canadian Tire and Gas+ banners. The majority of Petroleum sites are co-located with Canadian Tire Associate Stores as a strategy to drive traffic to CTC's core retail banner stores by distributing My Canadian Tire Money, through the Triangle Rewards loyalty program, to customers which can be redeemed at such stores. Petroleum also supports the growth of CTC's credit cards.
- Mark's, Mark's Work Wearhouse and L'Équipeur in Québec ("Mark's") is one of Canada's largest specialty apparel retailers offering men's and women's casual and industrial apparel, footwear and accessories through its owned brand and national brand assortments. Mark's operates through a network of 386 corporate and franchisee-operated stores located across Canada as well as through its eCommerce websites.
- SportChek ("SportChek") operates a group of sporting goods and active wear retailers in Canada with the largest being SportChek (194 stores), Sports Experts (105 stores) and Atmosphere (66 stores) (others include National Sports, Hockey Experts and Sports Rousseau/L'Entrepôt du Hockey). SportChek offers a comprehensive assortment of national and owned brand products through a network of 409 corporate and franchisee-operated stores located across Canada as well as through its eCommerce websites.
- Consumer brands ("Consumer Brands") is a division of the retail segment which supports the retail banners with their owned brand strategies, provides expertise in brand management, product development and design, and creates unique and exclusive products. This division also has responsibility for the identification and acquisition of brands that would be a logical complement or extension to CTC's existing owned brand portfolio. The exclusive owned brands developed or acquired by the Consumer Brands division provide CTC with a competitive advantage and a core differentiator in its product assortment, which increases customer engagement and loyalty. CTC's key owned brands which are sold at Canadian Tire, SportChek and Mark's include Paderno, WOODS, NOMA, CANVAS, Master Chef, Premier, MOTOMASTER, MasterCraft, Denver Hayes and Helly Hansen.
- Helly Hansen ("Helly Hansen"), acquired by CTC in the third quarter of 2018, serves to strengthen CTC's foothold in sportswear and workwear and provides a platform for future growth opportunities internationally. Helly Hansen is a leading global brand based in Oslo, Norway which sells products in more than 40 countries. Helly Hansen produces workwear, urban and sports-specific clothing for skiers and sailors. It also produces a wide range of shoes, including casual footwear, winter boots and shoes for sailing and other watersports, under the Helly Hansen, Helly Hansen Workwear and Musto brands.

CT REIT Segment

- CT REIT is an unincorporated closed-end real estate investment trust whose primary business involves owning, developing and leasing income-producing real estate properties. CT REIT's geographically-diversified portfolio of properties comprises 342 properties located across Canada totaling approximately 26.5 million square feet of gross leasable area. The property portfolio includes: single tenant retail properties, primarily occupied by Canadian Tire stores; multi-tenant retail properties, primarily anchored by a Canadian Tire Associate Store and/or stores operating under other CTC retail banners; distribution centres; a mixed-use commercial property; and, properties under development. CTC holds a 76.2% effective interest in CT REIT and is the most significant tenant of CT REIT.

Financial Services Segment

- The Financial Services Segment issues credit cards (primarily Triangle-branded Mastercard credit cards) and insurance and supports the Retail Segment by providing payment settlement services to Canadian Tire Retail Outlets. In addition, the Financial Services Segment offers financing options to credit card customers on certain purchases at the various retail banners and provides the opportunity to earn eCTM through purchases made on participating credit cards or where the Triangle Rewards loyalty card is presented. CTC holds an 80% interest in the Financial Services Segment. In addition to the Notes, the credit card portfolio is, in part, funded through various deposit products including high-interest savings accounts (“HIS”), tax-free savings accounts (“TFSA”) and guaranteed investment certificates (“GIC”) obtained directly and through third-party brokers.

CANADIAN TIRE BANK

CTB, a Schedule I Canadian chartered bank governed by the Bank Act (Canada), is an indirect, 80%-owned subsidiary of CTC (on October 1, 2014 Scotiabank acquired an indirect 20% ownership interest in CTB). CTB is primarily engaged in advancing credit and loyalty rewards to holders of its credit cards and financing and managing the related accounts and receivables. CTB is a member of CDIC and eligible deposit products issued by CTB qualify for CDIC insurance coverage.

On June 30, 2003, CTB acquired CTS’s Canadian Tire-branded Mastercard credit card and Canadian Tire credit card business. CTS’s credit card business had existed since the 1960s. In connection with such 2003 acquisition, CTB assumed the rights and obligations of CTS as Seller and Servicer under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and certain related agreements to which CTS was a party. CTB also assumed the rights and obligations of CTS as Administrator of the Trust. On July 1, 2003, CTB appointed CTS as sub-servicer and sub-administrator. On October 1, 2014, CTB terminated CTS as sub-servicer and sub-administrator after all origination and servicing functions which had remained in CTS were transferred into CTB.

In 2006, CTB began offering retail deposit products, including HIS and GICs, which are available both within and outside TFSAs.

Most of the credit cards issued by CTB participate in the Triangle Rewards loyalty program. The program provides eCTM to customers who use their Triangle Mastercard credit card or Canadian Tire credit card for qualifying purchases. The Triangle Rewards program entitles cardholders to redeem eCTM on future purchases of merchandise and services at Canadian Tire Associate Stores and other participating Canadian Tire Retail Outlets.

CANADIAN TIRE BANK CREDIT CARD BUSINESS

General

Substantially all of the Account Assets are generated from transactions made by Obligor under Mastercard credit card accounts with the remainder generated from transactions made by Obligor under the relatively small number of remaining legacy Canadian Tire credit card accounts. In 1995, CTS began issuing Canadian Tire-branded Mastercard credit cards to customers and since then, CTB (or its assignor CTS) has converted substantially all of the eligible Canadian Tire credit card holders to Mastercard credit card holders. As at December 31, 2018, CTB served 7.0⁴ million Mastercard and Canadian Tire credit card accounts, of which 2.2 million had balances greater than zero. Total gross receivables on such credit cards was $6.2 billion.

Mastercard credit cards issued by CTB may be used to finance the purchase of products and services from time to time from Canadian Tire Retail Outlets and other organizations accepting Mastercard credit cards and to obtain cash advances.

Canadian Tire credit cards may be used by customers to finance the purchase of products or services from time to time from Canadian Tire Associate Stores and certain other CTC operations and to obtain cash advances at Canadian Tire Associate Stores.

CTB acts as Servicer of the Receivables pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement. See “The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Servicing of the Receivables”. CTB also acts as the Administrator of the Trust pursuant to the Administration Agreement. See “Glacier Credit Card Trust – Administration of the Trust”.

CTB operates from locations in Welland, Ontario, St. Catharines, Ontario and Oakville, Ontario, with certain activities being outsourced.

Terms of Accounts

Each Account is subject to the terms and conditions set out in a Credit Card Agreement. Mastercard credit card accounts and Canadian Tire credit card accounts have different terms and conditions. Under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, CTB has the right to amend or otherwise change, subject to compliance with all applicable laws, the terms and provisions of the Accounts, the terms and provisions of the Credit Card Agreements related thereto and/or its practices and procedures relating to the operation of its credit card business in any respect whatsoever only if such change is made in compliance with certain conditions. See “The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Restrictions on Amendments to the Terms and Conditions of the Accounts”.

Credit Applications

CTB generates new Mastercard credit card accounts on an ongoing basis primarily through credit applications made available to prospective customers at its core Canadian Tire Retail Outlets. Canadian Tire and Visa⁵ credit card applications have been discontinued and only Mastercard credit applications are now made available to prospective customers. CTB evaluates each application for credit using the factors described below.

CTB processes credit applications. All credit applications are directed to the Credit Centre for processing. Approval is based on a strategy using credit bureau risk scores, application scores, debt service ratios and fraud filters. The credit bureau data carries substantial weight in the approve/decline/credit limit decision. CTB’s proprietary credit scoring strategy is periodically reviewed and updated.

Initial credit limits are generally in place for a minimum of six months. The maximum initial credit limit granted is currently $18,000. Credit risk scores are used to monitor performance once the credit application has been approved. Credit limits may be varied by the Credit Centre upon a customer’s request based upon a review of related performance information and may be varied with customer consent based upon customer data generated through the use of a series of behavioural and bureau scorecards, masterfile data and updated demographic information.

⁵ Visa is a registered trademark of Visa International Service Association. In 2018, CTB converted all remaining VISA credit card accounts to Mastercard credit card accounts.

Billing and Payments

Customer accounts are segregated into cycles for the purposes of determining monthly processing and statement production and billing dates. There are 25 cycles for both Mastercard credit card accounts and Canadian Tire credit card accounts.

Mastercard credit card customers residing outside of Quebec are required to make a minimum payment each month equal to the sum of: (a) interest charges; plus (b) fees; plus (c) $10; plus (d) the greater of: (x) any amount past due; or (y) any balance over the customer's credit limit; plus (e) the amount of any equal payments plan installments then due. As a result of new consumer protection legislation in Quebec, starting May 29, 2019, new Mastercard credit card customers residing in Quebec will be required to make a minimum payment each month equal to the sum of: (1) the greater of: (A) (a) interest charges; plus (b) fees; plus (c) $10; or (B) 5% of the balance shown on the statement other than amounts still outstanding under special payment plans; plus (2) the greater of: (x) any amount past due; or (y) any amount over the credit limit; plus (3) the amount of any equal payments plan installments then due. Starting August 1, 2019, existing Mastercard credit card customers residing in Quebec will be required to make a minimum payment each month equal to the sum of: (1) the greater of: (A) (a) interest charges; plus (b) fees; plus (c) $10; or (B) 2% of the balance shown on the statement other than amounts still outstanding under special payment plans; plus (2) the greater of: (x) any amount past due; or (y) any amount over the credit limit; plus (3) the amount of any equal payments plan installments then due. The 2% specified in (1)(B) of the preceding sentence will increase on August 1st each year by 0.5% until it reaches 5%.

Canadian Tire credit card customers are required to make a minimum payment each month equal to the sum of: (a) the greater of: (i) $10 or (ii) 4% of the balance shown on the statement other than amounts still outstanding under special payment plans (or such other percentage as may be specified in writing by CTB); plus (b) the greater of: (i) any amount past due; or (ii) any amount over the credit limit; plus (c) the amount of any equal payments plan installments then due. On August 1, 2019, the 4% specified in (a)(ii) of the preceding sentence will increase to 5%. In all instances, balances owing under $10.00 are due in full.

Interest accrues daily on each charge made to a credit card account from the date of the transaction giving rise to the particular charge at a daily interest rate equivalent to the applicable annual interest rate divided by the number of days in the particular calendar year. Interest is compounded monthly. However, a customer will not have to pay interest on new purchases if payment in full of the balance on a statement is received by the due date for that statement. The due date is 26 days from the statement date for residents of Québec and 21 days from the statement date for customers who reside elsewhere. If the due date falls on a Saturday, Sunday or a holiday it will be automatically extended to the next business day. There is no interest-free grace period for cash advances, balance transfers, convenience cheques and other transactions, such as gaming transactions, that do not constitute a purchase of goods or services, or for fees charged for such transactions.

CTB currently offers fixed rate credit card accounts and occasionally offers temporary promotional rates on those accounts and "no interest, equal payment plans" (which such amounts owing under such plans are considered Deferred Receivables which are not included in calculating certain amounts including the Pool Balance. See "The Account Assets – The Receivables"). CTB may offer additional interest rate programs in the future.

Credit Risk and Fraud Management

CTB has a strong credit and fraud management team located at its Credit Centre which uses sophisticated and dynamic proprietary credit risk management systems to develop, evaluate and implement credit risk and fraud management strategies, while balancing loss mitigation with customer treatment to protect Canadian Tire's brand. CTB has a proven track record of managing acceptable levels of write-offs through various economic cycles since the 1960s when CTB's predecessor companies began issuing credit cards to Canadian Tire shoppers. It has a competitive advantage by having access to customers' product-level purchasing behaviour data from the core Canadian Tire Retail Outlets. It utilizes sophisticated statistical techniques to analyze historical performance and buying patterns in order to identify characteristics that are predictive of future customer behaviour. It also uses the following sources of data in creating its proprietary risk scoring models: credit bureau data, credit card usage, transactional data, delinquency history and payment history. The scores are generally re-calculated on all CTB cardholders on a monthly billing cycle basis to ensure credit risk decisions are made using the most accurate and up-to-date information available. Collection scores are re-calculated on all delinquent customers on a nightly billing cycle basis to ensure decisions are made using the most accurate information available. Sophisticated analytics are also used to develop, test and deploy collection prioritization strategies (including short message service (SMS), email and online collection tactics), skip tracing techniques, payment programs/offers and agency assignments & fees.

Collection Procedures

The collection process proceeds in stages and is initiated at a point in the cycle when an account is in arrears and CTB determines, based upon, among other things, an assessment of the statistical probability that an account will be written-off and that collection procedures should be initiated. The collection process is initiated by inserting a comment on the customer's monthly billing statement and by making contact with the customer (by collection staff or automated dialer) reminding the customer that his or her payment is past due. If such contact does not result in a payment to the account, collection tracking analysis is initiated. If collection efforts made by CTB collection personnel are not successful, CTB may refer accounts to third party collection agencies as part of its overall collection strategy.

CTB writes off the receivables owing under both Mastercard credit card accounts and Canadian Tire credit card accounts which are in arrears for 181 days or more as determined in accordance with the Servicer's normal practices. In circumstances where CTB becomes aware of cardholder fraud or bankruptcy, or a cardholder proposal under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Canada), outstanding balances under such accounts are immediately identified for write-off. Once an account has been designated as a written-off account, CTB may transfer the account to a collection agency and will continue to monitor the recoveries and/or progress on such accounts. For the purpose of the Invested Amount calculation, Written-Off Amounts include the sum of all receivables balances in all Written-Off Accounts, which are (a) Accounts in arrears for 181 days or more as determined in accordance with the Servicer's normal practices, or (b) Accounts subject to bankruptcy proceedings or where fraud has been perpetrated. Each Series will continue to represent an interest in Written-Off Amounts and all Recoveries will be treated as Collections and dealt with as noted under "Series of Ownership Interests – Allocation of Collections".

Changes in Credit Granting and Collection Procedures

CTB may amend its credit granting policies and/or its practices and procedures relating to collection of Receivables under the Accounts. See "The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Restrictions on Amendments to the Terms and Conditions of the Accounts". These amendments may include changes to the statistical evaluation systems used and the collection strategies with which CTB manages the Portfolio.

SERIES OF OWNERSHIP INTERESTS

In connection with each sale by the Seller to a Co-Owner of a Series, the Co-Owner will enter into a Series Purchase Agreement, pursuant to which it will purchase, and the Seller will sell, transfer, assign and convey to it, a Series as of the date specified therein. The creation, transfer and servicing of each Series is provided for in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement as supplemented by the related Series Purchase Agreement. Each Series will constitute an undivided co-ownership interest in the Account Assets purchased pursuant to the related Series Purchase Agreement entitling the Co-Owner to those rights and benefits set out in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and in the related Series Purchase Agreement. The following is a description of certain material attributes of each Series. This description does not purport to be complete. Reference is made to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and to the related Series Purchase Agreement for the full particulars of the attributes of a particular Series. Each Series Purchase Agreement to which the Trust is a party will be in substantially identical form differing only as set out in the applicable pricing supplements. See "Material Contracts".

Creation and Purchase of a Series of Ownership Interests

On or before each Closing Date, the Trust, CTB and the Custodian will enter into a Series Purchase Agreement under which, among other things, the Trust will purchase, and CTB will sell, a Series. Each Series will have an initial Invested Amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Notes. The proceeds of the offering of a series of Notes will be used by the Trust to finance the purchase of the applicable Series, as described under “Use of Proceeds”.

Description of Series of Ownership Interests

Each outstanding Series includes a fully serviced, undivided co-ownership interest in the Account Assets existing from time to time entitling the Trust to receive a share of future Collections from the Account Assets of up to, but in some circumstances less than, an amount sufficient to cover the Trust’s future payment obligations under the related series of Notes and certain other amounts. At any time, the Trust’s aggregate entitlement to future Collections from its investment in a Series will equal the Invested Amount for such Series determined at that time.

The Invested Amount of a Series on any Determination Day is generally calculated as the aggregate of:

- (a) the Unadjusted Invested Amount on the Determination Day;

plus:

- (b) an amount of Credit Charge Receivables plus Recoveries for the related Determination Period equal to the lesser of: (i) the amount, if any, by which the Ownership Income Source for the related Determination Period is greater than zero, and (ii) an amount equal to the Ownership Income Share for the related Determination Period;

minus:

- (c) the amount, if any, by which the Ownership Income Source for the related Determination Period is less than zero;

plus:

- (d) the Enhancement Draw Amount, if any, on such Determination Day;

provided, however, that if, the sum of the Invested Amounts of all Series for a Determination Day exceed the Pool Balance on such day, the Invested Amount of the applicable Series for the day will equal the product of (x) the Pool Balance for the day and (y) a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount that would have been the Invested Amount of such Series for the day if determined without regard to this proviso, and the denominator of which is the sum of the amounts that would have been the Invested Amounts of all Series for the day if each had been determined without regard to the equivalent proviso.

The Invested Amount determines the entitlement of the Trust as Co-Owner to Collections and to a monthly share of Credit Charge Receivables, Recoveries and Pool Losses. See “– Allocation of Collections” and “– Description of Series of Ownership Interests – Allocation of Credit Charge Receivables, Recoveries and Pool Losses”. The following is a description of the various defined terms and elements underlying the foregoing calculation:

Elements of the Invested Amount Formula

The “Unadjusted Invested Amount” on a day in respect of a Series is the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of (a) the Invested Amount of such Series on the immediately preceding Determination Day and (b) all amounts, each of which is the stated dollar amount of an Additional Ownership Interest of such Series acquired after such Determination Day and on or before the day, exceeds (c) the aggregate of all Collections deposited into the related Series Accounts or which, but for CTB’s right to commingle funds as described under “The Account Assets – Collection Account”, would have been deposited into such Series Accounts, in each case on a day after such immediately preceding Determination Day and not later than that day.

The “Ownership Income Source” on any Determination Day in respect of a Series is an amount for the related Determination Period equal to the product of (a) the applicable Floating Allocation Percentage for the period, and (b) the sum of Credit Charge Receivables for the period, plus Recoveries for the period, minus amounts that became Written-Off Amounts during the period. For greater certainty, the Ownership Income Source will be less than zero in a period during which there are Pool Losses.

The “Ownership Income Share” for a Determination Period ending on a Determination Day will in respect of a Series equal (a) the amount by which the sum of: (i) the Funding Costs incurred for such Determination Period (including the interest accruing during the period on the related series of Notes); plus (ii) the related Additional Funding Expenses for such Determination Period (including the portion of the fees and expenses of the Issuer Trustee and the Indenture Trustee allocable to such Series for the period, the portion of the distribution to be made to the Beneficiary allocable to such Series for the period and amounts due and payable under the related Subordinated Loan Agreement, but excluding expenses, debts, liabilities and obligations that have been or will be paid with amounts advanced pursuant to such Subordinated Loan Agreement); plus (iii) the Cumulative Deficiency, if any, for such Series on the immediately preceding Determination Day; plus (iv) during the applicable Pre-Liquidation Reserve Period, the related Required Yield Reserve Deposit Amount for such Determination Day; exceeds (v) any investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account during such Determination Period to be deposited into the applicable Series Accumulations Account, less (b) the applicable Series Liquidation Yield Draw Amount for such Determination Day.

The “Cumulative Deficiency” on a Determination Day in respect of a Series will be an amount, which shall not be less than zero, equal to:

- (a) the Cumulative Deficiency for such Series on the immediately preceding Determination Day;

plus:

- (b) the amount, if any, by which the Ownership Income Share exceeds the sum of the Ownership Income Source and the Enhancement Draw Amount, in each case for such Series and the Determination Period ending on such Determination Day;

minus:

- (c) the amount, if any, by which the Ownership Income Source exceeds the Ownership Income Share, in each case for such Series and the Determination Period ending on such Determination Day.

Allocation of Credit Charge Receivables, Recoveries and Pool Losses

On each Determination Day, the Invested Amount for a Series will increase by a share of Credit Charge Receivables plus Recoveries for the related Determination Period equal to the lesser of (a) the applicable Ownership Income Share for the period, and (b) the applicable Ownership Income Source for the period. If the Ownership Income Share exceeds the Ownership Income Source for a Series, the Invested Amount for such Series will increase only by an amount equal to the Ownership Income Source and will be reduced to the extent that the Ownership Income Source is less than zero, except if and to the extent that the Enhancement Amount for such Series is available to make up the difference and, if applicable, to cover the shortfall and reduction. If the sum of the Ownership Income Source for a Determination Period plus the Enhancement Draw Amount for the related Determination Day for a Series is less than the Ownership Income Share for such period, the difference will constitute a “Deficiency” for such Series. See “– Enhancement Amount”.

Recovery of Deficiencies

If, on a Determination Day on which there is a Cumulative Deficiency for a Series, the Ownership Income Source exceeds the Ownership Income Share, the Invested Amount for such Series may increase by an amount equal to the lesser of such excess and the Cumulative Deficiency for such Series. In such cases, the amount of the Cumulative Deficiency for such Series will reduce by such amount.

Enhancement Amount

On the Closing Date for a Series, the Enhancement Amount for such Series will equal the amount specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement). The Enhancement Amount may vary depending upon whether the related Series is in its Revolving Period, Liquidation Period or Amortization Period. In addition, the Enhancement Amount for a Series will decrease to the extent of any Enhancement Draw Amounts and may increase (not to exceed the applicable Maximum Enhancement Amount) to the extent that, on a Determination Day, the Ownership Income Source exceeds the Ownership Income Share for such Series, and such excess is not allocated to increase the Invested Amount to recover a Cumulative Deficiency. The Enhancement Amount may not exceed the applicable Maximum Enhancement Amount. On each Determination Day after the Closing Date for a Series, the applicable Enhancement Amount will be calculated by the Servicer prior to making any other determinations and calculations required in respect of such Series for the day. In respect of a Series, the Enhancement Amount is available to cover what would otherwise be a Deficiency for a Determination Period. See “– Allocation of Credit Charge Receivables, Recoveries and Pool Losses”.

The “Enhancement Amount” on a Determination Day in respect of a Series will equal the lesser of:

- (a) an amount (the “Maximum Enhancement Amount” for such Series) equal to:
 - (i) if the Determination Day occurs during either the Revolving Period or the Liquidation Period, the greater of (x) the product of the Enhancement Percentage and the greater of (A) 40% (or such other percentage set out in the related Series Purchase Agreement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement)) of the largest Unadjusted Invested Amount at any time during the most recently completed twelve Determination Periods and (B) the Unadjusted Invested Amount for the Determination Day, and (y) 3% (or such other percentage set out in the related Series Purchase Agreement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement)) of the initial Invested Amount; or
 - (ii) if the Determination Day occurs during an Amortization Period, the greater of (x) the amount determined in (a)(i) on the Determination Day immediately preceding the Amortization Commencement Day and (y) the product of the Enhancement Percentage and the Invested Amount as of the Determination Day immediately preceding the Amortization Commencement Day; and
- (b) an amount equal to the sum of:
 - (i) the Enhancement Amount for the immediately preceding Determination Day, less any Enhancement Draw Amount for such immediately preceding Determination Day plus any Enhancement Recovery for such immediately preceding Determination Day; and
 - (ii) the product of (x) the Enhancement Percentage and (y) the amount, if any, by which the Unadjusted Invested Amount for the Determination Day exceeds the Unadjusted Invested Amount for the immediately preceding Determination Day.

The “Enhancement Percentage” for a Determination Day in respect of a Series will be the amount, expressed as a percentage, specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement).

The “Enhancement Draw Amount” for a Determination Day in respect of a Series will be an amount, which may not be less than zero, equal to the lesser of (a) the Enhancement Amount determined on the Determination Day and (b) the Ownership Income Share (without taking into account the reference to the Required Yield Reserve Deposit Amount in the definition thereof) minus the Ownership Income Source, in each case for the related Determination Period; provided, however, that if the aggregate of enhancement draw amounts for all Series determined on the Determination Day exceeds the amount of the Retained Interest determined on such Determination Day, the Enhancement Draw Amount in respect of a Series will equal the lesser of the Enhancement

Draw Amount otherwise determined and the product of (x) the Enhancement Amount divided by the sum of the enhancement amounts for all Series, and (y) the amount of the Retained Interest.

The “Enhancement Recovery” for a Determination Day in respect of a Series will be the amount, if any, by which the Ownership Income Source for the related Determination Period exceeds the sum of (a) the Ownership Income Share for the related Determination Period, plus (b) the amount of any Cumulative Deficiency existing on the immediately preceding Determination Day after making all necessary calculations and adjustments to the Invested Amount on such immediately preceding Determination Day.

The Enhancement Amount of a Series may also be reduced in the future in certain circumstances and subject to certain conditions, including the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the applicable series of Notes, as a result of the Transfer of Additional Property to the Trust or the issuance of a separate class of notes within the same series of Notes which would rank subordinate to the existing Notes of such series. See “– Additional and Substitute Enhancements” and “The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Additional Ownership Interests of Other Series”.

Additional and Substitute Enhancements

A Series Purchase Agreement will, at the request of CTB, be amended by the Servicer, CTB, the Trust and the Custodian, without the consent of holders of the related series of Notes, to provide for Additional Property to be deposited with the Custodian and Transferred to the Trust in respect of the applicable Series in accordance with the terms of such amendment. Upon such a Transfer, the applicable Series will, in addition to constituting an undivided co-ownership interest in the Account Assets, constitute an interest in such Additional Property. In addition, the Trust may, subject to the terms of the Trust Indenture and the applicable Series Supplement, elect to issue a separate class of notes within the same series of Notes, which notes will rank subordinate to the existing Notes of such series. The Trust will use the proceeds received from the sale of such notes to purchase from the Seller an Additional Ownership Interest in relation to such Series.

The foregoing transactions in respect of a Series will be conditional upon the following:

- (a) confirmation that CTB believes that such amendment does not and is not reasonably expected to result in the occurrence of an amortization event with respect to any Series or Class or materially adversely affect the amount or timing of distributions to be made in respect of any Series or Class;
- (b) satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition; and
- (c) satisfaction of the conditions set out in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement with respect to the creation and Transfer of additional Series.

Such transactions in respect of a Series may be completed in order to reduce the Enhancement Amount for such Series as described under “– Description of Series of Ownership Interests – Enhancement Amount”. Under the terms of an Additional Property Agreement for a Series, an Entitled Party may become entitled to certain voting and other rights of a Co-Owner. Despite the Enhancement Amount being reduced, the amount of credit protection would remain the same as one form of credit support is substituted for another form of credit support.

The Trust’s Undivided Co-Ownership Interest in Newly Generated Receivables

Except in the circumstances described under “– Availability of Collections Allocable But Not Distributed to Other Series”, Collections allocable but not distributed or deposited to a particular Series Account in respect of the related Series will sustain the amount of the Trust’s investment in the undivided co-ownership interest in Account Assets constituted by such Series.

Allocation of Collections

On each Business Day, the Trust is entitled to an allocable portion of Collections in respect of each Series equal to the applicable Ownership Allocable Collections for the day. Notwithstanding this, the amount of Collections actually deposited to a Series Account or distributed to the Trust on a Business Day in respect of a Series will depend on a number of factors including whether such Series is in its Revolving Period, Liquidation Period or Amortization Period and the debt servicing requirements of the Trust in respect of the related series of Notes and other related expenses. The specific amounts to be deposited to Series Accounts and required by the Trust at these times and for these purposes will be described in the “Distribution Notice” for such Series.

As a general rule, the amount of Collections available to be deposited or distributed in respect of a Series for a day will equal the lesser of (a) the Ownership Allocable Collections for the day plus, if required and available in the circumstances described under “– Availability of Collections Allocable But Not Distributed to Other Series”, all or a portion of Excess Collections not distributed in respect of other Series, and (b) the amount directed to be deposited to a related Series Account or distributed on such day under the Distribution Notice for such Series. Such amount will be withdrawn by the Custodian (upon the direction of the Servicer) from the Collection Account and will be deposited to a related Series Account or distributed to the Issuer Trustee, by deposit into the related Series Accumulations Account or, alternatively, will be deposited directly by the Servicer if the Servicer is entitled to commingle funds in the circumstances described under “The Account Assets – Collection Account”. Collections allocable to the Trust for a Series but which are not deposited to a related Series Account or distributed to the Trust will constitute Excess Collections for such Series, to be available for the benefit of Co-Owners of other Series (including to the Trust in respect of the other Series owned by it) or, if not so utilized, to be available for distribution to CTB or held unallocated, in each case as described under “– Availability of Collections Allocable But Not Distributed to Other Series”.

“Ownership Allocable Collections”, for a Business Day in respect of a Series, will equal the product of:

- (a) (i) the Floating Allocation Percentage for the day, if such Series is in the Revolving Period, or
(ii) the Ownership Allocation Percentage for the day, if such Series is in its Liquidation Period or an Amortization Period; and
- (b) the amount of Collections received by the Servicer for the day;

provided, however, that if for any day the sum of (x) for each existing Series in its Revolving Period, the Floating Allocation Percentage for the day in respect of such Series, and (y) for each existing Series in a Liquidation Period or an Amortization Period, the Ownership Allocation Percentage for the day in respect of such Series, exceeds 100%, then the Ownership Allocable Collections for the day shall mean a pro rata allocation of Collections received by the Servicer for the day based on such Floating Allocation Percentages and Ownership Allocation Percentages.

“Ownership Allocation Percentage”, for or in respect of a Business Day for a Series, will equal the sum of:

- (a) a fraction, expressed as a percentage, the numerator of which is equal to the product of:
 - (i) (x) the amount of Credit Charge Receivables for the immediately preceding Business Day, divided by (y) the Collections for the day; and
 - (ii) the sum of (x) the Unadjusted Invested Amount for the immediately preceding Determination Day and (y) the Enhancement Amount determined as of the Determination Day immediately preceding the earlier to occur of the Liquidation Commencement Day or the Amortization Commencement Day (each in respect of such Series); and the denominator of which is the Pool Balance for the immediately preceding Determination Day; and

- (b) a fraction, expressed as a percentage, the numerator of which is equal to the product of:

- (i) (x) the Collections for the day minus the amount of Credit Charge Receivables for the immediately preceding Business Day, divided by (y) the Collections for the day; and
- (ii) the sum of (x) the Invested Amount and (y) the Enhancement Amount, in each case determined as of the Determination Day immediately preceding the earlier to occur of the Liquidation Commencement Day or the Amortization Commencement Day (each in respect of such Series); and the denominator of which is the Pool Balance for the Determination Day immediately preceding the earlier to occur of the Liquidation Commencement Day or the Amortization Commencement Day for such Series.

Distributions to the Trust in respect of a Series of Ownership Interests

The Trust's entitlement to Collections in respect of a particular Series will be determined by reference to the amount specified in or determined under the related Distribution Notice delivered by the Trust on the applicable Closing Date. The Distribution Notice for a Series will be an irrevocable direction by the Trust to the Servicer to distribute Collections at the times and in the amounts required to meet its obligations in relation to such Series. The amount of Collections distributable or to be deposited to a Series Account in respect of a Series will vary depending on whether the Series is in its Revolving Period, Liquidation Period or Amortization Period. The following is a summary of the requirements:

During the Revolving Period

For each month commencing during the Revolving Period, the Distribution Notice for a Series will direct the Custodian to withdraw from the Collection Account and deposit into the applicable Series Accumulations Account, commencing on the first Business Day of the month and on each Business Day thereafter, an amount up to the aggregate of the Ownership Allocable Collections and Excess Collections, if any, in respect of such Series for the day; provided that the amount for a day will be limited to the amount, if any, by which (a) the expected Funding Costs and Additional Funding Expenses relating to such Series for the month and any such amounts remaining unpaid from prior months, exceeds (b) the aggregate of all amounts previously deposited into such Series Accumulations Account therefor. The Additional Funding Expenses in respect of a Series for a month will be specified in, or determined by reference to information set forth in, the related Distribution Notice and will generally be amounts which are payable at any time during the month. In addition, during the Pre-Liquidation Reserve Period for a Series, deposits will be made to the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account as directed by the Trust pursuant to the applicable Distribution Notice.

If the Servicer is permitted to commingle Collections in the circumstances described under "The Account Assets – Collection Account", the Servicer may elect not to make such deposits during a month, but rather will be entitled to deposit funds directly into the applicable Series Accumulations Account for a Series (a) in respect of Additional Funding Expenses for such Series, on the Business Day prior to the day on which such amount is due and payable and (b) in respect of the Funding Costs for such Series for a month, on the earlier of the last Business Day of the month or the Business Day immediately preceding any related Interest Payment Date occurring during the month. Such direct deposits will equal (and for greater certainty will not exceed), in the aggregate for a month, the amount that would have been deposited into such Series Accumulations Account for the month had the Servicer not been permitted to commingle the Trust's Collections.

During the Liquidation Period

For each month commencing during the Liquidation Period for a Series, the related Distribution Notice will direct the Custodian to withdraw from the Collection Account and deposit into the applicable Series Accumulations Account or the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account, as applicable, commencing on the first Business Day of the month and on each Business Day thereafter, an amount up to the aggregate of the Ownership Allocable Collections and Excess Collections, if any, in respect of such Series for the day; provided that the amount for a day will generally be limited to the sum of (a) the amount, if any, by which (i) the expected Funding Costs and Additional Funding Expenses for such Series for the month and any such amounts remaining unpaid from prior months, exceeds (ii) the aggregate of all amounts previously deposited into such Series Accumulations Account therefor, plus (b) for each full month during such Liquidation Period, the Monthly Principal Accumulation Amount to be deposited to such Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account. See “– Liquidation Period”.

In respect of a Series, on the earlier of (a) the Business Day immediately prior to the Expected Repayment Date and (b) the Amortization Commencement Day, the Custodian will withdraw the funds on deposit in the applicable Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account and deposit such funds into the related Series Accumulations Account.

If the Servicer is permitted to commingle Collections in the circumstances described under “The Account Assets – Collection Account”, the Servicer may in respect of a Series elect not to make such deposits during a month, but rather will be entitled to deposit funds directly (x) into the applicable Series Accumulations Account (a) in respect of Additional Funding Expenses, on the Business Day prior to the day on which such amounts are due and payable, (b) in respect of Funding Costs, on the earlier of the last Business Day of the month and the Business Day immediately preceding any Interest Payment Date occurring during the month, and (y) into the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account in respect of the Monthly Principal Accumulation Amount for a month, on the last Business Day of the month. Such direct deposits will equal (and for greater certainty will not exceed), in the aggregate for a month, the amount that would have been deposited into such Series Accumulations Account or the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account, as applicable, for the month had the Servicer not been permitted to commingle the Collections for such Series. Deposited amounts that are invested will be invested in Eligible Investments. See “– Eligible Investments”. Investment earnings on amounts on deposit in a particular Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account during a Determination Period will be deposited to the related Series Accumulations Account to the extent of the lesser of (i) such investment earnings and (ii) amounts required in respect of the sum of the related Funding Costs and Additional Funding Expenses for such period and the Cumulative Deficiency for such Series on the immediately preceding Determination Day. Remaining investment earnings shall be distributed to the Seller in respect of the Retained Interest.

During an Amortization Period

For each Business Day occurring during an Amortization Period for a Series, the Distribution Notice will direct the Custodian to withdraw from the Collection Account and deposit into the related Series Accumulations Account an amount up to the aggregate of the Ownership Allocable Collections and Excess Collections, if any, in respect of such Series for the day; provided that the amount for a day will be limited to an amount equal to the Unadjusted Invested Amount of such Series on the day. Such amounts for a month will be applied by the Trust on the first Business Day of the following month to make the payments in the order of priority described under “Details of the Offering – The Notes” and “– The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking”. Pending the application of deposited amounts for this purpose, funds that are invested will be invested in Eligible Investments for such Series. See “– Eligible Investments”.

Allocations and distributions of Collections to the Trust in respect of a Series will cease at the time that the Invested Amount for such Series is reduced to zero on a Determination Day. In no event will the Trust be entitled to receive on account of a Series a distribution of Collections in excess of the Unadjusted Invested Amount for such Series.

Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Accounts

Each Series will entitle the Trust to receive funds deposited to the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account in certain circumstances. Such Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account is intended to provide the Trust with an additional source of funds to mitigate certain risks arising during the Liquidation Period for such Series; primarily the possibility that the entitlement of the Trust to income earned on Eligible Investments from amounts on deposit in the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account (including in relation to investments of deposits made in respect of Monthly Principal Accumulation Amounts for such Series) may be insufficient to cover the Trust’s related Funding Costs. See “Series of Ownership Interests – Liquidation Period” and “Series of Ownership Interests – Distributions to the Trust in Respect of a Series of Ownership Interests”.

The yield risk outlined in the preceding paragraph will be less significant during the Amortization Period for a Series as amounts on deposit in the related Series Accumulations Account will be paid in accordance with the priorities set forth under “Details of the Offering – The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking” on a monthly basis during such Amortization Period. In ascribing their ratings of the Notes of a series, the Trust understands that the Rating Agencies have not relied on the availability of the funds deposited to the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account in determining the amount of credit enhancement required to obtain such ratings. The Rating Agencies are relying on the funds deposited to the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account only to cover off yield risk during the related Liquidation Period.

In respect of a Series, the Custodian, upon the direction of the Servicer, shall withdraw from the Collection Account and deposit to the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account the applicable Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account Available Collections during the related Pre-Liquidation Reserve Period until the amount deposited into such Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account is equal to the related Aggregate Required Yield Reserve Deposit Amount. An amount equal to the Aggregate Required Yield Reserve Deposit Amount in respect of a Series will be held (subject to investment in Eligible Investments as contemplated by “– Eligible Investments”) in such Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account, unless withdrawn for deposit to the related Series Accumulations Account, until the related Yield Reserve Termination Date, at which time such amounts shall be released to the Seller in respect of the Retained Interest. All investment earnings on the amount on deposit in such account shall be released to the Seller in respect of the Retained Interest.

Funds in the Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account for a Series will be available during the related Liquidation Period and Amortization Period, if applicable, to the extent of the lesser of (a) the balance on deposit in the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account and (b) an amount equal to the Ownership Income Share (without taking into account the references to the Required Yield Reserve Deposit Amount and the related Series Liquidation Yield Draw Amount in the definition thereof) minus the Ownership Income Source (if such Ownership Income Source is greater than zero; otherwise, the Ownership Income Source shall be deemed to be zero), each, in respect of such Series and as of the applicable Determination Day.

Eligible Investments

Collections and any other amounts in respect of a Series deposited into the applicable Series Accounts that are invested will be invested in Eligible Investments. Amounts deposited in a Series Accumulations Account relating to a Series will be invested by the Administrator, as agent on behalf of the Issuer Trustee, in Eligible Investments for such Series pending application of such amounts as contemplated under “Details of the Offering – The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking”. Amounts deposited in a Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account and Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account for a Series that are invested will be invested by the Custodian, as agent on behalf of the Seller and applicable Co-Owners in Eligible Investments, upon direction from the Servicer.

“Eligible Investments” means, in respect of a Series (unless otherwise provided in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement), book-entry securities, negotiable instruments or securities represented by instruments in bearer or registered form payable in Canadian dollars having remaining maturities at the time of investment such that funds will be available at the close of business on or before the Business Day next preceding the date on which payment of such funds from the applicable Series Accounts or the Collection Account is scheduled to be made which evidence:

- (a) direct obligations of, and obligations fully guaranteed as to timely payment by, Canada or any agency or instrumentality thereof the obligations of which are backed by the full faith and credit of Canada;
- (b) securities of or guaranteed by a province of Canada or a municipality in Canada having, at the time of the investment or contractual commitment to invest therein, a rating of R-1 (low) (short-term) or better or A (long-term) or better from DBRS; and, if S&P is rating the related series of Notes, A-1 (short-term) or better from S&P for securities that are scheduled to mature 60 days or less following the date of the investment, and A-1+ (short-term) or better or AA- (long-term) or better from S&P for securities that are scheduled to mature greater than 60 days following the date of the investment; and, if Fitch is rating the related series of Notes, F1+ (short-term) or better or

AA- (long-term) or better from Fitch for securities that are scheduled to mature greater than 30 days following the date of the investment, and F1 (short-term) or better or A (long-term) or better from Fitch for securities that are scheduled to mature within 30 days of the date of the investment;

- (c) demand deposits, time deposits or certificates of deposit of any chartered bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of Canada or any province thereof and subject to supervision and examination by federal banking or depository institution authorities; provided, however, that at the time of the investment or contractual commitment to invest therein, the commercial paper or other short-term unsecured debt obligations (other than such obligations the rating of which is based on the credit of a Person other than such depository institution or trust company) thereof shall have a credit rating of R-1 (low) (short-term) or better or A (long-term) or better from DBRS; and, if S&P is rating the related series of Notes, A-1 (short-term) or better from S&P for deposits that are scheduled to mature 60 days or less following the date of the investment, and A-1+ (short-term) or better or AA- (long-term) or better from S&P for deposits that are scheduled to mature greater than 60 days following the date of the investment; and, if Fitch is rating the related series of Notes, F1+ (short-term) or better or AA- (long-term) or better from Fitch for deposits that are scheduled to mature greater than 30 days following the date of the investment, and F1 (short-term) or better or A (long-term) or better from Fitch for deposits that are scheduled to mature within 30 days of the date of the investment;
- (d) commercial paper issued by a Canadian corporation having, at the time of the investment or contractual commitment to invest therein, a rating of R-1 (low) (short-term) or better or A (long-term) or better from DBRS; and, if S&P is rating the related series of Notes, A-1 (short-term) or better from S&P for commercial paper of a corporation that is scheduled to mature 60 days or less following the date of the investment, and A-1+ (short-term) or better or AA- (long-term) or better from S&P for commercial paper of a corporation that is scheduled to mature greater than 60 days following the date of the investment; and, if Fitch is rating the related series of Notes, F1+ (short-term) or better or AA- (long-term) or better from Fitch for commercial paper of a corporation that is scheduled to mature greater than 30 days following the date of the investment, and F1 (short-term) or better or A (long-term) or better from Fitch for commercial paper of a corporation that is scheduled to mature within 30 days of the date of the investment;
- (e) asset-backed commercial paper backed by global style liquidity having, at the time of the investment or contractual commitment to invest therein, a rating of R-1(high) (sf) (short-term) from DBRS; and, if S&P is rating the related series of Notes, A-1 (sf) (short-term) or better from S&P for asset-backed commercial paper that is scheduled to mature 60 days or less following the date of the investment, and A-1+ (short-term) or better or AA- (long-term) or better from S&P for asset-backed commercial paper that is scheduled to mature greater than 60 days following the date of the investment; and, if Fitch is rating the related series of Notes, F1+sf (short-term) or better from Fitch;
- (f) investments in money market funds having, at the time of the investment or contractual commitment to invest therein, a rating of AAA from DBRS; and, if S&P is rating the related series of Notes, AAAm from S&P; and, if Fitch is rating the related series of Notes, AAAmmf from Fitch;
- (g) demand deposits, time deposits and certificates of deposit of any chartered bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of Canada or any province thereof which are fully insured by CDIC when purchased;
- (h) bankers' acceptances issued by any chartered bank referred to in clause (c) above, other than bankers' acceptances of Schedule II chartered banks which are not guaranteed by a parent of such chartered bank;
- (i) repurchase obligations with respect to any security that is a direct obligation of, or fully guaranteed by, Canada entered into with a chartered bank referred to in clause (c) above;

- (j) deposits in a deposit account established and maintained with an Eligible Institution or an institution that otherwise satisfies the Rating Agency Condition; or
- (k) any other investment with respect to the investment in which the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied at the time of the investment therein or contractual commitment to invest therein.

In the event that Fitch is rating a related series of Notes, and any of the Eligible Investments noted above requiring a Fitch rating are not rated by Fitch, such Eligible Investments with respect to such series of Notes are required to have equivalent ratings to the required Fitch ratings from at least two other Designated Rating Organizations.

Availability of Collections Allocable But Not Distributed to Other Series

Collections for a Business Day will be first allocated to each Series in an amount equal to such Series' ownership allocable collections. If Collections allocable on a Business Day to a Series are not distributed in respect of such Series, then, subject to certain conditions (including that the Pool Balance exceeds the Required Pool Amount on the day after giving effect to the distribution thereof), such Collections (the aggregate of Collections allocable but not distributed in respect of all Series, the "Excess Collections" for the Business Day) will be available for distribution to Co-Owners in respect of other Series for which the amount required for distribution or deposit (as determined by such Series' then current distribution notice) exceeds the ownership allocable collections for such Series (in respect of a Series, an "Excess Requirement" for the Business Day). If the aggregate of Excess Requirements for all Series on a Business Day exceeds the amount of Excess Collections on the Business Day, Excess Collections will be distributed pro rata in respect of the applicable Series based on the relative amounts of their Excess Requirements. To the extent that Excess Collections exceed Excess Requirements, the balance will be reinvested in Account Assets and will be distributed to CTB in respect of the Retained Interest. No distributions of Excess Collections will be made at any time that the Required Pool Amount exceeds the Pool Balance. Excess Collections not distributed will be held unallocated by the Custodian in the Collection Account until a time when the Pool Balance is equal to or exceeds the Required Pool Amount, at which time such amount will be distributed.

Liquidation Period

In respect of a Series, assuming no earlier commencement of an Amortization Period, the Revolving Period will end and the Liquidation Period is scheduled to commence on a date stipulated in the related Series Purchase Agreement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement); provided, however, that if the Controlled Liquidation Period Length (determined as described below) is more than one month, the date on which the Liquidation Period actually begins will be the close of business on the last day of the month preceding the month that is the number of full calendar months prior to the month in which the Expected Repayment Date occurs equal to the Controlled Liquidation Period Length. As a result, the number of Determination Periods in the Liquidation Period will at least equal the Controlled Liquidation Period Length. On the Calculation Day immediately preceding the Determination Day that occurs no later than twelve months preceding the related Expected Repayment Date, and on each Calculation Day thereafter that occurs prior to the earlier of (a) the Calculation Day occurring in the Determination Period in which the Liquidation Period is scheduled to begin and (b) the Amortization Commencement Day, the Servicer will determine the "Controlled Liquidation Period Length" which will equal the minimum number of months such that the sum of the Controlled Liquidation Period Factors for each month during the Liquidation Period will be equal to or greater than the Required Liquidation Factor Number; provided, further, that the Controlled Liquidation Period Length shall not be less than one month. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Controlled Liquidation Period Length for a Series shall have been determined to be less than twelve months and, after the date on which such determination is made, a series amortization event as designated in any Series Purchase Agreement (each, a "Series Amortization Event") shall occur with respect to any other outstanding Series, the Liquidation Period will begin on the earlier of (i) the first day of the Determination Period immediately succeeding the date that such Series Amortization Event shall have occurred with respect to such Series and (ii) the date on which the Liquidation Period is then scheduled to commence. The effect of the foregoing calculation is to permit the reduction or increase of the length of the Liquidation Period for a Series based on the invested amount of certain other Series which are scheduled or expected to be in their Revolving Periods during the Liquidation Period and increases or decreases in the principal payment rate occurring after the related Closing Date.

In respect of a Series, for each full month commencing during the Liquidation Period, the related Distribution Notice will direct the Custodian to deposit (a) Collections required to be distributed to the Trust in respect of such Series into the related Series Accumulations Account in an amount sufficient to enable the Trust to pay Funding Costs and Additional Funding Expenses on the related series of Notes, (b) the applicable Monthly Principal Accumulation Amount for the month into the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account and (c) if the Pre-Liquidation Reserve Period is continuing, the applicable Required Yield Reserve Deposit Amount into the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account. In respect of a Series, the “Monthly Principal Accumulation Amount” for a month will equal the lesser of: (i) the Controlled Accumulation Amount for such month, plus the amount of any Accumulation Shortfalls; and (ii) the Unadjusted Invested Amount of such Series. In respect of a Series, the “Controlled Accumulation Amount” for each month occurring during the related Liquidation Period will be the amount specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement), provided that if the Controlled Liquidation Period Length is determined to be more than one month, the Controlled Accumulation Amount for each Determination Day during the Liquidation Period will be equal to the Invested Amount on the related Closing Date divided by the Controlled Liquidation Period Length. In respect of a Series, amounts deposited into the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account in respect of Monthly Principal Accumulation Amounts that are invested will be invested by the Trust, or by the Custodian on the direction of the Trust, in Eligible Investments as described under “– Eligible Investments”.

In respect of a Series, the amounts deposited to the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account during the Liquidation Period will be deposited to the related Series Accumulations Account for repayment of the principal of the related series of Notes on the earlier of (a) the Business Day immediately prior to the Expected Repayment Date and (b) the Amortization Commencement Day.

In respect of a Series, the Liquidation Period for the related series of Notes will end on the earlier of (a) the first Determination Day on which the Invested Amount of such Series is reduced to zero, and (b) the applicable Amortization Commencement Day.

Amortization

Upon the occurrence of an Amortization Event in respect of a Series that is not waived and, in the case of certain Amortization Events, after the delivery by the Issuer Trustee or the Custodian of a notice to CTB or a Successor Servicer, the Amortization Period for such Series will commence. During the Amortization Period for a Series, the Custodian will withdraw from the Collection Account and deposit into the applicable Series Accumulations Account on each Business Day Collections allocable to such Series for the day equal to the Ownership Allocable Collections for the Business Day and any Excess Collections distributable to the Trust in respect of such Series for the Business Day. No further reinvestment of allocable Collections to sustain the amount of the Trust’s investment in the undivided co-ownership interest in the Account Assets constituted by a Series will occur during the related Amortization Period. See “– Amortization Events in Respect of a Series of Ownership Interests”.

Each Series has its own amortization events, which may be different from those of other Series. Therefore, different Series may not amortize and Collections may not be distributed to Co-Owners in the same circumstances and at the same time. Amortization events for a Series will be specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement. See “The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Sale of Other Series”.

Amortization Events in Respect of a Series of Ownership Interests

In respect of a Series, the Revolving Period or, if commenced, the Liquidation Period, will end on the Amortization Commencement Day. The occurrence of one or more of the following events in relation to a Series will constitute an “Amortization Event” for such Series, which in turn may result in the commencement of an Amortization Period for such Series in the circumstances described below:

- (a) failure on the part of CTB, in its capacity as the Seller, or the Servicer, to make any distribution, transfer or deposit required in respect of the Series and such failure continues for a period of 5 Business Days, or failure on the part of CTB, in its capacity as the Seller, or the Servicer, to observe or perform any covenant or agreement contained in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or the related Series Purchase Agreement, if such failure has a material adverse effect on the ability of the Trust to satisfy its obligations to holders of related Senior Notes (without regard to funds available in the applicable Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account) and continues unremedied for a period of 30 Business Days after delivery by the Custodian or the Issuer Trustee of written notice thereof to CTB and any Successor Servicer;

- (b) any representation or warranty made by CTB, in its capacity as the Seller, or the Servicer, in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or the related Series Purchase Agreement, is found to have been incorrect when made, or any information required to be given by CTB, in its capacity as the Seller, or the Servicer, is found to have been incorrect when given, and such incorrect representation, warranty or information has a material adverse effect on the ability of the Trust to satisfy its obligations to holders of the related Senior Notes (without regard to funds available in the applicable Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account) and continues to be incorrect or unremedied for a period of 30 Business Days after delivery by the Custodian or the Issuer Trustee of written notice thereof to CTB and any Successor Servicer;
- (c) certain events related to the insolvency of CTB or CTC;
- (d) a servicer termination event arising in any of the circumstances described under (a), (b), (c) or (d) under the heading “The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Servicer Termination Events” has occurred;
- (e) an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing;
- (f) the number, expressed as a percentage, equal to 12 times (i) (x) the average Ownership Income Source for the three preceding Determination Periods, minus (y) the sum of the average Ownership Income Share (without taking into account the reference to the Required Yield Reserve Deposit Amount in the definition thereof) for the three preceding Determination Periods and the average for the three preceding Determination Periods of the product of the Floating Allocation Percentage for the related Determination Day and any Successor Servicer fees paid or payable in respect of the Determination Period, to the extent not paid by CTB, plus (z) the average allocable portion of the Subordinated Loan Repayment Amount and all other Additional Funding Expenses which, by their terms, provide for the postponement and subordination of all amounts owing by the Trust for payment thereof during the Amortization Period for the three preceding Determination Periods, divided by (ii) the average Invested Amount as of the three preceding Determination Days, is less than 2.0%;
- (g) (i) the number, expressed as a percentage, equal to 12 times (x) the average of amounts that became Written-Off Amounts during the three preceding Determination Periods, divided by (y) the average Pool Balance as of the three preceding Determination Days, is less than or equal to 10.0% (or such other percentage specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement), and (ii) the number, expressed as a percentage, equal to (x) the average amount of Collections for the three preceding Determination Periods, divided by (y) the average Pool Balance as of the three preceding Determination Days, is less than 8.0% (or such other percentage specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement);
- (h) (i) the number, expressed as a percentage, equal to 12 times (x) the average of amounts that became Written-Off Amounts during the three preceding Determination Periods, divided by (y) the average Pool Balance as of the three preceding Determination Days, is greater than 10.0% (or such other percentage specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement), and (ii) the number, expressed as a percentage, equal to (x) the average amount of Collections for the three preceding Determination Periods, divided by (y) the average Pool Balance as of the three preceding Determination Days, is less than 10.0% (or such other percentage specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement);

- (i) on the Expected Repayment Date for such Series the balance on deposit in the related Series Accumulations Account is insufficient to satisfy all amounts due and payable on the related series of Notes on such date;
- (j) on any Determination Day during the Revolving Period for such Series, the Enhancement Draw Amount is greater than zero, or on any Determination Day during the Liquidation Period for such Series, the Enhancement Draw Amount is greater than 15% (or such other percentage specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement) of the Enhancement Amount on the applicable Closing Date;
- (k) the Pool Balance is on any Determination Day less than the Required Pool Amount and such deficiency has not been remedied by the addition of Additional Accounts pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement within 3 days after the first Calculation Day on which such deficiency is identified by CTB or a Successor Servicer;
- (l) on any Business Day (i) the Servicer is required pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement to deposit Collections into the Collection Account not later than the second Business Day after the applicable date of processing thereof, (ii) the Servicer continues to commingle excess Collections as permitted by the Pooling and Servicing Agreement but is required to comply with the Partial Commingling Condition, and (iii) the daily asset test described in paragraph (a) of the definition of Partial Commingling Condition indicates that the Pool Balance is less than the Required Pool Amount on such Business Day and such deficiency has not been remedied, including by way of the addition of Additional Accounts pursuant to this Agreement, within ten days after the Business Day on which such deficiency is identified by the Servicer; and
- (m) on any Business Day (i) the Servicer is required pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement to deposit Collections into the Collection Account not later than the second Business Day after the applicable date of processing thereof, (ii) the Servicer continues to commingle excess Collections as permitted by the Pooling and Servicing Agreement but is required to comply with the Partial Commingling Condition, and (iii) the Servicer fails to deliver to DBRS, if required, the officers' certificate described in paragraph (b) of the definition of Partial Commingling Condition on or before the date that is five Business Days after the date such delivery is required to be made, and, for greater certainty, if an amount, average amount or average of amounts is to be calculated for or in respect of a Determination Period that does not correspond to an entire calendar month, such amount, average amount or average of amounts will be calculated as the product of (x) the applicable average daily amount for the Determination Period and (y) the number of days in the calendar month during which such Determination Period occurs.

In the case of an Amortization Event for a Series described in (a), (b), (d), (g), (h), (l) and (m) above, an Amortization Period for such Series will commence only if, after the applicable grace period, if any, either the Custodian or the Issuer Trustee provides written notice to CTB and any Successor Servicer of the applicable Amortization Commencement Day, and the Amortization Period for such Series will commence on the Amortization Commencement Day specified in such notice. The Series Supplement for a Series will provide that the Issuer Trustee must provide such written notice where there has been an Amortization Event contemplated in (a), (b) or (d) which is continuing, unless the Issuer Trustee is satisfied that such Amortization Event occurred as a result of inadvertence or error on the part of CTB or a Successor Servicer and is capable of timely rectification without having a material adverse effect on the holders of the related Senior Notes.

In the case of an Amortization Event for a Series described in (c), (e), (f), (i), (j) and (k) above, the Amortization Commencement Day for such Series will be deemed to be the day on which the Amortization Event occurs, without any requirement for notice or other action on the part of the Custodian or the Issuer Trustee; provided, however, that the Issuer Trustee shall, upon receipt of a Noteholder Direction from the holders of the related Senior Notes and receipt of a Noteholder Direction from the holders of the related Subordinated Notes, if any, within 3 Business Days after recognition of the applicable Amortization Event, waive the commencement of the Amortization Period.

On each Business Day during an Amortization Period for a Series, Collections allocable to such Series in an amount equal to the Ownership Allocable Collections and any Excess Collections available for the Series will be deposited by the Servicer into the Collection Account and, in turn, by the Custodian (upon the direction of the Servicer) into the related Series Accumulations Account and, subject to prior payment by the Trust of certain expenses and other amounts, will be available to be applied on the first Business Day of the following month to pay interest owing first under the related Senior Notes and thereafter on the related Subordinated Notes, if any, and subsequently to pay principal first on such Senior Notes and thereafter on such Subordinated Notes. See “– Amortization”, “– Allocation of Collections” and “– Distributions to the Trust in Respect of Series of Ownership Interests”.

Clean-up Repurchase Option

The Servicer may purchase a Series on a Determination Day, subject to applicable notice requirements, if the Invested Amount of such Series is reduced to an amount less than or equal to 10% of the sum of (a) the initial Invested Amount and (b) the stated dollar amount of any Additional Ownership Interests in respect of such Series acquired after the applicable Closing Date. The repurchase price for such Series will be equal to the Invested Amount calculated on the Determination Day on which the purchase is made, plus the amount which would have been the Ownership Income Share for the period from the purchase date to the date of payment in full of the purchase price, plus any related Cumulative Deficiency on the purchase date. The purchase price will be deposited by the Servicer into the applicable Series Accumulations Account and be applied by the Issuer Trustee to make the payments described under “Details of the Offering – The Notes” and “– The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking”.

THE ACCOUNT ASSETS

General

The Account Assets, in which each Series represents an undivided co-ownership interest, consist of Receivables owing from time to time under the Accounts and all monies due or becoming due thereunder, including interest and all other non-principal charges due or becoming due under the Accounts, all Insurance Proceeds and the then applicable Pool Interchange Amount, together with all monies on deposit in, and Eligible Investments credited to, the Collection Account, and all amounts received with respect thereto after the Cut-Off Date, in the case of the Initial Accounts, after the applicable Additional Cut-Off Date, in the case of Additional Accounts and after the applicable Substitution Date, in the case of Substituted Accounts. Subject to certain requirements, Accounts may be added, removed or substituted in the manner described under “– Addition, Substitution and Removal of Accounts”.

The Receivables

The Receivables consist of all amounts owing by the Obligors under the Accounts (other than (a) receivables in any Designated Accounts originated on or after the applicable Removal Commencement Date and (b) Receivables which are purchased by CTB as described under “– Addition, Substitution and Removal of Accounts – Removal of Accounts” and under “– Mandatory Reassignment”), for the purchase of products and services, amounts advanced to the cardholder as cash advances and all other fees and charges billed to the cardholders on the Accounts including Credit Charge Receivables. The aggregate dollar amount of Receivables (and therefore the Pool Balance) fluctuates from day-to-day as new Receivables are generated in the Accounts and as existing Receivables are collected, written-off or otherwise adjusted. The Pool Balance at any time is equal to the aggregate of the unpaid balances of all Receivables, excluding Deferred Receivables and Written-Off Amounts, at that time. While the Receivables may include Deferred Receivables and Written-Off Amounts, amounts owing in respect thereof are not included in calculating the Floating Allocation Percentage, the Ownership Allocation Percentage, the Pool Balance and other amounts impacting on the allocation of Credit Charge Receivables, Recoveries, Pool Losses and Collections and the maintenance of the Required Pool Amount. Deferred Receivables become Receivables after the expiry of the related deferral period, whereupon amounts previously deferred thereunder can be billed to the related Account.

The Accounts

The Accounts subject to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement include Canadian Tire credit card accounts included as Initial Accounts; Mastercard credit card accounts and Canadian Tire credit card accounts (and may also include Other Credit Card Accounts) included as either Additional Accounts or Substituted Accounts in accordance with the provisions described under “– Addition, Substitution and Removal of Accounts”; Related Accounts; replacement accounts; Transferred Accounts; and each surviving account resulting from the combination of two or more Accounts. Accounts will not include any Removed Accounts, Purged Accounts or Written-Off Accounts.

Mastercard Credit Card Accounts

Receivables generated under Mastercard credit card accounts are debts owed by the Mastercard credit card holders to CTB incurred to finance the purchase of products and services from entities that accept the Mastercard credit card as a form of payment (including those operating Canadian Tire Associate Stores and other CTC operations and organizations associated with CTC). In addition, Mastercard credit card holders may obtain cash advances under their Mastercard credit cards. Mastercard credit card accounts established by or assigned to CTB are serviced, and the receivables generated thereunder are collected, by CTB. The collection and administrative procedures relating to the Mastercard credit card accounts do not differ materially from those relating to the Canadian Tire credit card accounts. Except in limited circumstances, the terms and conditions associated with Mastercard credit cards differ materially from the terms and conditions associated with Canadian Tire credit cards. See “Canadian Tire Bank Credit Card Business”.

Canadian Tire Credit Card Accounts

Canadian Tire credit card accounts were created in connection with the extension of credit by CTB to cardholders on a revolving basis under a Credit Card Agreement to finance the purchase of products and services from Canadian Tire Associate Stores and certain other CTC operations and the making of cash advances to such cardholders.

Eligibility of Accounts

CTS represented and warranted to the Custodian and the Trust that each of the Initial Accounts satisfied, as of March 31, 1995, the criteria set out in (a), (b) and (c), below. In addition, CTS or CTB, as applicable, represented and warranted and CTB will in the future represent and warrant to the Trust that each Additional Account is an Eligible Account on the date that it is added and that each Substituted Account is an Eligible Account on the date that it is substituted (except that the Substituted Account need not comply with paragraph (d) of the definition of Eligible Account). An Eligible Account is a Mastercard credit card account, a Canadian Tire credit card account or an Other Credit Card Account established by or assigned to CTB with an Obligor which, as of a specified date:

- (a) is in existence, maintained and serviced by the Servicer, a sub-servicer delegated responsibility by the Servicer as permitted by the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or a Successor Servicer appointed under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement;
- (b) is an account in respect of which no amounts have been written-off at any time or are classified as past due on the specified date;
- (c) is not identified by the Servicer as being the subject of any voluntary or involuntary bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding; and
- (d) has on the specified date provided to the Servicer a billing address located in Canada.

Interchange

The Seller receives interchange fees from financial institutions and Canadian Tire Retail Outlets for clearing transactions arising under Mastercard credit card accounts and Canadian Tire credit card accounts and as compensation for assuming credit risk and funding receivables for a limited period of time prior to initial billing and may also receive interchange fees from Other Credit Card Accounts. The Seller will transfer to the Servicer on a daily basis the Pool Interchange Amount, representing a portion of the Interchange Fees earned based on the ratio that cardholder purchases, net of returns, related to the Accounts on such day is of cardholder purchases, net of returns, related to all Mastercard credit card accounts, Canadian Tire credit card accounts and any Other Credit Card Accounts in the Seller's portfolio on such day, as reasonably estimated by the Seller. The Account Assets will include the then applicable Pool Interchange Amount.

Deposit of Account Assets with the Custodian

All of CTB's right, title and interest in, to and under the Account Assets has been delivered to and deposited with the Custodian, as agent and bailee for and on behalf of CTB and the Co-Owner(s). In connection with the delivery and deposit of the Account Assets, CTB or CTS, as applicable, was and CTB will in the future be required to indicate in its computer files that its right, title and interest in the Receivables forming part of the Account Assets have been delivered to and deposited with the Custodian. Otherwise, the records and agreements relating to the Account Assets have not and will not be segregated from those relating to other accounts of CTB and the physical documentation relating to the Account Assets has not and will not be stamped or marked to reflect the delivery and deposit of the Account Assets to and with the Custodian. In addition, CTB is required to provide a computer file, microfiche or written list in connection with the addition of any Additional Accounts, the substitution of any Substituted Accounts, the removal of any Removed Accounts and the purging of any Purged Accounts. Ownership of the Accounts and certain records and original agreements relating to the Account Assets will not be delivered to or deposited with the Custodian and Transferred to the Trust. CTB has represented and warranted that it has, or has covenanted that it will, file financing statements and all other applicable registration documentation in accordance with applicable provincial laws to perfect the Transfer of Ownership Interests.

Transfer of Written-Off Accounts

On the date on which an Account becomes a Written-Off Account, all Receivables balances owing under such Written-Off Account at such time shall be included in the Written-Off Amount and, accordingly, are thereafter excluded from the calculation of the Pool Balance. On the date on which an Account becomes a Written-Off Account, all the right, title and interest of the Co-Owners, any Entitled Parties, and the Seller in respect of the Retained Interest in and to (a) the Account Assets in such Written-Off Account and all monies due at such date with respect to such Account Assets (including any Receivables forming part of such Account Assets at such date) but excluding any Recoveries relating thereto and (b) Interchange Fees (if any) with respect to such Account Assets, each as at such date, shall be deemed to be Transferred to the Seller automatically and without any action or consideration, and without recourse, representation or warranty, at which time such Written-Off Account shall cease to be an Account.

Purging of Accounts

The Servicer may designate one or more Accounts (each, a "Designated Purged Account"), which, subject to the following conditions, shall cease to be Accounts on the applicable Purging Date, and remove such Designated Purged Accounts from the list of Accounts delivered pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement:

- (a) each such Designated Purged Account shall have no Receivables outstanding;
- (b) each such Designated Purged Account shall otherwise meet the criteria established in accordance with the Servicer's practices and procedures for purging inactive Accounts, including in circumstances in which the Account has been closed or has been inactive for a designated period of time; and
- (c) the Servicer shall be deemed to represent and warrant as of the applicable Purging Date that the conditions specified in clauses (a) and (b) immediately above have been satisfied with respect to such Designated Purged Accounts.

On the day on which the conditions specified above with respect to a Designated Purged Account are satisfied (a “Purging Date”), such Designated Purged Account shall thereupon cease to be an Account (a “Purged Account”) and upon the written request of the Seller, the Custodian on behalf of all Co-Owners and any Entitled Party shall execute and deliver to the Seller a reassignment of such Person’s interest in the related Account Assets, in form satisfactory to the Seller acting reasonably.

Addition, Substitution and Removal of Accounts

CTB has the right (subject to certain limitations and conditions described below), and in some circumstances is obligated, to designate from time to time additional Mastercard, Canadian Tire and Other Credit Card Accounts to be included as Additional Accounts and to Transfer undivided co-ownership interests in the receivables existing thereunder to the Co-Owners in accordance with the Pooling and Servicing Agreement. Discontinued use of credit cards is normal and naturally leads to attrition in the total balance under the selected Accounts. To offset the impact of such attrition, CTB identifies Additional Accounts for inclusion from time to time, subject to satisfaction of the requirements and conditions for additions of Existing Accounts and New Accounts described under “The Account Assets – Addition, Substitution and Removal of Accounts”. In addition, CTB may substitute Mastercard, Canadian Tire and Other Credit Card Accounts and receivables thereunder for other Mastercard, Canadian Tire or Other Credit Card Accounts (as the case may be) of the same cardholders, such accounts to be included as Substituted Accounts and Receivables. Each such Additional Account and Substituted Account must be, and CTB must confirm to the Custodian by way of an officers’ certificate that such Additional Account or Substituted Account is, an Eligible Account as of the applicable Addition Date or Substitution Date (except that the Substituted Account need not comply with paragraph (d) of the definition of Eligible Account). In respect of any deposit of Account Assets under Additional Accounts or Substituted Accounts, CTB will follow the procedure set forth under “– Deposit of Account Assets with the Custodian”, except that information with respect to such Additional Accounts or Substituted Accounts will be stated as of the date that such Additional Accounts or Substituted Accounts are identified and selected.

Addition of Accounts

CTB may from time to time, at its sole discretion, voluntarily designate Existing Accounts or New Accounts to be included as Additional Accounts on and after the applicable Addition Date and thereupon Transfer to the Co-Owners undivided co-ownership interests in the Account Assets under such Additional Accounts as of the applicable Additional Cut-Off Date, subject to the applicable quantitative limits and other conditions described below under “– Addition, Substitution and Removal of Accounts – Quantitative Limits on Additions” and the satisfaction of the following conditions:

- (a) CTB must have given the Custodian, the Servicer and each Rating Agency an appropriate notice as required under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement;
- (b) the accounts to be added as Additional Accounts must be Eligible Accounts as of the Addition Date;
- (c) to the extent required by the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, the Servicer must have deposited in the Collection Account all Collections with respect to such Additional Accounts since the Additional Cut-Off Date, except if the Servicer is entitled to commingle funds and is not required to make daily deposits of Collections into the Collection Account in the circumstances described under “– Collection Account”;
- (d) as of each of the Additional Cut-Off Date and the Addition Date, CTB must not be or have been insolvent, will not have been made insolvent by the Transfer of undivided co-ownership interests in Account Assets under the Additional Accounts and must not be aware of any pending insolvency;
- (e) the addition of accounts as Additional Accounts must not result in the occurrence of an Amortization Event in respect of any outstanding Series; and

- (f) CTB must have delivered to the Custodian an appropriate officers' certificate.

CTB, by designating any Additional Account, is deemed to have represented and warranted to the Custodian and the Co-Owners as of the applicable Addition Date as to the matters set forth in paragraphs (d) and (e) above and that the list of accounts delivered pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement is, as of the applicable Additional Cut-Off Date, true and complete in all material respects. In addition, on or before January 31st and July 31st of each year, CTB is required to cause to be delivered to the Custodian, each Entitled Party and each Rating Agency an opinion of counsel with respect to the Transfer and perfection of the Transfer of undivided co-ownership interests in the Account Assets under Additional Accounts, if any, added to the pool during the immediately preceding 6 month period.

Quantitative Limits on Additions

Unless the Rating Agency Condition has been satisfied or except to the extent provided in the next following paragraph, CTB may voluntarily designate an Existing Account to be added as an Additional Account on an Addition Date only if the balance of the Receivables on the Additional Cut-Off Date under such Existing Account, together with the balance of the Receivables on such Additional Cut-Off Date under other Existing Accounts added as Additional Accounts on the same Addition Date, and the balance on the respective Additional Cut-Off Dates of the Receivables under Existing Accounts previously added as Additional Accounts (including in the circumstances described under “– Addition, Substitution and Removal of Accounts – Mandatory Additions of Accounts”) during:

- (a) the 3 preceding Determination Periods, does not exceed 30.0% of the Pool Balance on such Additional Cut-Off Date; and
- (b) the 12 preceding Determination Periods, does not exceed 40.0% of the Pool Balance on such Additional Cut-Off Date.

In addition to the foregoing, CTB may voluntarily designate a New Account to be added as an Additional Account on an Addition Date, only if the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) in respect of proposed additions in any 3 consecutive Determination Periods commencing in January, April, July and October of a calendar year, CTB shall have requested each Rating Agency to notify, and each Rating Agency shall have notified, CTB, the Servicer and the Custodian of any additional limitations to the right of CTB to designate New Accounts as Additional Accounts during such 3 consecutive Determination Periods, and CTB shall comply with such limitations; and
- (b) the balance of the Receivables on the Additional Cut-Off Date under such New Account together with the balance of the Receivables on such Additional Cut-Off Date under other New Accounts that are added as Additional Accounts on the same Addition Date, and the balance on the respective Additional Cut-Off Dates of Receivables under New Accounts that were previously added as Additional Accounts during:
 - (i) the 3 preceding Determination Periods, does not exceed 15.0% of the Pool Balance on such Additional Cut-Off Date; and
 - (ii) the 12 preceding Determination Periods, does not exceed 20.0% of the Pool Balance on such Additional Cut-Off Date.

On or before January 31st, April 30th, July 31st and October 31st of each year, the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the Notes must be satisfied with respect to the addition of all New Accounts that have been added as Additional Accounts during the 3 consecutive Determination Periods ending in the calendar month prior to such date. If the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the Notes is not so satisfied in respect of the addition of New Accounts, CTB will, until the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the Notes is satisfied, no longer be permitted to voluntarily designate New Accounts as Additional Accounts under the preceding paragraph.

Mandatory Additions of Accounts

If, as of the close of business on a Determination Day, the Pool Balance is less than the Required Pool Amount as determined on the following Calculation Day (after giving effect to the calculations, allocations, distributions and adjustments to be made on such Calculation Day), CTB is required under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement to add Existing Accounts and receivables thereunder as Additional Accounts and Receivables not later than 10 days after such Calculation Day so that, after the addition of such Additional Accounts and the Receivables thereunder, the Pool Balance as of the close of business on the Addition Date is at least equal to the Required Pool Amount on such date. CTB shall satisfy the conditions applicable to the addition of Additional Accounts in respect of any additions required to be made, but shall not be subject to the quantitative limits described above in respect of such additions. The failure of CTB to Transfer undivided co-ownership interests in Account Assets to the Co-Owners solely as a result of the unavailability of a sufficient amount of receivables will not constitute a breach of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, but may result in the occurrence of an amortization event in respect of a Series if and when the related Series Purchase Agreement so provides.

Substitution of Accounts

Subject to the conditions described below, CTB may from time to time, (i) replace the Canadian Tire credit card account of an Obligor with a Mastercard credit card account or Other Credit Card Account and credit the Obligor's Canadian Tire credit card account in the amount of the outstanding balance of Receivables thereunder on a specified date (the "Substitution Date") and debit the Obligor's Mastercard credit card account or Other Credit Card Account (as the case may be) in the same amount, (ii) replace the Mastercard credit card account of an Obligor with a Canadian Tire credit card account or Other Credit Card Account and credit the Obligor's Mastercard credit card account in the amount of the outstanding balance of Receivables thereunder on the Substitution Date and debit the Obligor's Canadian Tire credit card account or Other Credit Card Account (as the case may be) in the same amount, (iii) replace the Other Credit Card Account of an Obligor with a Mastercard credit card account or Canadian Tire credit card account and credit the Obligor's Other Credit Card Account in the amount of the outstanding balance of Receivables thereunder on the Substitution Date and debit the Obligor's Mastercard credit card account or Canadian Tire credit card account (as the case may be) in the same amount, and (iv) establish or re-establish a Mastercard credit card account, a Canadian Tire credit card account or an Other Credit Card Account, as the case may be, in favour of an Obligor in addition to an existing credit card account of the Obligor which is included on the Substitution Date as an Account and credit such credit card account in an amount up to the outstanding balance of Receivables thereunder on a specified date and debit the Obligor's Mastercard credit card account, Canadian Tire credit card account or Other Credit Card Account, as the case may be, in the same amount. Prior to or at the time of such substitution, CTB must designate the Obligor whose Mastercard, Canadian Tire or Other Credit Card Account, as the case may be, will be included as an Account (each such account, a "Substituted Account") as of the Substitution Date and on the Substitution Date the following conditions must be satisfied:

- (a) the Substituted Account must be an Eligible Account on the Substitution Date (except that the Substituted Account need not comply with paragraph (d) of the definition of Eligible Account);
- (b) as of the Substitution Date CTB must not be insolvent and must not be aware of any pending insolvency; and
- (c) the inclusion of such Substituted Account must not result in the occurrence of an amortization event in respect of any outstanding Series.

CTB will be required to deliver to the Custodian on or before the seventh day after the last Business Day of a month during which any substitution is made, a computer file or written list with respect to the Substituted Accounts substituted during the month and an appropriate officers' certificate. In addition, on or before January 31st and July 31st of each year, CTB must cause to be delivered to the Custodian, each Entitled Party and each Rating Agency an opinion of counsel with respect to the Transfer and perfection of the Transfer of undivided co-ownership interests in the Account Assets under Substituted Accounts, if any, substituted during the immediately preceding 6 month period.

In addition, on or before January 31st, April 30th, July 31st and October 31st of each year, the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the Notes must be satisfied with respect to the substitution of all Substituted Accounts that have been substituted as Substituted Accounts during the 3 consecutive Determination Periods ending in the calendar month prior to such date. If the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the Notes is not so satisfied in respect of such Substituted Accounts, CTB will, until the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the Notes is satisfied, no longer be permitted to designate and substitute Substituted Accounts.

The designation and inclusion of a Substituted Account and the replacement of the related Mastercard, Canadian Tire or Other Credit Card Account, as the case may be, will not otherwise be subject to the limitations and conditions applicable to the addition of Additional Accounts or the removal of Accounts under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement.

Removal of Accounts

CTB has the right under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement to randomly designate Accounts to be removed and to cease Transferring undivided co-ownership interests in the Account Assets under such Accounts, provided that the Pool Balance would equal or exceed the Required Pool Amount after the removal and the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) CTB must deliver an appropriate notice (the “Removal Notice”) to the Custodian and each Rating Agency, designating the Account or Accounts to be removed (the “Designated Accounts”) specifying the account number of the Designated Accounts and the date on and after which CTB will cease Transferring to the Co-Owners undivided co-ownership interests in receivables arising under such Designated Accounts (the “Removal Commencement Date”), not less than 5 Business Days before the Removal Commencement Date;
- (b) CTB must determine, on or before the seventh day after the last Business Day of a week during which a Removal Commencement Date occurs, the outstanding balance of Receivables under each Designated Account as of the Removal Commencement Date (the “Designated Balance”) and deliver to the Custodian on the same day a list of the account numbers of such Designated Accounts and the Designated Balance of each Designated Account;
- (c) CTB must represent and warrant to the Custodian on or before the seventh day after the last Business Day of a week during which a Removal Commencement Date occurs that the removal of the Designated Accounts on the Removal Date does not and will not, in the reasonable belief of CTB, cause an amortization event in respect of any outstanding Series to occur or cause the Pool Balance to be less than the Required Pool Amount;
- (d) on or before the fifth Business Day after the Removal Date, CTB must amend the Pooling and Servicing Agreement by delivering to the Custodian a list of the Removed Accounts, and must represent and warrant to the Custodian as of the Removal Date that such list of Removed Accounts is, as of the Removal Date, true and complete in all material respects;
- (e) the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the Notes must have been satisfied in respect of the removal of the Designated Accounts; and
- (f) on or before the fifth Business Day after the Removal Date, CTB must deliver to the Custodian an appropriate officers’ certificate.

In addition to the general provisions relating to the random designation and removal of Accounts, the Pooling and Servicing Agreement permits CTB, without any requirement to provide notice to the Custodian, any Co-Owner, any Entitled Party or any Rating Agency, or the satisfaction of any pre-conditions, other than the requirement to maintain the Required Pool Amount and the quantitative limits set out in (c) and, if applicable, (d), below, to do either or both of the following:

- (a) randomly designate one or more Designated Accounts and cease Transferring undivided co-ownership interests in the Account Assets under such Accounts on and after a specified Removal Commencement Date; and
- (b) randomly designate one or more Designated Accounts and pay on behalf of the Obligors the outstanding balance of Receivables under any of such Designated Accounts, or, subject to the limitations described in (d), purchase Receivables thereunder, in each case by depositing cash in an amount equal to the outstanding balance of Receivables under such Designated Accounts into the Collection Account on or prior to the second Business Day after the Removal Commencement Date (except if the Servicer is entitled to commingle funds and is not required to make daily deposits of Collections into the Collection Account in the circumstances described under “–Collection Account”), and such amount will be allocated among the Co-Owner(s) and CTB, as the owner of the Retained Interest, as if such amount had been paid by the Obligors under the Designated Accounts and formed part of the Collections on the date paid, provided that:

- (a) the outstanding balance of Receivables under each Designated Account so designated, together with the outstanding balance of Receivables under all other Accounts designated under (a) and (b), above and Accounts removed on the basis described in the next paragraph, on the same date, and the outstanding balance on the respective Removal Commencement Dates of Receivables under all other Accounts previously designated under (a) and (b), above and Accounts removed on the basis described in the next paragraph, during the previous 12 Determination Periods, may not exceed 5.0% of the Pool Balance on the day the Designated Account is so designated; and
- (b) the outstanding balance of Receivables under each Designated Account which are purchased under (b), above together with the outstanding balance of Receivables under all other Designated Accounts which are purchased under (b), above and Accounts purchased on the basis described in the next paragraph, on the same date, and the outstanding balance on the respective Removal Commencement Dates of Receivables under all other Designated Accounts which were previously purchased under (b), above and Accounts purchased on the basis described in the next paragraph, after the Closing Date may not exceed 5.0% of the Pool Balance on the day the Designated Account is so designated.

In addition to the foregoing, if an Obligor under an Account independently requests that the Servicer transfer, or cause the transfer of, the balance owing thereunder to a credit card account established by CTB which is not at the time of the request an “Account”, such Account will, subject to satisfaction of the conditions set forth below, automatically become a “Removed Account” and, accordingly, will cease to be an “Account”:

- (a) the outstanding balance of the Receivables owing under an Account that would cease to be an “Account” would not, when added together with the outstanding balances of the Receivables contemplated by (c) and, if purchased by CTB, (d), above, at the relevant time, exceed the quantitative limits contemplated by (c) and (d) applicable at such time;
- (b) the Transfer, if completed, would not result in a Pool Balance being reduced below the Required Pool Amount; and
- (c) CTB will have deposited cash into the Collection Account in an amount equal to the outstanding balance of the Receivables owing under an Account that would cease to be an “Account”.

Except if paid or repurchased pursuant to (b), above, all Account Assets originated in Designated Accounts prior to the applicable Removal Commencement Date will, on and after such Removal Commencement Date, continue to be Account Assets in which the Co-Owner(s) and CTB will, until paid, have their respective undivided co-ownership interests. On and after the applicable Removal Commencement Date, amounts collected from an Obligor under a Designated Account will be divided by the Servicer between the Co-Owner(s) and CTB, on the one hand in respect of their interest in the Designated Balance, and CTB, on the other hand in respect of its interest in the receivables originating under the Designated Account after the Removal Commencement Date, in each case on the following basis:

- (a) first, to the Co-Owner(s) and CTB, on the one hand, and to CTB, on the other hand, according to their respective interests in and to Credit Charge Receivables billed under the Account on and after the Removal Commencement Date on the basis of amounts owing to them, respectively, under the Designated Account;
- (b) second, to the payment of the oldest Receivable outstanding under such Designated Account; and
- (c) third, the balance, if any, to CTB in respect of receivables originated under the Designated Account on and after the Removal Commencement Date.

On the day after the day on which distributions of Collections from a Designated Account on and after the Removal Commencement Date equal the Designated Balance of such Designated Account, together with Credit Charge Receivables, Recoveries and Pool Losses, if any, allocated in respect of the Account based on the declining amount of the Designated Balance, or the amount of Receivables which constitute Account Assets in any Removed Account is repaid or repurchased (in each case, the “Removal Date” for the related Designated Account), the Custodian is required, upon the written request of CTB, to execute and deliver to CTB a reassignment in form reasonably satisfactory to CTB with respect to such Designated Account. After execution and delivery of the reassignment, the Designated Account will be a Removed Account and will therefore cease to be an Account subject to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement.

Mandatory Reassignment

The Seller has made certain representations and warranties in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement relating to, among other things, the Account Assets. The Servicer has also made certain representations, warranties and covenants relating to the Account Assets. If certain of these representations and warranties of the Seller or the Servicer with respect to any Account Assets are found to have been incorrect when made and such incorrect representations or warranties have a material adverse effect on an outstanding Series and continue to be incorrect or unremedied, and continue to have such a material adverse effect, for a period of 30 Business Days after delivery by the Custodian or the Issuer Trustee of written notice to CTB, then, subject to certain conditions specified in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, CTB is required to purchase affected Ownership Interests or such affected Account Assets on or before the expiry of such 30 Business Day period. If CTB, in its capacity as Servicer, fails to comply with certain covenants with respect to any Account Asset and such non-compliance has a material adverse effect on an outstanding Series and continues unremedied for a period of 30 Business Days after delivery by the Custodian or the Issuer Trustee of written notice thereof to CTB, then, subject to certain conditions specified in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, CTB is required to purchase such affected Account Assets on or before the expiry of such 30 Business Day period. In the event of a transfer of servicing obligations to a Successor Servicer, such Successor Servicer, rather than CTB, would be responsible for any failure to comply with the Servicer’s covenants and any breach of the Servicer’s representations and warranties arising thereafter.

Collection Account

Under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, the Servicer has established and is required to maintain an Eligible Deposit Account (which, in the case of the Collection Account means a segregated account that satisfies all the criteria applicable to an Eligible Deposit Account set forth in each Series Purchase Agreement) in the name of the Custodian. The Custodian holds the amounts in the Collection Account in trust for the Co-Owner(s) and CTB and, upon the direction of the Servicer, distributes amounts from the Collection Account to the Co-Owner(s) and CTB as described under “Series of Ownership Interests – Distributions to the Trust in Respect of a Series of Ownership Interests” and “– Availability of Collections Allocable But Not Distributed to Other Series”.

Collections will be deposited into the Collection Account by the Servicer, except in the circumstances and at the times described below. As Servicer, CTB will be obligated to deposit into the Collection Account Collections within two Business Days of receipt of such Collections, but only to the extent that such Collections are required for distribution to one or more Co-Owners, in each case as specified or determined in accordance with the Series' Distribution Notice. Amounts deposited into the Collection Account will thereafter be deposited into the applicable Series Accumulations Account or other related Series Accounts, as applicable, the Eligible Deposit Accounts established in respect of other Series and otherwise distributed to CTB in respect of the Retained Interest or held unallocated, in each case based upon the respective entitlements to receive allocations and distributions of Collections under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and each related Series Purchase Agreement. As the Servicer, CTB collects and administers the Receivables as agent for and on behalf of the Co-Owner(s) and CTB.

As Servicer, CTB will be obligated to deposit into the Collection Account those Collections which are required for distribution to Co-Owner(s) in respect of all outstanding Series within two Business Days of the applicable date of processing. However, if

- (a) CTB is a majority-owned subsidiary of CTC,
- (b) CTB remains the Servicer, and
- (c) CTB satisfies the additional conditions and requirements specified in one or more Series Purchase Agreements or Additional Property Agreements,

CTB will be permitted to commingle Collections otherwise required to be deposited in respect of a Series in the Collection Account with its general funds until the Business Day prior to the relevant payment or specified deposit date (each as specified in the Distribution Notice of such Series).

Unless otherwise specified in a Series Purchase Agreement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement) in respect of a Series, such additional conditions and requirements shall be that no Servicer Termination Event or Amortization Event has occurred and is continuing, no Series is in its amortization period and either

- (i) CTC or another Person guarantees the obligations of CTB as Servicer and CTC or such other Person maintains a rating from each Rating Agency then rating its securities equivalent to at least
 - (x) an R-1(low) short-term unsecured debt rating from DBRS,
 - (y) if S&P is rating any of the Notes, an A-1+ short-term unsecured debt rating from S&P; and,
 - (z) if rated by Fitch and Fitch is rating any of the Notes, a long-term unsecured debt rating of A and a short-term unsecured debt rating of F1 from Fitch, or if not rated by Fitch, the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied in respect of Fitch and Fitch shall not have indicated that it intends to, or has downgraded, any series of Notes (or such other ratings as may be provided in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement), or
- (ii) CTB arranges for and maintains a letter of credit in favour of the Custodian from an Eligible Institution in an amount equal to at least 18.0% of the Pool Balance, or a continuing performance guarantee from a Person meeting specified Rating Agency requirements.

Based on satisfaction of such requirements, CTB may make deposits as required directly into the related Series Accumulations Account and the accumulations accounts and other Eligible Deposit Accounts established for other outstanding Series, in each case by 12:00 noon Toronto time on the Business Day on which the deposit is required to be made. As at the date of this Prospectus, CTC has no short-term ratings from DBRS, Fitch and S&P. Accordingly, and as CTB has not arranged for the letter of credit or performance guarantee referred to in clause (ii) above, CTB will not, as of the date hereof, be permitted to commingle Collections required to be deposited in respect of a Series. CTB may be permitted to commingle Collections required to be deposited in respect of other Series if it satisfies commingling conditions set forth for such Series. If CTB commingles any excess Collections, as permitted under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, but is required to comply with the Partial Commingling Condition, and the daily asset test described in paragraph (a) of the definition of Partial Commingling Condition indicates that the Pool Balance is less than the Required Pool Amount on such Business Day, then the Servicer will thereafter deposit Collections into the Collection Account not later than the second Business Day after the applicable date of processing, and no payment will be made to the Seller with respect to its Retained Interest until the Pool Balance is at least equal to the Required Pool Amount or an Amortization Event has occurred, in which case the Seller will only receive payments with respect to its Retained Interest in accordance with the provisions of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or the Series Purchase Agreement that apply upon the occurrence of an Amortization Event. If CTB is not permitted to commingle Collections required to be deposited in respect of a Series, but is permitted to commingle deposits in respect of other outstanding Series, then, despite the general requirement to deposit Collections into the Collection Account described above, the Servicer will be required to deposit Collections required to be deposited in respect of that Series directly into the related Series Accumulations Account on the day that such deposits would otherwise have been made into the Collection Account.

The Series Liquidation Principal Funding Accounts

With respect to a Series, the Custodian is required to establish and maintain an Eligible Deposit Account in the name of the Custodian to serve as its Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account.

The Custodian, upon the direction of the Servicer, is required to deposit such amounts as set forth in the Distribution Notice for a Series into the applicable Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account. The Custodian shall hold such deposited amounts (subject to investment in Eligible Investments) until the earlier of (a) the Business Day immediately prior to the Expected Repayment Date and (b) the Amortization Commencement Day, in each case, for such Series, at which time all amounts on deposit shall be transferred by the Custodian into the related Series Accumulations Account and applied, together with other amounts on deposit therein, to make the payments described herein in “Details of the Offering – The Notes – Repayment of Principal”. See “Series of Ownership Interests – Distributions to the Trust in respect of a Series of Ownership Interests – During the Liquidation Period”.

The Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Accounts

With respect to a Series, the Custodian is required to establish and maintain an Eligible Deposit Account in the name of the Custodian to serve as its Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account.

In respect of a Series, the Custodian, upon the direction of the Servicer, is required to withdraw from the Collection Account and deposit to the applicable Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account the Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account Available Collections during the Pre-Liquidation Reserve Period until the amount deposited to such Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account in respect of this requirement is equal to 0.50% (or such other percentage specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement) of the initial Invested Amount of such Series. The amount so deposited in respect of a Series will be held in the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account, unless withdrawn for deposit to the related Series Accumulations Account, until the Yield Reserve Termination Date, at which time such amounts shall be released to the Seller in respect of the Retained Interest.

In respect of a Series, funds in each Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account will be available during the Liquidation Period and the Amortization Period, if applicable, to the extent of the lesser of (a) the balance on deposit in the applicable Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account and (b) an amount equal to the Ownership Income Share (without taking into account the references to the Required Yield Reserve Deposit Amount and the applicable Series Liquidation Yield Draw Amount in the definition thereof) minus the Ownership Income Source (if the Ownership Income Source is greater than zero; otherwise, the Ownership Income Source shall be deemed to be zero), each as of the applicable Determination Day. See “Series of Ownership Interests – Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Accounts”.

THE CUSTODIAL, CO-OWNERSHIP AND SERVICING ARRANGEMENT

Custodial Arrangement

Pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, all of the Seller's present and future right, title and interest in the Account Assets has been delivered to and deposited with the Custodian and the terms upon which the Seller would sell from time to time Ownership Interests in Series and Classes have been established. The Pooling and Servicing Agreement also sets out certain common provisions relating to the attributes of Ownership Interests of all Series and the attributes of the Retained Interest, including the method for allocating Credit Charge Receivables, Recoveries and Pool Losses and for allocating Collections among Series and the Retained Interest and the other terms and conditions of the custodial, co-ownership and servicing arrangements described in this Prospectus. CTB and the Trust have appointed the Custodian to act as agent and bailee to hold their respective interests in the Account Assets and, if applicable, Additional Property, and to perform certain other duties on their behalf.

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that each Co-Owner and CTB, as the owner of the Retained Interest, will pay the Custodian reasonable compensation for all services rendered by the Custodian and will reimburse the Custodian for all reasonable expenses incurred in the exercise and performance of its duties under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement.

The Custodian

The Custodian appointed under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement is Computershare. The Custodian's corporate trust office is at 100 University Avenue, 11th Floor, North Tower, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2Y1. Under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, the Custodian, as agent and bailee for the Co-Owner(s) and CTB, is required to hold the Account Assets and to perform the duties which are specifically set out in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, including reviewing reports and certificates required to be delivered by the Servicer to ensure that they substantially conform in form to the requirements of the agreement and notifying the Issuer Trustee if an Amortization Event occurs.

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement sets out eligibility requirements relating to the Custodian to be satisfied on an on-going basis, including that the Custodian must at all times (a) either be a Schedule I chartered bank or a trust company or insurance company organized and doing business under the laws of Canada or any province thereof, and, in each case, (b) be authorized under applicable law to exercise corporate trust powers, (c) have a combined capital and surplus of at least $50,000,000, (d) have a rating of at least AA(low) (long-term) and R-1 (middle) (short-term) from DBRS if DBRS is a Rating Agency and an investment grade rating from each other Rating Agency or have its duties, responsibilities and obligations as Custodian guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee substantially in the form provided in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or otherwise be acceptable to each Rating Agency or the appointment of such Custodian shall satisfy the Rating Agency Condition and (e) be subject to supervision or examination by federal or provincial authorities. The Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that CTB, as the owner of the Retained Interest, and the Co-Owner(s) may remove the Custodian and appoint a successor Custodian if, among other things, the Custodian ceases to be eligible in accordance with the provisions of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and fails to resign voluntarily. The Custodian may also resign at any time, in which event CTB, as the owner of the Retained Interest, and the Co-Owner(s) will be obligated to appoint a successor Custodian. If they do not, the Servicer may apply to a court for the appointment of a successor Custodian. Any resignation or removal of the Custodian and appointment of a successor Custodian does not become effective until the acceptance of the appointment by the successor Custodian. As of the date hereof, Computershare is unrated by each of DBRS, Fitch and S&P, however the appointment of such Custodian is consistent with each Rating Agency's criteria.

Sale of Other Series

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that, pursuant to one or more Series Purchase Agreements, CTB may, subject to satisfying certain conditions as described below, Transfer one or more Series to Persons who are from time to time Co-Owners. Ownership Interests of other Series may be sold to the Trust and to other Persons, including directly to individual investors in accordance with applicable securities legislation. If additional Series are created and sold, the Trust, each other Co-Owner and CTB will each have an undivided co-ownership interest in the same Account Assets. The Trust may purchase other Ownership Interests with the proceeds of notes or other obligations issued under, or otherwise permitted by, the Trust Indenture from time to time.

A Series Purchase Agreement relating to a new Series may specify, among other things, with respect to the new Series: (a) its name or designation, (b) its initial invested amount (or method for calculating such amount), (c) subject to the general allocation provisions in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, its entitlement to be allocated and to receive distributions of Collections, (d) the related revolving period, liquidation period and amortization events, the occurrence of which could lead to the commencement of the related amortization period, (e) the distribution date or dates and the date or dates from which entitlements to distributions of amounts in respect of the Series shall be made, (f) subject to the general allocation provisions in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, the basis for allocating Credit Charge Receivables, Recoveries and Pool Losses to the Co-Owner(s) of such Series, (g) servicing fees and certain other fees, if applicable, (h) the terms of any Additional Property with respect to such Series and the name of any Entitled Party under the related Additional Property Agreement, (i) the enhancement amount or manner of calculating the enhancement amount for such Series, (j) the attributes of one or more Classes within such Series, (k) the extent to which Additional Property may be substituted for the enhancement amount or any other credit enhancement provided in respect of such Series, (l) if the Series is evidenced by certificates, the terms on which the certificates of such Series or Classes within such Series may be exchanged, purchased by CTB or remarketed to other Co-Owner(s), and (m) any other terms permitted by the Pooling and Servicing Agreement (all such terms, the “Principal Terms” of such Series). Subject to the conditions set forth below, there is no limit to the number of different Series that may be created and Transferred under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and Series Purchase Agreements of such Series.

Each Series may have an amortization period or liquidation period that has a different length and begins on a different date than the amortization period or liquidation period for other Series. As a result, one or more Series may be in their amortization periods or liquidation periods while other Series are not. Thus, Collections may be distributed to certain Series that are amortizing or liquidating, while other Series are in their Revolving Periods. Under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, the entitlement to receive amounts derived from any Additional Property will only be available to the particular Series (or a particular Class within a Series) to which the Additional Property relates.

Under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and pursuant to a Series Purchase Agreement, a new Series may be created and Transferred only upon satisfaction of the following conditions: (a) at least five Business Days in advance of the applicable Closing Date, CTB shall have given the Custodian, the Servicer and each Rating Agency, among others, notice of the proposed creation and Transfer and the anticipated Closing Date, (b) CTB shall have delivered to the Custodian the related Series Purchase Agreement in form satisfactory to the Custodian signed by each party thereto other than the Custodian and specifying the Principal Terms of such Series, (c) CTB shall have delivered to the Custodian each related Additional Property Agreement, if any, signed by each party thereto, if applicable, (d) the Custodian shall have received an opinion of counsel as to certain specified matters, (e) satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the Notes, (f) CTB shall have delivered to the Custodian, among others, an officer’s certificate to the effect that CTB reasonably believes that such Transfer will not result in the occurrence of an amortization event with respect to any Series and is not reasonably expected to result in the occurrence of such an amortization event at any time in the future, and (g) after giving effect to such Transfer, the Pool Balance will not be less than the Required Pool Amount and CTB will have delivered to the Custodian, among others, an officers’ certificate to such effect. Upon satisfaction of all such conditions that are applicable in the circumstances and the payment of the consideration for the new Series to CTB, the Custodian is required to execute the related Series Purchase Agreement as agent for and on behalf of the Co-Owner(s).

Additional Ownership Interests of Other Series

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that, if permitted pursuant to an applicable Series Purchase Agreement, the invested amount of a Series may be increased upon the purchase by the Co-Owner(s) of such Series of an Additional Ownership Interest. Subject to the terms of the Trust Indenture and the Series Supplement, the Trust may purchase an Additional Ownership Interest by issuing additional Senior Notes and/or additional Subordinated Notes. The conditions, if any, relating to the Transfer of Additional Ownership Interests of a Series will be set out in the related Series Purchase Agreement. The Transfer of an Additional Ownership Interest in relation to a Series will be subject to several pre-conditions, including satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the related series of Notes and that such Transfer will not result in the occurrence of an amortization event with respect to any outstanding Series or Class or materially adversely affect the amount or timing of distributions to be made in respect of Ownership Interests of any outstanding Series or Class. Upon the Transfer of an Additional Ownership Interest, the unadjusted invested amount of the related Series will be increased by the stated dollar amount of the Additional Ownership Interest.

The Series Purchase Agreement for a Series will provide that Additional Ownership Interests of the Series may be Transferred to the Trust to facilitate the reduction or substitution of the Enhancement Amount, subject to the conditions described under “Series of Ownership Interests – Description of Series of Ownership Interests – Additional and Substitute Enhancements”. A separate class of notes within the same series as a series of Notes, but ranking subordinated thereto, may be issued and sold in order to reduce the Enhancement Amount or in replacement of or substitution for Additional Property for such Series, subject to satisfaction of the conditions described under “Series of Ownership Interests – Description of Series of Ownership Interests – Additional and Substitute Enhancements”. Except if otherwise provided in accordance with the general amending provisions of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, as the same may be modified by the related Series Purchase Agreement, the attributes of such Series may not be altered as a result of the Transfer of Additional Ownership Interests in respect of such Series.

Certificated Issues

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that Ownership Interests of a Series or Class may be evidenced by certificates in bearer form or in fully registered form (including, without limitation, any uncertificated Series or Class which is registered in the certificate register to be maintained by the Custodian), in each case if so provided in the related Series Purchase Agreement. A Series Purchase Agreement will not provide for the issuance of certificates to evidence the existence thereof.

The Required Pool Amount

The Required Pool Amount on any Determination Day is an amount equal to at least the sum of (a) all amounts, each of which is the product of (i) the invested amount of a Series and (ii) the Required Pool Percentage for such Series on such day, plus (b) the sum of the enhancement amounts in respect of all outstanding Series on such day. The Required Pool Percentage for a Series is 107% (or such other percentage as specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement and as set out in the applicable pricing supplement). If the Pool Balance is less than the Required Pool Amount on any Determination Day, CTB is obligated to add Additional Accounts and Receivables thereunder to the pool until the Pool Balance equals or exceeds the Required Pool Amount. See “The Account Assets – Addition, Substitution and Removal of Accounts – Mandatory Additions of Accounts”. If, in these circumstances, CTB fails to add Additional Accounts with sufficient Receivables within a specified period of time, a Series Amortization Event in respect of each outstanding Series will result. In addition, certain rights of CTB under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement may not be exercised if, at the time or as a result of such exercise, the Pool Balance would be less than the Required Pool Amount.

The Retained Interest

The balance of the interest in the Account Assets other than the Ownership Interests of all outstanding Series constitutes the Retained Interest owned by CTB. The dollar amount of the Retained Interest is calculated as the remainder of the Pool Balance after deducting the sum of the Invested Amounts of all of the outstanding Series. The dollar value of the Retained Interest at any time must be maintained at not less than the Required Pool Amount less the sum of the Invested Amounts for all outstanding Series.

Additional and Substitute Sellers

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that, in addition to the Transfer to the Co-Owner(s) of undivided co-ownership interests in Account Assets by CTB, CTB may designate an affiliated Person or other Person satisfying specified eligibility criteria as an Additional Seller to the Co-Owner(s) of undivided co-ownership interests in Account Assets. Such designation will be set out in, and the Transfer of undivided co-ownership interests in receivables originating under Eligible Accounts specified as Accounts and any related transactions will be effected under, a supplement to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement (which supplement will be subject to the general amending provisions of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement to the extent that it amends any of the terms of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement). Each Additional Seller will retain a “Supplemental Interest” reflecting such Additional Seller’s ownership interest in the Retained Interest. Such Supplemental Interest will constitute full consideration to the Additional Seller for its Transfer to the Co-Owner(s) and any other Seller or Sellers of undivided co-ownership interests in such receivables. The addition of Additional Sellers and Accounts under which such Additional Sellers originate Receivables will be conditional upon satisfaction of the conditions set out in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement with respect to the creation and Transfer of additional Series, including the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the related Notes. In addition, the Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that the obligations of CTB and any Additional Seller may be assumed by a designated Person, subject to satisfaction of several conditions, including the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the related Notes.

The purpose of these provisions is to provide flexibility to CTB in structuring, developing and operating its credit card business. References in this Prospectus to CTB include additional and substitute Sellers, if and to the extent that the reference relates to an obligation, representation, warranty, status or entitlement of CTB in its capacity as a “Seller” under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement.

Termination of Custodial Arrangement

The custodial arrangement pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement will terminate on the day following the Calculation Day on which the sum of the Invested Amounts for all Series is zero and no other amounts are distributable to the Co-Owner(s) in respect of any Ownership Interest pursuant to any Series Purchase Agreement and CTB notifies the Custodian that no further Ownership Interests are intended to be created and sold pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement. Upon the termination of the custodial arrangement, all right, title and interest in the Account Assets and other funds held by the Custodian (other than amounts in the Collection Account, any accumulations account or other deposit account established in respect of a Series, required for the final distribution of amounts to the Co-Owner(s)) will be delivered to CTB in respect of the Retained Interest.

Servicing of the Receivables

Under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, CTB (as assignee of CTS) has been appointed the Servicer of the Account Assets. The Pooling and Servicing Agreement requires that the Servicer use its best efforts to service and administer the Account Assets, collect all Collections, make all required distributions, transfers and deposits, maintain records with respect to the Accounts and the Receivables, make calculations and adjustments to each outstanding Series in accordance with the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and the related Series Purchase Agreements and report on such calculations to the Custodian and CTB at the time prescribed in such Series Purchase Agreements.

The Servicer may, in the ordinary course of its business, delegate some or all of its duties as Servicer to any Person that agrees to perform those duties in accordance with the Pooling and Servicing Agreement. Such delegation will not relieve the Servicer of its liability and responsibility for the performance of those duties and will not constitute a resignation of the Servicer.

Servicing Compensation and Payment of Expenses

CTB, as Seller and Servicer, has agreed that the consideration received by it for each Series, as and when sold by CTB, constitutes compensation in full for services rendered in its capacity as Servicer and reimbursement of expenses incurred by it in such capacity. CTB, as Servicer, has agreed pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement to pay certain expenses incurred in connection with servicing the Account Assets, including the payment of the fees and expenses of any Successor Servicer, payment of reasonable fees and disbursements of independent accountants and all other expenses incurred by the Servicer or Successor Servicer, as the case may be, in connection with its activities under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and including all other fees and expenses relating to the Account Assets not expressly stated therein to be for the account of the Co-Owner(s).

No Co-Owner, including the Trust, has any obligation to collect the Receivables or to pay compensation to CTB or any Successor Servicer. If a Successor Servicer is appointed, CTB, as Seller and Servicer, is required to reimburse the Custodian for the additional servicing fees and expenses, if any, and the Custodian is entitled to deduct such additional fees and expenses, if any, from monies otherwise to be distributed to the owner of the Retained Interest. If CTB fails to pay the fees and expenses of a Successor Servicer or the Custodian is unable to deduct those amounts from monies to be distributed to the owner of the Retained Interest, a portion of such fees and expenses will be borne by each of the Co-Owner(s).

Servicer Termination Events

A Servicer Termination Event will be deemed to have occurred in respect of each outstanding Series if one or more of the events specified as a “servicer termination event” in a Series Purchase Agreement for an outstanding Series occurs, including all required notices having been delivered and grace periods having elapsed and the requisite number of Co-Owners specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement having not waived the servicer termination event.

With respect to a Series, unless otherwise specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement and set out in the related pricing supplement, the following events are the “servicer termination events” specified in the related Series Purchase Agreement for and in respect of each Series related to a series of Notes issued under this Prospectus:

- (a) the Servicer fails to make any distribution, transfer or deposit required in respect of such Series and such failure continues for a period of 5 Business Days, or the Servicer fails to observe or perform any covenant or agreement contained in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or the related Series Purchase Agreement, if such failure has a material adverse effect on the ability of the Trust to satisfy its obligations to holders of the related Senior Notes or Subordinated Notes and continues unremedied for a period of 30 Business Days after delivery by the Custodian or the Issuer Trustee of written notice thereof to the Servicer;
- (b) any representation or warranty made by the Servicer in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or the related Series Purchase Agreement, is found to have been incorrect when made or any information required to be given by the Servicer is found to have been incorrect when given, and such incorrect representation, warranty or information has a material adverse effect on the ability of the Trust to satisfy its obligations to holders of the related Senior Notes or Subordinated Notes and continues to be incorrect or unremedied for a period of 30 Business Days after delivery by the Custodian or the Issuer Trustee of written notice thereof to the Servicer;
- (c) subject to certain permitted reorganizations, the occurrence of certain events of bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or liquidation with respect to the Servicer;
- (d) subject to certain permitted reorganizations and to the permitted arrangements described under “– Additional and Substitute Sellers”, CTB, if then the Servicer, withdraws from the revolving credit card business; and
- (e) if CTB is the Servicer and a Standby Servicer and an Independent Investment Advisor have been appointed and have agreed to act in the circumstances described under “– Appointment of a Standby Servicer and an Independent Investment Advisor”, the Independent Investment Advisor notifies the Trust, the Administrator and CTB in writing that:
 - (i) in its reasonable opinion, there has been a material adverse change in the financial condition or operation of CTB that is reasonably likely to result in CTB being unable to pay its liabilities as they become due within 90 days of the date on which the Independent Investment Advisor becomes aware of such material adverse change; and
 - (ii) as a result of such material adverse change, the Independent Investment Advisor believes that it is in the best interests of Noteholders that CTB be replaced as the Servicer by the

and, accordingly, the Independent Investment Advisor recommends in writing that CTB be so replaced as Servicer; provided, however, that no servicer termination event will be considered to have occurred if, on or before the fifth Business Day occurring after such recommendation the related Noteholders provide the Issuer Trustee with a Noteholder Direction to the effect that such event shall not give rise to a servicer termination event for these purposes.

If a Servicer Termination Event has occurred and is continuing, the Co-Owner(s) of outstanding Series having Invested Amounts aggregating to more than 50% of the aggregate of the Invested Amounts of all Series may terminate all the rights and obligations of the Servicer under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and appoint a Successor Servicer. The Co-Owner(s) will exercise such voting rights in Series; each Series voting together as a group where a majority (based on the amount of Ownership Interests of the Series) will be sufficient to direct the voting entitlement of the entire Series. In exercising its voting rights in respect of a Series, the Trust will act upon the direction of holders of the related Senior Notes and Subordinated Notes representing more than 50% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of such Senior Notes and Subordinated Notes, voting together as a single series. If a material delay in obtaining the direction of the Co-Owner(s) with respect to the termination of the Servicer would be reasonably expected to have a material adverse effect on the interests of the Co-Owner(s), the Custodian, acting for and on behalf of all Co-Owners and CTB, will be permitted and, in certain circumstances contemplated in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, will be irrevocably directed by the Co-Owner(s) and CTB, to replace the Servicer without requiring that the foregoing voting take place.

Appointment of a Standby Servicer and an Independent Investment Advisor

Pursuant to a Series Purchase Agreement relating to a Series the Custodian is required to use its best efforts to arrange for a Standby Servicer if (a) the long-term rating of CTB issued by DBRS and S&P or (b) the long-term rating of CTC issued by DBRS and S&P in circumstances where CTB is not then rated by DBRS and S&P and CTC has provided the servicer guarantee contemplated under the heading “The Account Assets – Collection Account”, has been reduced to a long-term rating of BB (high) or below by DBRS and BB+ or below by S&P or CTC (except in the circumstances described in (b), above) or CTC (where CTC is providing a servicer guarantee as described in (b), above), as the case may be, is unrated by DBRS and S&P. As CTB is not currently rated by both of DBRS and S&P and CTC has provided a servicer guarantee as contemplated under “The Account Assets – Collection Account”, the foregoing determinations will be based on the long-term ratings of CTC by DBRS and S&P. The designation of any Standby Servicer shall, in the case of DBRS, be subject to satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition.

Pursuant to these arrangements, the Standby Servicer will agree to be available to act as a Successor Servicer if CTB is replaced as the Servicer in the circumstances described in (e) under “– Servicer Termination Events”. CTB will agree to pay any standby fee payable (or an allocable portion thereof) in connection with the engagement of the Standby Servicer in these circumstances. The Standby Servicer will, unless another Person has been appointed as a Successor Servicer, be obligated to perform the functions, and assume all of the obligations and responsibilities, of a Successor Servicer under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement if CTB is replaced as Servicer as a result of the occurrence of a servicer termination event contemplated in (e) under “– Servicer Termination Events”.

Promptly after the appointment of the Standby Servicer, the Custodian will also be required under the related Series Purchase Agreement to engage an Independent Investment Advisor to perform the monitoring functions and to make the determinations contemplated in (e) under “– Servicer Termination Events”. The Independent Investment Advisor will be selected by the Custodian on the basis of the recommendation of the Issuer Trustee, who in turn will rely upon the advice of the Administrator in making such recommendation. CTB will be required to make available all financial information reasonably requested by the Independent Investment Advisor and CTB will be required to pay all reasonable fees, and reimburse all reasonable expenses, of the Independent Investment Advisor appointed under the related Series Purchase Agreement.

Certain Matters Regarding the Servicer

The Servicer may not resign from its obligations and duties under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, except upon a determination that such duties are no longer permissible under applicable law and there is no reasonable action which the Servicer could take to make the performance of its duties permissible under applicable law. No such resignation will become effective until a Successor Servicer has assumed the Servicer's responsibilities and obligations under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement.

Any Person into which, in accordance with the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, the Servicer may be amalgamated or consolidated or any Person resulting from any amalgamation or consolidation to which the Servicer is a party, or any Person succeeding to the business of the Servicer, will be the Successor Servicer under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement.

Reporting Requirements

Pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and Series Purchase Agreements, the Servicer is required to prepare certain reports in relation to outstanding Series in the form and within the time limits prescribed by the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and the related Series Purchase Agreement and to deliver the reports to the Custodian, CTB and the Issuer Trustee. In addition, CTB is required to provide to the Custodian and the Issuer Trustee a monthly certificate as to whether any amortization events relating to CTC and CTB, respectively, have occurred and to provide certain other reports and certificates to the Rating Agencies.

Based on the foregoing reports and certificates, the Administrator will in respect of outstanding Series prepare a monthly investor-oriented report (the “Investors’ Monthly Performance Summary”) for the related Noteholders which will include information concerning yield, Ownership Income Share, Ownership Income Source, Written-Off Amounts, net write-off rate, Enhancement Draw Amounts, Pool Balance, aggregate Collections, and the monthly collection rate for the pool of selected Accounts and such other information as determined by the Administrator. The form of Investors’ Monthly Performance Summary may change at the discretion of the Administrator.

It is intended that the information contained in the Investors’ Monthly Performance Summary will be posted under the Trust’s profile on www.sedar.com and the Bloomberg® Service under “1206Z CN Equity” and the menu item “Company Filings”. Furthermore, the report will be posted at the <https://investors.canadiantire.ca> website, under the menu items “Debtholders, Glacier Credit Card Trust”. Additionally, for Noteholders without access to the Bloomberg Service or such websites, the Administrator will distribute the Investors’ Monthly Performance Summary for the outstanding Series via fax, e-mail or regular post directly to Noteholders who provide a written request to the Administrator. Such written request must be forwarded to the following address: Canadian Tire Bank, in its capacity as Administrator for Glacier Credit Card Trust, c/o Manager, Treasury, 3475 Superior Court, Oakville, Ontario L6L 0C6. The Administrator will also post on www.sedar.com on a quarterly basis certain information pertaining to the Account Assets in which the Trust maintains undivided co-ownership interests through ownership of the Ownership Interests.

Except as described above, to the extent Notes are represented by fully registered book entry only certificates (each, a “BEO Certificate” and collectively, the “BEO Certificates”), information relating to the Notes will be available to Noteholders only to the extent it is forwarded by or otherwise available through CDS and its Participants. The manner in which notices and other communications are conveyed by CDS to Participants, and by Participants to the Noteholders, will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. The Servicer, the Issuer Trustee, the Indenture Trustee and the Administrator may recognize as owner of a Note the Person in whose name the Note is registered on the books and records of the Indenture Trustee, as registrar in respect of the Notes.

Restrictions on Amendments to the Terms and Conditions of the Accounts

Under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, CTB may amend or otherwise change, subject to compliance with all applicable laws, the terms and provisions of any or all of the Accounts, the terms and provisions of the Credit Card Agreements related thereto and its practices and procedures relating to the operation of its credit card business, in each case in any respect whatsoever (including the calculation of the amount and the timing of write-offs, the amount and manner of payment of periodic credit, finance or service charges and other fees or amounts charged or assessed with respect to or in connection with the Accounts and the designation or name of the applicable card or cards) only if such change is made:

- (a) to comply with changes in applicable laws;
- (b) so that the terms and conditions of the Accounts, Credit Card Agreements and/or such practices and procedures are, in the opinion of CTB acting reasonably, competitive with those currently available to customers of its competitors or, in the opinion of CTB acting reasonably, will be competitive with those which are expected to be made available by its competitors;
- (c) applicable to the comparable segment of revolving credit card accounts, if any, owned or serviced by CTB which have, in the opinion of CTB acting reasonably, the same or substantially similar credit characteristics as the Accounts which are the subject of such change, and for such purpose the Retained Interest held by CTB shall be deemed to constitute a comparable segment of revolving credit card accounts owned or serviced by CTB; or
- (d) in any other manner which, in the opinion of CTB acting reasonably, is not materially detrimental to the interests of the Co-Owner(s) or any Entitled Party.

Enforcement

Pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and the related Series Purchase Agreements, each Co-Owner, the Custodian and CTB have agreed and will in the future agree that, among other things, the provisions of such agreements regarding the collection of the Receivables and the distribution of the Collections are binding and that each will:

- (a) subject to restrictions, if any, under applicable law, not commence or consent to the commencement of any proceedings to declare CTB bankrupt;
- (b) take all reasonable steps to ensure that they observe the provisions of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and the applicable Series Purchase Agreements regarding the collection of the Receivables and the distribution of the Collections;
- (c) not Transfer, grant a security interest in, pledge or otherwise enter into a transaction in relation to an Ownership Interest unless the other party to such transaction agrees to be bound by the provisions of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and the related Series Purchase Agreement;
- (d) not challenge or bring into question the validity, priority, perfection or enforceability of the Ownership Interest of any Co-Owner or the Retained Interest of CTB and not otherwise affect, disturb or prejudice the rights of any other Co-Owner or CTB; and
- (e) not enforce any right under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement (except as expressly provided for thereunder) or otherwise pursuant to applicable law in relation to, among other things, the giving of notice to any Obligor requiring payment of any Receivable or applying for partition of any of the Account Assets.

Indemnification

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that the Servicer will indemnify the Custodian, the Co-Owner(s) and each Entitled Party from and against any loss, liability, expense, damage, claim or injury suffered or sustained by reason of any acts, omissions or alleged acts or omissions arising out of activities of the Servicer or the Custodian in breach of their respective obligations under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or any Series

Purchase Agreement; provided that no such Person will be so indemnified if such acts, omissions or alleged acts or omissions constitute fraud, gross negligence, breach of fiduciary duty or wilful misconduct by it. The Servicer will not indemnify the Custodian, the Co-Owner(s) or the Entitled Parties for any act taken by the Custodian at the request of any Co-Owner or Entitled Party to the extent the Custodian is indemnified by such Person with respect to such action, or (unless otherwise specified in a Series Purchase Agreement) for any Canadian federal, provincial, territorial or local income or sales taxes, goods and services taxes, or capital taxes (or any interest or penalties with respect thereto) required to be paid by the Custodian or any Co-Owner or Entitled Party.

The Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that neither CTB, nor, except as described above and with certain other exceptions, the Servicer, nor any of their directors, officers, employees or agents, will be under any liability to the Custodian, the Co-Owner(s), any Entitled Party or any other Person for taking any action, or for refraining from taking any action, pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement. However, neither CTB, the Servicer nor any of their directors, officers, employees or agents will be protected against any liability which would otherwise be imposed by reason of wilful misfeasance, bad faith or gross negligence of any such Person in the performance of their duties or by reason of reckless disregard of their obligations and duties under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement. In addition, the Pooling and Servicing Agreement provides that the Servicer is not under any obligation to appear in, prosecute or defend any legal action which is not incidental to its servicing responsibilities under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement.

DETAILS OF THE OFFERING

Each series of Notes will evidence limited recourse, secured debt obligations of the Trust. Each series of Notes will be issued pursuant to a series supplemental trust indenture (each, a “Series Supplement”) to the trust indenture dated as of November 29, 1995 between the Issuer Trustee, as trustee of the Trust, and the Indenture Trustee (the trust indenture, as so supplemented in relation to a series of Notes and as the same has been and as may be further amended, supplemented, restated or otherwise modified from time to time including, in respect of other series of Notes, as supplemented by the related Series Supplement, the “Trust Indenture”). Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Series Supplement and set out in the applicable pricing supplement, each series of Notes related to a Series will be divided into a senior class (the “Senior Notes”) and one or more sequentially-ranked subordinated classes (the “Subordinated Notes”).

The Notes

The Notes are issuable from time to time at the discretion of the Trust during the period that this Prospectus remains valid on terms determined at the time of issue in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $2,000,000,000. The Notes are offered pursuant to an MTN Program, as contemplated by the National Instrument. The National Instrument permits the omission from this Prospectus of certain variable terms of the Notes, which will be established at the time of the offering and sale of the Notes and will be included in pricing supplements, which are incorporated by reference into this Prospectus solely for the purpose of the Notes issued thereunder. A pricing supplement containing the specific terms of any particular offering of Notes will be delivered to purchasers of such Notes together with this Prospectus.

The specific variable terms of any offering of Notes including, where applicable and without limitation, the aggregate principal amount of Notes being offered, the issue price, the issue, delivery and maturity dates, the redemption or repayment provisions, if any, the interest rate or interest rate basis and the interest payment date(s), will be established by the Trust and set forth in the applicable pricing supplement that will accompany this Prospectus. The Trust reserves the right to set forth in a pricing supplement specific variable terms of an offering of Notes that are not within the options and parameters set forth in this Prospectus. Reference is made to the applicable pricing supplement for a description of the specific terms of any offering of Notes. Notes will be offered in such amounts, at such times, at such rates of discount or interest and on such other terms and conditions as the Trust may, from time to time, determine based on financing requirements, prevailing market conditions and other factors.

The Expected Repayment Date for the Notes of a series will be as specified in the applicable Series Supplement and as set out in the applicable pricing supplement. Holders of the Notes will receive payments of principal and interest until the applicable Series Termination Date.

Payment of Interest

Each class of Notes will bear interest at the rate per annum specified in the related Series Supplement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement) and will, in each case, be payable in arrears on each Interest Payment Date before as well as after any default and judgment with interest on overdue interest at the same rate. The interest payable on each Note on each Interest Payment Date shall be calculated in the manner specified in the related Series Supplement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement). Any interest due but not paid on any Interest Payment Date will be due on the next succeeding Interest Payment Date together with additional interest on such amount at the applicable rate of interest for the particular class of Notes. Periodic payments of interest on the Subordinated Notes will be made on each Interest Payment Date following payment in full of the interest payable on the Senior Notes on such Interest Payment Date. Periodic payment of interest on the Subordinated Notes of any lower ranked class will be made on each Interest Payment Date following payment in full of the interest payable on the Subordinated Notes of all higher ranked classes on such Interest Payment Date.

During an Amortization Period, and after the Expected Repayment Date if the Notes have not been fully repaid by such date, interest will be payable in arrears on the first Business Day of each month (commencing in the first month following the month during which the Expected Repayment Date or an Amortization Commencement Day occurs) in respect of interest accruing for the preceding month calculated based on the outstanding principal amounts of the Senior Notes and the Subordinated Notes, respectively, determined on the last Business Day of such preceding month. Interest will accrue but will not be paid on any day in respect of the Subordinated Notes if any amount required to be paid in respect of interest on the Senior Notes on that day remains outstanding as due and payable or if a mandatory prepayment is required as a result of the commencement of an Amortization Period. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Series Supplement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement), the record date for holders of Senior Notes and Subordinated Notes entitled to receive interest on any interest payment date will be the date which is 15 days preceding such interest payment date or, if such date is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day.

Repayment of Principal

Subject to the commencement of an Amortization Period in respect of a Series, no principal payments will be made to the holders of the related series of Notes until the related Expected Repayment Date. On such Expected Repayment Date, amounts on deposit in the Series Accumulations Account of such Series (including all amounts deposited thereto from the Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account of such Series in respect of Monthly Principal Accumulation Amounts during the Liquidation Period and the amounts, if any, deposited thereto from the Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account of such Series but excluding any amounts derived from a claim made under the Seller's Representation and Indemnity Covenant) will be applied in the following order of priority:

- (a) first, in payment or reimbursement of the following Additional Funding Expenses then payable, in order of priority:
 - (i) obligations of the Trust ranking in priority to the interest of the Notes in such Series,
 - (ii) an allocable portion of fees and expenses of the Indenture Trustee,
 - (iii) an allocable portion of fees and expenses of the Issuer Trustee, and
 - (iv) an allocable portion of fees and expenses of the Administrator;
- (b) second, to pay the interest accrued and unpaid on the related Senior Notes;
- (c) third, to pay the interest accrued and unpaid on the related Subordinated Notes;
- (d) fourth, to pay the outstanding principal amount of the related Senior Notes;
- (e) fifth, to pay the outstanding principal amount of the related Subordinated Notes;

- (f) sixth, to pay all accrued and unpaid interest then payable, if any, on any class of notes ranking subordinate to the related Notes and issued pursuant to the Series Supplement;
- (g) seventh, to pay the outstanding principal amount of the notes, if any, described in (f) immediately above;
- (h) eighth, to the Subordinated Lender in respect of an amount equal to all principal and interest payable on such day under the Series Subordinated Loan Agreement of such Series;
- (i) ninth, in respect of all other Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations of the Trust relating to such Series payable on such day, if any, to the Persons (including the applicable Subordinated Lender) to whom such other Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations are payable, the aggregate amount of such Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations to be divided on a pro rata basis among such Persons based on the aggregate amount of such Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations payable by the Trust to each such Person on such day; and
- (j) tenth, to the Beneficiary in respect of an amount equal to the allocable portion of any amount distributable on such day in respect of the annual distribution amount as provided for under the Declaration of Trust.

As such, no principal payments will be made to the holders of the Subordinated Notes of a series of Notes until all amounts owing under the Senior Notes of such series of Notes have been paid in full.

Mandatory Prepayment

In respect of a Series, prepayment of the principal amount owing under the Senior Notes of a related series of Notes will commence in advance of the Expected Repayment Date if an Amortization Period commences. Repayment of principal in respect of the Subordinated Notes of a series of Notes will not be made during an Amortization Period until all amounts owing under the related Senior Notes have been paid in full.

In respect of a Series, on the first Business Day of each month during an Amortization Period (commencing in the first month following the month during which the Amortization Commencement Day occurs), holders of the related Senior Notes (as of record on the close of business on a date which is 15 days preceding such Business Day or, if such date is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day) will be paid a pro rata share (based on the aggregate unpaid principal amount of Senior Notes held by each Noteholder) of the amounts withdrawn from the Collection Account and deposited on each Business Day during the preceding month into the Series Accumulations Account of such Series, plus amounts earned on Eligible Investments of such deposits during such preceding month, subject to prior payment or reservation for payment of certain priority amounts. See “– The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking”. Subject to payment of certain Additional Funding Expenses in respect of a Series then due and payable, all amounts held in the Series Accumulations Account of such Series on the Amortization Commencement Day will be used by the Trust to make payments first to the holders of the related Senior Notes in respect of all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, and, on a subordinated basis, to make payments to the holders of the related Subordinated Notes in respect of all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, and thereafter to pay the outstanding principal amount of the related Senior Notes. If, after payment in full of all amounts owing under such Senior Notes, the Invested Amount of the applicable Series is greater than zero, on the first Business Day of each month during an Amortization Period (commencing in the first month on or after which all principal and interest owing under such Senior Notes have been paid in full), holders of the related Subordinated Notes will be paid a pro rata share (based on the aggregate unpaid principal amount of Subordinated Notes held by each Noteholder) of the available amounts withdrawn from the Collection Account and deposited on each Business Day during the preceding month into the Series Accumulations Account of such Series, plus amounts earned on Eligible Investments of such deposits during such preceding month, subject to prior payment or reservation for payment of certain amounts. Such payments shall continue until the Series Termination Date for such Series. See “Series of Ownership Interests – Amortization” and “– Allocation of Collections”.

The Trust Indenture

The Trust Indenture provides for the issuance, pursuant to Series Supplements, of additional series of Notes. The aggregate principal amount of notes that may be issued is not limited by the Trust Indenture, but notes may only be issued in order to fund the purchase of new Series and upon the terms and subject to the conditions provided in the Trust Indenture. Each Series Supplement provides for the attributes of the relevant series of Notes, including events of default, subordination provisions, priority of payment to third party credit enhancers, liquidity lenders, hedge counterparties, and other Persons who may have security on the assets of the Trust, and such attributes (other than Events of Default) will be specific to the series provided for in the relevant Series Supplement.

For the purposes of determining whether the holders of the requisite principal amount of notes of a particular series have given any request, demand, notice, consent or waiver under the Trust Indenture, the Senior Notes and the Subordinated Notes of a series will be treated and deemed to constitute a single series of Notes.

Limited Recourse

Recourse to the Trust for amounts owing under each series of Notes will be limited to the right to be paid amounts distributed to the Trust in respect of related particular Series, together with the Trust's entitlement to amounts deposited into or earned in the related Series Accounts (including Eligible Investments made with such deposited amounts), subject to the prior or equal ranking payment of certain amounts described under "– The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking". Holders of each series of Notes will also have certain other rights and remedies relating to each particular Series. Holders of each series of Notes will not have recourse to CTC, CTB, the Issuer Trustee (other than in its capacity as trustee of the Trust), the Custodian, the Indenture Trustee, or any affiliate thereof, nor will they have recourse to any other Series, to Additional Property deposited in respect of other Ownership Interests or other property and assets owned by the Trust, the Issuer Trustee in its individual capacity or the Indenture Trustee, nor to any enhancement or subordination provided in respect of any other series of Notes. Holders of Senior Notes of a series will have the benefit of the subordination of payments due with respect to the Subordinated Notes of such series to the extent described herein.

Security and Ranking

Each series of Notes which has been and may be issued and all Obligations will be secured by a security interest over all of the present and after acquired property of the Trust. All such security will be held by the Indenture Trustee for the benefit of the holders of each series of Notes and all other Series Specific Creditors. The Trust Indenture will provide for a security sharing arrangement pursuant to which the holders of Senior Notes of a series and, on a subordinated basis to the extent specified herein, the holders of the related Subordinated Notes, will be entitled to receive priority over the applicable Series, all amounts deposited into and earned in the Series Accounts of such Series, subject to the prior or equal ranking payment of certain amounts described below. Other Persons for whom the Indenture Trustee holds security will be entitled to priority over Ownership Interests acquired by the Trust to support the Trust's obligations to such Persons and amounts deposited into and earned in accumulations accounts or other deposit accounts established for their benefit and any related series property. See "The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Sale of Other Series".

In respect of a Series, during the Revolving Period and the Liquidation Period prior to the related Expected Repayment Date, funds on deposit in the Series Accumulations Account of such Series (including all amounts deposited thereto from the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account in respect of Monthly Principal Accumulation Amounts during the Liquidation Period and amounts, if any, deposited thereto from the related Series Liquidation Yield Reserve Account, but excluding any amounts derived from a claim made under the Seller's Representation and Indemnity Covenant) will unless otherwise provided for in the related Series Supplement (and as disclosed in the applicable pricing supplement) be applied in the following order of priority:

- (a) first, in payment or reimbursement of the following Additional Funding Expenses then payable, in order of priority:

- (i) obligations of the Trust ranking in priority to the interest of the related Notes in such Series,
 - (ii) an allocable portion of fees and expenses of the Indenture Trustee,
 - (iii) an allocable portion of fees and expenses of the Issuer Trustee, and
 - (iv) an allocable portion of fees and expenses of the Administrator;
- (b) second, in payment of all accrued and unpaid interest then payable, if any, on the related Senior Notes;
 - (c) third, in payment of all accrued and unpaid interest then payable, if any, on the related Subordinated Notes;
 - (d) fourth, to pay all accrued and unpaid interest then payable, if any, on any class of notes ranking subordinate to the Notes and issued pursuant to the applicable Series Supplement;
 - (e) fifth, to the Subordinated Lender in respect of an amount equal to all principal and interest payable on such day under the Series Subordinated Loan Agreement of such Series; provided that no such payment shall be made if on such day there has been (x) an Enhancement Draw Amount in respect of such Series on any Determination Day prior to such day or (y) a Cumulative Deficiency in respect of such Series on any Determination Day prior to such day;
 - (f) sixth, in respect of all other Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations of the Trust relating to such Series payable on such day, if any, to the Persons (including the Subordinated Lender) to whom such other Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations are payable, the aggregate amount of such Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations to be divided on a pro rata basis among such Persons based on the aggregate amount of such Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations payable by the Trust to each such Person on such day; and
 - (g) seventh, to the Beneficiary in respect of an amount equal to the allocable portion of any amount distributed on such day in respect of the annual distribution amount as provided for under the Declaration of Trust.

With respect to a series of Notes, on the Expected Repayment Date, funds on deposit in the Series Accumulations Account of such Series will be applied in the order of priority described under “– The Notes – Repayment of Principal”.

On and after an Amortization Commencement Day and if a series of Notes is not fully repaid on the applicable Expected Repayment Date, funds on deposit in the related Series Accumulations Account will be applied in the following order of priority (excluding any amounts derived from a claim made under the Seller’s Representation and Indemnity Covenant):

- (a) first, in payment or reimbursement of the following Additional Funding Expenses then payable, in order of priority:
 - (i) obligations of the Trust ranking in priority to the interest of the related Notes in such Series,
 - (ii) an allocable portion of fees and expenses of the Indenture Trustee,
 - (iii) an allocable portion of fees and expenses of the Issuer Trustee, and
 - (iv) an allocable portion of fees and expenses of the Administrator;

- (b) second, in payment of all accrued and unpaid interest then payable, if any, on the related Senior Notes;
- (c) third, in payment of all accrued and unpaid interest then payable, if any, on the related Subordinated Notes;
- (d) fourth, in repayment of the principal amount outstanding under the related Senior Notes, until such Senior Notes have been paid in full;
- (e) fifth, in repayment of the principal amount outstanding under the related Subordinated Notes, until such Subordinated Notes have been paid in full;
- (f) sixth, to pay all accrued and unpaid interest then payable, if any, on any class of notes ranking subordinate to the Notes and issued pursuant to the applicable Series Supplement;
- (g) seventh, to pay the outstanding principal amount of the notes, if any, described in (f) immediately above;
- (h) eighth, to the Subordinated Lender in respect of an amount equal to all principal and interest payable on such day under the Series Subordinated Loan Agreement of such Series;
- (i) ninth, in respect of all other Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations of the Trust relating to such Series payable on such day, if any, to the Persons (including the Subordinated Lender) to whom such other Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations are payable, the aggregate amount of such Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations to be divided on a pro rata basis among such Persons based on the aggregate amount of such Additional Funding Expenses and other Obligations payable by the Trust to each such Person on such day; and
- (j) tenth, to the Beneficiary in respect of an amount equal to the allocable portion of any amount distributable on such day in respect of the annual distribution amount as provided for under the Declaration of Trust.

Each of the above priorities of payments are subject to the claims of any Person with a security interest or lien ranking in priority to the security created under or pursuant to the Trust Indenture. The Trust has agreed not to grant or permit to exist any security interest or lien over the Trust Assets, except as permitted or provided for under the Trust Indenture. The Trust has also agreed not to incur or create or guarantee any indebtedness, except for indebtedness created as expressly permitted under the Trust Indenture or except as otherwise consented to by each applicable Rating Agency.

Events of Default; Rights Upon Event of Default

An “Event of Default” is defined in the Trust Indenture as being the occurrence of one or more of the following events:

- (a) a default by the Trust in making any payment of any amount owing under any note of any series, which, by its terms, is then required to be paid (other than where the Indenture Trustee is satisfied that the non-payment has resulted from inadvertence or error on the part of the Issuer Trustee or the Administrator which is capable of timely rectification without having a material adverse effect on the holders of notes of the series), which default continues unremedied for a period of 5 Business Days, provided that, for greater certainty, no such default shall be considered to occur as a result of amounts allocable to the Series relating to such series of Notes being insufficient to make such required payment;
- (b) a default by the Trust in the observance or performance of any other covenant or agreement of the Trust made in the Trust Indenture which has a material adverse effect upon the Trust, the Trust’s interests in the Account Assets or Additional Property or the Trust's ability to pay and perform any notes or Obligations and which continues to be unremedied for a period of 30 days after written notice thereof is given to the Trust by the Indenture Trustee or to the Trust and the Indenture Trustee by the holders of at least 25% of the principal amount of the notes then outstanding of the affected series (in the case where such covenant or agreement is made expressly for the benefit of one or more particular series of Notes) or of all outstanding series of Notes (in all other cases); provided that, for greater certainty, no such default shall be considered to occur as a result of amounts allocable to the Series relating to such series of Notes being insufficient to make such required payment;

- (c) any representation or warranty made by the Trust in the Trust Indenture or in any certificate delivered pursuant thereto or in connection therewith having been incorrect as at the time made and which has a material adverse effect upon the Trust, the Trust's interests in the Account Assets or Additional Property or the Trust's ability to pay and perform any notes or Obligations and which continues to be incorrect or unremedied for a period of 30 days after written notice thereof is given to the Trust by the Indenture Trustee or to the Trust and the Indenture Trustee by the holders of at least 25% of the principal amount of the notes then outstanding of the affected series (in the case where such representation or warranty is made expressly for the benefit of one or more particular series of Notes) or of all outstanding series of Notes (in all other cases);
- (d) certain events of bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or liquidation of (i) the Issuer Trustee (except in connection with any transaction permitted under the Declaration of Trust) or (ii) the Trust (other than which occurs by reason or in consequence or as a result of (A) deficiencies in respect of a Series or (B) cashflows being insufficient to make payments in respect of expenses incurred by the Trust and for which advances are made to the Trust under the related Series Subordinated Loan Agreement);
- (e) certain events of bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or liquidation of the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity and such Issuer Trustee is not replaced as Issuer Trustee for the purposes of the Declaration of Trust within 60 days thereafter; or
- (f) any other events specified as "events of default" in any Series Supplement.

Subject to certain limitations described in the Trust Indenture, if an Event of Default occurs under clauses (d) or (e) and is continuing, then the Indenture Trustee will be obligated to declare all notes and Obligations to be immediately due and payable, except in the case of a particular Obligation where the agreement under which such Obligation is created or the nature or context of the Obligation otherwise provides or requires. Any declaration that the notes of a series are due and payable and the consequences of such declaration may, under certain circumstances, be rescinded and annul led by a Noteholder Direction from the holders of notes of such series.

The Trust Indenture provides that, subject to certain limitations described therein, if an Event of Default occurs under clauses (a), (b), (c) or (f) and is continuing, then the Indenture Trustee may, in its discretion, declare the notes of any series and the Obligations with respect to such series (except in the case of a particular Obligation of such series where the agreement under which such Obligation is created or the nature or context of such Obligation otherwise provides or requires) to be immediately due and payable and, if requested by a Noteholder Direction from the holders of notes of such series, will declare such series of notes and all such Obligations with respect to such series to be immediately due and payable. The Series Supplement for a series of notes provides that, subject to waiver by the Indenture Trustee in respect of the applicable Notes and subject to certain limitations described in the Trust Indenture, the Indenture Trustee will be obligated to declare that such Notes are immediately due and payable upon the occurrence of an Event of Default. Any declaration by the Indenture Trustee that the notes of a series are due and payable and the consequences of such declaration may, under certain circumstances, be rescinded and annulled by a Noteholder Direction from the holders of the notes of such series, except a payment default by the Trust or an Event of Default arising therefrom, which declaration may only be rescinded and annulled with the consent of each affected holder of notes of such series then outstanding properly represented at a duly constituted meeting of such holders of such notes called to consent to such waiver or the written consent of each affected holder of such notes then outstanding.

If the notes of a particular series have been declared due and payable following the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Indenture Trustee will be permitted and, if directed by a Noteholder Direction from the holders of the notes of such series (and by the holders of notes of such series holding more than 66 2/3% of the principal amount of the notes of such series which are properly represented at a duly constituted meeting of the holders of such notes or by a direction pursuant to an instrument in writing signed by holders holding more than 66 2/3% of the principal amount of the notes of such series, in the case of directing the action in clause (d) below to be taken by the Indenture Trustee), will be obligated to take one or more of the following actions (subject, however, to provision of an indemnity to the Indenture Trustee as described below):

- (a) institute proceedings against the Trust for the collection of amounts due on the notes of such series and the Obligations then outstanding with respect to such series;
- (b) exercise all rights, powers and discretions, make all elections, give all notices that may be exercised, made or given by the Issuer Trustee under the Basic Documents in respect of the related Ownership Interest but subject to any restrictions imposed on the Custodian or the Trust therein;
- (c) appoint a receiver or institute proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a receiver, upon terms and conditions set out in the Trust Indenture;
- (d) sell, liquidate or otherwise dispose of the Trust Assets to which the holders of the notes of such series have recourse pursuant to the security sharing arrangements, including the related Ownership Interest, monies on deposit in the related Series Accumulations Account, related investments and the benefits of any enhancement or subordination available with respect to the notes of such series;
- (e) file such proofs of claim and other papers or documents as may be necessary or advisable in order to have the claims of the Indenture Trustee and the other Series Specific Creditors with respect to a series lodged in any proceedings relative to the Trust; and
- (f) take and maintain possession of the Trust Assets to which, pursuant to the security sharing arrangements in the Trust Indenture, the holders of the notes of such series have recourse, including taking control of the related accumulations account.

Subject to the provisions of the Trust Indenture relating to the duties of the Indenture Trustee, if an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the Indenture Trustee will be under no obligation to exercise any of the rights, powers or discretions, make any elections or give any notices under the Trust Indenture at the request or direction of holders of any series of notes, if the Indenture Trustee reasonably believes that it will not be adequately indemnified against the costs, expenses and liabilities which might be incurred by it in complying with such request. Subject to such provisions for indemnification and certain limitations contained in the Trust Indenture, the holders of notes of all outstanding series (or, if the remedy does not relate to all series of Notes, the holders of notes of all series to which such remedy relates) shall have the right, in each case by a Noteholder Direction, to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding or any remedy available to the Indenture Trustee; provided that the Indenture Trustee shall have the right to decline to follow any such direction if the action so directed may not lawfully be taken or would be unduly prejudicial to the rights of holders of notes of such affected series not a party to such direction.

In addition, if an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing and whether or not the Indenture Trustee has declared the notes or the Obligations with respect to any series of Notes to be due and payable, the Indenture Trustee may, and shall, when directed by a Noteholder Direction from the holders of notes of all outstanding series, replace the Administrator under the Administration Agreement.

No Series Specific Creditor (including a holder of Notes) will have the right to institute any proceeding permitted by the Trust Indenture, whether at law or in equity, judicial or otherwise, for the purpose of exercising any remedy provided under the Trust Indenture in respect of a related series or class of notes, except that holders of more than 50% of the principal amount of notes then outstanding of all series to which the proceeding relates or any other

Series Specific Creditor specified in the related Series Supplement may institute any such proceeding if the Indenture Trustee has failed to do so for more than 60 days after provision of required notices and requests and satisfactory indemnities with respect to the series or class; provided, however, that the enforcement of any remedy provided under the Trust Indenture by any such Series Specific Creditor will be subject to the security sharing arrangement provided for in the Trust Indenture and described under “– The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking” and “– Payments and Ranking upon Event of Default”.

Neither the Indenture Trustee nor any of its owners, agents, officers, directors, employees, successors or assigns, nor the Beneficiary shall, in the absence of an express agreement to the contrary, be personally liable for the payment of the principal of, interest on or other amounts due under the Senior Notes, the Subordinated Notes or for the agreements of the Trust contained in the Trust Indenture.

Payments and Ranking Upon Event of Default

The priority of payments that applies during an Amortization Period for a Series will also generally apply after the declaration by the Indenture Trustee that the related Notes are immediately due and payable, except if such declaration has been rescinded and annulled in accordance with the Trust Indenture.

Amendments to the Trust Indenture

The Trust Indenture provides that, without the consent of any holder of notes and except as otherwise provided in a Series Supplement, any other Series Specific Creditor, the Indenture Trustee and the Issuer Trustee may, and shall when so required pursuant to the Trust Indenture, execute indentures supplemental to the Trust Indenture or to any related security documents executed and delivered pursuant to the Trust Indenture (the “Related Security Documents”), other than Series Supplements under which notes of a series are created and issued in accordance with, and subject to the conditions therefor set out in the Trust Indenture, (such indentures supplemental to the Trust Indenture are each referred to as an “Amendment”) for certain purposes, including the following:

- (a) to add to the limitations or restrictions specified in the Trust Indenture (which term does not include a Series Supplement) or in any Related Security Document or add to the covenants of the Trust contained in the Trust Indenture (which term does not include a Series Supplement) or in any Related Security Document for the protection of all or any of the Series Specific Creditors;
- (b) to add to or modify, amend or eliminate any of the terms of the Trust Indenture (which term does not include a Series Supplement) or of any Related Security Document, provided that no such addition, modification, amendment or elimination shall be effective with respect to any notes which are then outstanding and that the Indenture Trustee may decline, in its discretion, to enter into any such Amendment which would adversely affect its own rights, duties or immunities under the Trust Indenture or otherwise;
- (c) to make any addition to or modification, amendment or elimination of any of the terms of the Trust Indenture (which term does not include any Series Supplement) or any Related Security Document which, in the unanimous opinion of the Indenture Trustee, the Trust and each Rating Agency selected by the Administrator to rate the notes and is then rating the notes, do not individually or in the aggregate materially adversely affect the interests of the holders of notes then outstanding;
- (d) to make any addition to or modification, amendment or elimination of any of the terms of any Series Supplement which, in the unanimous opinion of the Indenture Trustee, the Trust and each rating agency selected by the Administrator to rate the notes issued under such Series Supplement and is then rating such notes, do not individually or in the aggregate materially adversely affect the interests of the holders of such notes then outstanding;
- (e) to make any addition to or modification, amendment or elimination of any of the terms of the Trust Indenture (which term includes the Series Supplements) or any Related Security Document in order to conform such documents to the descriptions thereof, if applicable, contained in this Prospectus, but only with the consent of the Rating Agencies; or

- (f) any other purposes considered appropriate by the Indenture Trustee which, in the opinion of the Indenture Trustee, do not materially adversely affect the interests of the holders of the notes then outstanding, provided that, in each case, such Amendment does not have the result of reducing the entitlement to receive a distribution of income from the Trust Assets otherwise available to the Beneficiary.

The Indenture Trustee will be permitted, and will be obligated when so required pursuant to the Trust Indenture, to enter into, from time to time, Amendments to the Trust Indenture and any Related Security Document for any purpose not authorized above, with the consent of (a) each Series Specific Creditor (other than the holders of the notes) which would be materially adversely affected by such Amendment and whose consent is expressly required under a Series Supplement and (b) the holders of notes of all series and classes which would be materially adversely affected, by a Noteholder Direction from the holders of notes of such series or class. No such Amendment, however, may:

- (a) reduce the amount of or delay the time of any payment required to be made to any holder of a note;
- (b) change the definition or manner of calculating amounts to which any holder of a note is entitled;
- (c) reduce the amount available under any related liquidity agreement or credit or other enhancement agreement, if any;
- (d) adversely affect the rating of any series or class of notes by any Rating Agency selected by the Administrator to rate such series or class of notes and which is then rating such series or class of notes;
- (e) reduce the specified percentage of noteholders required to consent in respect of certain acts provided for in the Trust Indenture; or
- (f) reduce any of the percentages of noteholders required to consent to any such proposed Amendment, except, in the case of (d), if the consent of holders of notes of such affected series or class, holding more than 66 2/3% of the principal amount of the notes of such series or class then outstanding which are properly represented at a duly constituted meeting of the holders of such notes or by a direction pursuant to an instrument in writing signed by the holders of more than 66 2/3% of the principal amount of the notes of such series or class, is obtained and, in any other case, if the consent of each affected holder of a note then outstanding properly represented at a duly constituted meeting of such affected holders of notes called to consent to such proposed Amendment or the written consent of each affected holder of such notes then outstanding is obtained. In addition, the Issuer Trustee has agreed pursuant to the related Series Purchase Agreement that it will not agree to or permit any Amendment to be made to the Trust Indenture, any Related Security Document or the Series Supplement without the prior written consent of each of the parties to the related Series Purchase Agreement.

It is only necessary in obtaining the consent of any holder of notes or, unless otherwise provided in a Series Supplement, any other Series Specific Creditor to any proposed Amendment to have such Person approve the substance of the Amendment rather than the particular form thereof. The Indenture Trustee shall prescribe from time to time the manner of obtaining such consents and of evidencing the authorization of the execution thereof.

Certain Covenants

The Trust has agreed in the Trust Indenture that, among other things, it will not:

- (a) create or permit to exist any lien, charge or other encumbrance on any of the Trust Assets, other than the security interest granted to the Indenture Trustee pursuant to the Trust Indenture and the Related Security Documents, permitted liens and other liens, charges or encumbrances permitted under any of the Trust Documents;
- (b) sell or otherwise dispose of any of the Trust Assets except as otherwise permitted by the prior written consent of the Indenture Trustee (as directed by a Noteholder Direction by the holders of Notes of the related series) or as contemplated in the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, any Series Purchase Agreement or any Series Supplement;
- (c) take action to remove the Servicer or the Custodian, other than in accordance with the provisions of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement;
- (d) other than indebtedness permitted under the Trust Indenture, incur or create or guarantee any indebtedness, without the consent of each of the Rating Agencies selected by the Administrator to rate the notes and which are then rating the notes;
- (e) engage in any activity other than those contemplated by the Trust Documents; or
- (f) except (i) with the prior written consent of the Indenture Trustee (as directed by a Noteholder Direction by the holders of Notes of all applicable series), or (ii) where the consent or agreement of the Trust is not required pursuant to the terms of a Trust Document to which it is a party, amend or waive compliance with the terms and conditions on the part of the other party to such Trust Document if (A) such amendment or waiver would reasonably be considered to have a material adverse effect on the Series Specific Creditors of a series or (B) if any Canadian accounting guideline applicable to the Trust contains the concept of a “qualifying special purpose entity”, the Administrator has not delivered to the Indenture Trustee and the Rating Agencies then rating the notes of the Trust a certificate of the Trust confirming that such amendment or waiver will not cause the Trust to cease to be a “qualifying special purpose entity” within the meaning of any Canadian accounting guideline applicable to the Trust.

Amendments to Basic Documents

The Indenture Trustee will, upon the written request from time to time of the Trust, enter into or consent to, as applicable, any proposed amendment or waiver of any Basic Document, which action may be taken without the necessity of obtaining the consent of any Series Specific Creditor, if the Indenture Trustee is of the opinion that such amendment or waiver would not individually or in the aggregate materially adversely affect the interests of the holders of notes of the applicable series or of all outstanding series, as the case may be, or the entitlement of the Beneficiary to receive a distribution of income from the Trust Assets otherwise available to them. If the Indenture Trustee is of the opinion that such amendment or waiver would have a material adverse effect on the interests of any such noteholders, the Indenture Trustee will not enter into or consent to, as applicable, such amendment or waiver without the consent of the holders of notes of the series which would be materially adversely affected, by a Noteholder Direction from the holders of notes of such series (except if the amendment or waiver has the effect of reducing the amount available under any related liquidity agreement or credit or other agreement under which an Obligation is established, in which case such amendment or waiver requires the consent of each affected holder of a note then outstanding who is properly represented at a duly constituted meeting of such affected holders of notes called to consent to such proposed amendment or waiver or the written consent of each affected holder of such notes then outstanding).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, (a) the Indenture Trustee may decline to enter into or consent to, as applicable, a proposed amendment or waiver of any such Basic Document that adversely affects its own rights, duties or immunities under the Trust Indenture or otherwise, and (b) no such proposed amendment or waiver may be entered into or consented to, as applicable, which would materially adversely affect the interests of any Person to whom the Trust has incurred an Obligation and whose consent to such proposed amendment or waiver is required under a Series Supplement, without the consent of such Person so affected.

It is only necessary in obtaining the consent of any holder of notes or, unless otherwise provided in a Series Supplement, any other Series Specific Creditor to any proposed amendment or waiver to have such Person approve the substance of such proposed amendment or waiver rather than the particular form thereof. The Indenture Trustee shall prescribe, from time to time, the manner of obtaining such consents and of evidencing the authorization of the execution thereof.

Series Subordinated Loan Agreements

Each Series Subordinated Loan Agreement permits the Trust to borrow amounts from time to time from the applicable Subordinated Lender. Borrowed amounts may be applied by the Trust to finance the payment of expenses payable by the Trust in connection with the purchase of the related Series. The Trust will repay principal of and will pay interest on amounts borrowed under each Series Subordinated Loan Agreement from Collections distributed to the Trust in respect of the related Series; provided, however, that no such payment may be made to the Subordinated Lender in respect of amounts borrowed under such Series Subordinated Loan Agreement on or after the commencement of an amortization period or during a period for which there is an enhancement draw amount or a cumulative deficiency, pending the payment in full of the principal amount of the related series of Notes and all interest accrued thereon. See “– The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking”.

Book-Entry Registration

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Series Supplement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement), the Notes will be represented by one or more BEO Certificates held by, or on behalf of, CDS, as custodian of the BEO Certificates, and registered in the name of CDS or its nominee, except in the circumstances described herein. Registration of ownership and transfers of the Notes will be made only through the depository service of CDS. Except as described herein, no purchaser of a Note will be entitled to a definitive certificate or other instrument from the Trust or CDS evidencing that purchaser’s beneficial ownership thereof, and no holder of an interest in a BEO Certificate (a “Book-Entry Certificate Owner”) will be shown on the records maintained by CDS, except through book entry accounts of a participant in the depository system of CDS (a “Participant”) acting on behalf of the Book-Entry Certificate Owner.

Transfers of beneficial ownership of Notes represented by BEO Certificates will be effected through records maintained by CDS for such BEO Certificates or its nominee (with respect to interests of Participants) and on the records of Participants (with respect to Persons other than Participants). Beneficial owners who are not Participants, but who desire to purchase, sell or otherwise transfer beneficial ownership of, or any other interest in, BEO Certificates may do so only through Participants.

The ability of a Book-Entry Certificate Owner to pledge a Note or otherwise take action with respect to such owner’s interest in the Note (other than through a Participant) may be limited due to lack of a physical certificate.

Unless and until Definitive Notes are issued, Book-Entry Certificate Owners will not be recognized by the Indenture Trustee as Noteholders. All references herein or in the Trust Indenture to payments, notices, reports and statements to, or actions by, Noteholders will refer to the same made with respect to or by CDS or its nominee, as the case may be, as the registered holder of the Notes upon instructions of a requisite number of Book-Entry Certificate Owners acting through Participants.

Notes of a class will each be issued as a class in fully registered certificated form (“Definitive Notes”) to Book-Entry Certificate Owners or their nominees other than to CDS or its nominee only if (a) the Trust advises the Indenture Trustee in writing that CDS is no longer willing or able to properly discharge its responsibilities as depository with respect to such class of Notes and the Indenture Trustee or the Trust is unable to locate a qualified successor depository, (b) the Trust advises the Indenture Trustee in writing that it elects to terminate the use of the CDS depository system with respect to such class of Notes, or (c) after the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, Book-Entry Certificate Owners representing in aggregate not less than 51% of the outstanding principal amount of such class of Notes advise the Indenture Trustee and CDS, through Participants in writing, that the continuation of a book-entry system through CDS is no longer in the best interests of Book-Entry Certificate Owners of such class.

Upon the occurrence of any of the events described in the immediately preceding paragraph, the Indenture Trustee is obliged to notify all Book-Entry Certificate Owners in respect of each affected class of Notes, through the CDS depository system, of the availability of Definitive Notes for such class. Upon surrender by CDS of the relevant BEO Certificate and instructions from CDS for re-registration, the Trust will issue Definitive Notes for the applicable class and thereafter the Indenture Trustee and the Trust will recognize the registered holders of such Definitive Notes as the holders of Notes of such class under the Trust Indenture. Payments of principal, interest and other amounts with respect to the Notes of such class will thereafter be made by the Indenture Trustee directly to holders of Definitive Notes in accordance with the procedures set out in the Trust Indenture to holders in whose names the Definitive Notes were registered at the close of business on the applicable record date. Such payments will be made by cheque mailed to the address of such holder as it appears on the register maintained by the Indenture Trustee or its agent. The final payment on any Note, however, will be made only upon presentation and surrender of the applicable Definitive Note at the office or agency specified in the Trust Indenture.

Ratings

It is a condition of the closing of the offering of any series of Notes that each class of Notes be assigned the ratings specified in the related Series Supplement (and set out in the applicable pricing supplement) by at least two Designated Rating Organizations at the applicable Closing Date. Payments were, or reasonably will be, made by the Trust to each applicable Rating Agency in connection with the ratings of the Senior Notes and the Subordinated Notes and in connection with ratings of other notes of the Trust that are outstanding, or will be outstanding, and continue in effect, and payments were made to DBRS, Fitch and S&P during the last two years in connection with the ratings of other notes issued by the Trust. No payments were made to DBRS, Fitch or S&P in respect of any other service provided to the Trust by such Rating Agencies during the last two years.

The respective ratings of Notes address the likelihood of the ultimate payment of principal and the timely payment of interest on such Notes. The Rating Agencies do not evaluate, and the rating of the Notes does not address, payment of the outstanding principal balance of such Notes by the Expected Repayment Date. The ratings are based primarily on the credit of the underlying Series, including the enhancements afforded by the applicable Enhancement Amount and, in the case of the related Senior Notes, the subordination of the related Subordinated Notes to the extent specified herein. A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and is subject to revision or withdrawal in the future by the applicable Rating Agency. Ratings with respect to the Notes will have the subscript “(sf)” which is assigned to all issues to which a regulation requires the assignment of an additional symbol which distinguishes a structured finance instrument or obligor from another instrument or obligor. The addition of this subscript to a rating does not change the definition of that rating or the applicable Rating Agency’s opinion about the instrument’s or issuer’s creditworthiness.

DBRS Ratings. Definitions of the ratings categories of DBRS in which DBRS may be asked to rate the Notes are set forth below in descending order of ranking:

AAA

Financial obligations rated “AAA” are considered by DBRS to be of the highest credit quality. The capacity for the payment of such financial obligations is exceptionally high and unlikely to be adversely affected by future events.

A

Financial obligations rated “A” are considered by DBRS to be of good credit quality. While they may be vulnerable to future events, qualifying negative factors are considered manageable. The capacity for the payment of such financial obligations is substantial, but of lesser credit quality than “AAA” and “AA” rated obligations.

Financial obligations rated “AA” by DBRS rank between those rated “AAA” and “A”, are of superior credit quality and are unlikely to be significantly vulnerable to future events. The capacity for the payment of such financial obligations is considered high. Credit quality differs from “AAA” only to a small degree. DBRS has seven major ratings categories, ranging from “BBB” to a default ranking of “D” or “SD”, that rank below the above ratings categories. Five of these lower ranking ratings categories, ranging from “BB” to “C”, are assigned to obligations that are regarded as having varying degrees of speculative credit quality. Ratings in the “CCC”, “CC” and “C” categories are for financial obligations with very highly speculative credit quality and in danger of default. There is little difference between these three categories, although “CC” and “C” ratings are normally applied to obligations that are seen as highly likely to default, or subordinated to obligations rated in the “CCC” to “B” range. Financial obligations in respect of which default has not technically taken place but is considered inevitable may be rated in the “C” category. A financial obligation is rated “D” when the issuer has filed under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or winding up statute or there is a failure to satisfy the financial obligation after the exhaustion of grace periods. DBRS may also use “SD” (Selective Default) in cases where only some securities are impacted, such as the case of a “distressed exchange”. All rating categories from “AA” to “C” also contain the subcategories “(high)” and “(low)” which indicates the relative standing within the particular rating category. The absence of either a “(high)” or “(low)” designation indicates the rating is in the middle of the category.

Fitch Ratings. Definitions of the ratings categories in which Fitch may be asked to rate the Notes are set forth below in descending order or ranking:

AAA

A financial obligation rated “AAA” by Fitch is of the highest credit quality. “AAA” ratings denote the lowest expectation of default risk. They are assigned only in cases of exceptionally strong capacity for payment of financial commitments. This capacity is highly unlikely to be adversely affected by foreseeable events.

A financial obligation rated “A” by Fitch is of high credit quality. “A” ratings denote expectations of low default risk. The capacity for payment of financial commitments is considered strong. This capacity may, nevertheless, be more vulnerable to adverse business or economic conditions than is the case for higher ratings.

A financial obligation rated “AA” by Fitch ranks between those rated “AAA” and “A” and “AA” ratings denote expectations of very low default risk. The “AA” rating indicates very strong capacity for payment of financial commitments. This capacity is not significantly vulnerable to foreseeable events. Fitch has eight major rating categories that rank below the above ratings categories. Five of these lower ranking ratings categories range from “BB” to “C” and are assigned to obligations that have significant speculative characteristics and elevated or high levels of default risk. “RD” ratings indicate an issuer that in Fitch’s opinion has experienced an uncured payment default but which has not entered into bankruptcy filings, administration, receivership, liquidation or another formal winding-up procedure and which has not otherwise ceased operating. “D” ratings indicate an issuer that has entered into such a formal winding-up procedure or which has otherwise ceased operating. The ratings from “AA” to “CCC” may be modified by the addition of a plus “(+)” or minus “(-)” sign to denote relative status within major rating categories. If a rating has not been modified, this indicates that the rating ranks in the middle of the particular major rating category.

S&P Ratings. Definitions of the ratings categories in which S&P may be asked to rate the Notes are set forth below in descending order or ranking:

AAA

A financial obligation rated “AAA” has the highest rating assigned by S&P. The obligor’s capacity to meet its financial commitment on the obligation is extremely strong.

A financial obligation rated “A” is considered by S&P to be somewhat more susceptible to the adverse effects of changes in circumstances and economic conditions than obligations in higher-rated categories. However, the obligor’s capacity to meet its financial commitment on the obligation is still strong.

A financial obligation rated “AA” by S&P ranks between those rated “AAA” and “A” and differs from the highest-rated obligations only to a small degree. The obligor’s capacity to meet its financial commitments on an obligation rated “AA” by S&P is very strong. S&P has seven major ratings categories that rank below the above ratings categories. Five of these lower ranking ratings categories range from “BB” to “C” and are assigned to obligations that have significant speculative characteristics. An obligation rated “D” is in default or in breach of an imputed promise. The ratings from “AA” to “CCC” may be modified by the addition of a plus “(+)” or minus “(-)” sign to show relative standing within the rating categories. If a rating has not been modified, this indicates that the rating ranks in the middle of the particular major rating category.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The Issuer will use all of the proceeds of the offering of each series of Notes to finance the purchase of a Series pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and the related Series Purchase Agreement.

CANADIAN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

In the opinion of McCarthy Tétrault LLP and Stikeman Elliott LLP, the following is a summary of the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations generally applicable to a Noteholder if it were to acquire beneficial ownership of a Note at par as of the date hereof and who, for purposes of the Tax Act and at all relevant times, is resident or deemed to be resident in Canada, will hold such Note as capital property, deals with the Trust and the Dealers at arm’s length and is not affiliated with the Trust or the Dealers, but does not apply to a Noteholder which is a “financial institution” within the meaning of section 142.2 of the Tax Act, a Noteholder who has elected under the Tax Act to report its Canadian tax results in a “functional currency” (which excludes Canadian dollars), a Noteholder who enters into a “derivative forward agreement” with respect to the Notes or a Noteholder an interest in which is a “tax shelter investment” for the purposes of the Tax Act. Generally, the Notes will constitute capital property to a Noteholder provided that the Noteholder does not hold the Notes in the course of carrying on a business of buying and selling securities and does not acquire them as part of an adventure in the nature of trade. Certain Noteholders who might not otherwise be considered to hold their Notes as capital property may, in certain circumstances, be entitled to have them treated as capital property by making the one time election permitted by subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act. Noteholders should consult their own tax advisors for advice as to whether an election under subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act is available and/or advisable in their particular circumstances.

This summary is based upon the current provisions of the Tax Act and the regulations thereunder (the “Regulations”) in force as of the date hereof, counsel’s understanding of the current administrative and assessing policies and practices of the Canada Revenue Agency (the “CRA”) published in writing by it prior to the date hereof and all specific proposals to amend the Tax Act and the Regulations publicly announced by or on behalf of the Minister of Finance (Canada) prior to the date hereof (the “Tax Proposals”). However, no assurances can be given that the Tax Proposals will be enacted or otherwise implemented in their current form, or at all. This summary is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations and except for the Tax Proposals, does not take into account or anticipate any changes in law or in the administrative or assessing policies and practices of the CRA, whether by legislative, governmental or judicial action, nor does it take into account provincial, territorial or foreign tax considerations, which may differ significantly from those discussed herein.

This summary is of a general nature only, is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations, is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice to any particular Noteholder or prospective Noteholder, and no representations with respect to the income tax consequences to any particular Noteholder or prospective Noteholder are made. Accordingly, prospective Noteholders should consult their own tax advisors with respect to their particular circumstances.

If the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations applicable to any particular series of Notes are materially different from those that are described in this summary, such Canadian federal income tax considerations will be summarised in the applicable pricing supplement related to that particular series of Notes.

Interest on the Notes

A Noteholder that is a corporation, partnership, unit trust or trust of which a corporation or a partnership is a beneficiary will be required to include in computing its income for a taxation year any interest or amount that is considered for the purposes of the Tax Act to be interest on a Note that accrued to it, or that was deemed to accrue to it, to the end of the taxation year or that became receivable or was received by it before the end of the taxation year, to the extent that such interest (or amount considered to be interest) was not included in computing its income for a preceding taxation year.

Any other Noteholder, including an individual, will be required to include in computing its income for a taxation year any amount received or receivable by the Noteholder in the taxation year as interest or an amount considered to be interest on the Notes, depending upon the method regularly followed by the Noteholder in computing income, to the extent that such amount was not included in computing the Noteholder's income for a preceding taxation year. In addition, if such Noteholder has not otherwise included the accrued interest on a Note in computing the Noteholder's income at periodic intervals of not more than one year, such Noteholder will be required to include in computing income for a taxation year any interest that accrues or is deemed to accrue to the Noteholder on the Note up to the end of any "anniversary day" (as defined in the Tax Act) in that year to the extent such interest was not otherwise included in the Noteholder's income for that year or a preceding year.

Disposition of Notes

On a disposition or deemed disposition of a Note by a Noteholder at any time, including the redemption or at maturity, the Noteholder will be required to include in computing its income for the taxation year in which the disposition occurs an amount equal to the accrued interest (or amount considered to be interest) on the Note to the date of the disposition and that is not payable until after that time, to the extent that such amount was not otherwise included in computing the Noteholder's income for that taxation year or a preceding taxation year. Where the amount so included in income exceeds the portion of the total consideration received by the Noteholder for the Note that is reasonably allocated to such accrued but unpaid interest, and the Note has been disposed of for consideration equal to the fair market value of the Note at the time of disposition, such excess may generally be deducted by the Noteholder in computing income, subject to the detailed rules contained in the Tax Act in that regard.

In general, on the disposition or deemed disposition of a Note, the Noteholder will realize a capital gain (or a capital loss) to the extent that the proceeds of disposition of the Note, net of any amount included in the Noteholder's income as interest (less any amount deducted by the Noteholder in accordance with the last sentence of the previous paragraph) and any reasonable costs of disposition, exceed (or are exceeded by) the adjusted cost base of the Note to the Noteholder. One-half of any capital gain must be included in computing the Noteholder's income as a taxable capital gain for the taxation year in which the disposition occurs, and one-half of any capital loss ("allowable capital loss") realized in a taxation year must be deducted against taxable capital gains for the year. Any allowable capital loss in excess of taxable capital gains realized in a taxation year may generally be deducted from a Noteholder's taxable capital gains in any of the three years preceding the year or any year following the year in accordance with and subject to the detailed rules contained in the Tax Act in that regard. Capital gains realized by an individual or by most trusts may give rise to alternative minimum tax under the Tax Act.

Refundable Tax

A Noteholder that is a “Canadian-controlled private corporation” (as defined in the Tax Act) may be liable to pay a refundable tax on its “aggregate investment income” (as defined in the Tax Act) for the year, including amounts in respect of interest and taxable capital gains.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

Pursuant to the Dealer Agreement, the Dealers are authorized as agents of the Issuer to solicit offers to purchase the Notes in all provinces of Canada, directly or indirectly through other investment dealers. The rate(s) of commission payable in connection with sales by the Dealers as agents of Notes shall be as determined from time to time by mutual agreement of the Issuer and the Dealers and will be set forth in the applicable pricing supplement.

The Dealer Agreement also provides that the Notes may be purchased from time to time by any of the Dealers, as principal, at such prices as may be agreed between the Issuer and the Dealer for resale to the public at prices to be negotiated with purchasers. Such resale prices may vary during the period of distribution and from purchaser to purchaser. The Dealer(s)’ compensation will be increased or decreased by the amount by which the aggregate price paid for the Notes by purchasers exceeds or is less than the aggregate proceeds paid by the Dealer to the Issuer.

The Issuer may also offer the Notes directly to the public from time to time pursuant to any applicable statutory registration exemptions at such prices and upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the purchaser, in which case no commission will be paid to the Dealers.

Notes may be sold at fixed prices or at non-fixed prices (that is, at prices determined by reference to the prevailing price of a specified security in a specific market), at market prices prevailing at the time of sale, at prices related to such prevailing market prices or at prices to be negotiated with purchasers. Accordingly, the price at which Notes will be offered and sold to the public may vary from purchaser to purchaser and during the period of distribution of the Notes in which case the Dealers’ overall compensation will vary depending upon the aggregate price paid for the Notes by the purchasers.

The Issuer will have the sole right to accept offers to purchase Notes and may, in its absolute discretion, reject any proposed purchase of Notes in whole or in part. Each Dealer will have the right, in its discretion reasonably exercised, to reject any offer to purchase Notes received by it in whole or in part. The obligations of the Dealers under the Dealer Agreement may be terminated at their discretion on the basis of their assessment of the state of the financial markets and may also be terminated upon the occurrence of certain stated events. The Notes will not be listed on any securities exchange. The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the “1933 Act”) or under any state securities laws and may not be offered, sold or delivered in the United States (as defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) except in certain transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act, including, if contemplated in the applicable pricing supplement, transactions under Rule 144A under the 1933 Act.

CTB, the Seller and Servicer of the Ownership Interests, the Administrator and “promoter” of the Trust, the Subordinated Lender to the Trust and the provider of the Seller’s Representation and Indemnity Covenant to the Trust, is an indirect, 80%-owned subsidiary of CTC, and CTC has provided a guarantee with respect to CTB’s Servicer obligations. On October 1, 2014, CTC sold a 20% equity interest in its financial services business, including CTB, to Scotiabank. Scotiabank also provides $2.25 billion of committed credit to CTB comprised of two Trust note purchase facilities totalling $2 billion and a $250 million revolving line of credit to mitigate future funding risk. In addition, the equity transaction includes the option for CTC to sell, subject to certain conditions, an additional 29% of its ownership interest in its financial services business to Scotiabank at any time prior to October 1, 2024. Furthermore, CTC gave Scotiabank an option to sell its equity interest back to CTC at any time during the six months following October 1, 2024. Scotia Capital Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Scotiabank, may be actively involved in the structuring of the issue of the Notes, the decision to distribute the Notes and the terms of such distribution. As a result of the relationship between Scotiabank (and its affiliates) and CTC and CTB (and their affiliates) and the Trust described herein, the Trust may be considered a connected issuer of Scotia Capital Inc.

under applicable securities legislation. Scotia Capital Inc. has agreed to act as a Dealer with respect to the Notes and may receive underwriting or agency fees therefor.

Each issue of Notes will be a new issue of securities with no established trading market. In connection with any offering of Notes, the Dealers may, subject to the foregoing, over-allot or effect transactions that stabilize or maintain the market price of the Notes offered at a level above that which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time. Any Dealers to or through whom Notes are sold may make a market in the Notes, but such Dealers will not be obligated to do so and may discontinue any market making at any time without notice. No assurance can be given that a trading market in the Notes of any issue will develop or as to the liquidity of any trading market for the Notes.

INVESTMENT CONSIDERATIONS

In connection with an investment in any series of Notes, prospective investors should consider, among other things and in addition to any matters set forth in the relevant pricing supplement, the following investment considerations:

Limited Recourse

Each series of Notes represents secured obligations of the Trust with recourse limited to the related Series and the Trust's entitlement to amounts on deposit in, and Eligible Investments made with the proceeds of amounts deposited to, the related Series Accounts, subject to the prior payment of certain amounts and, in the case of principal on the related Subordinated Notes, to the prior payment of interest and principal on the related Senior Notes, in each case as described under "Details of the Offering – The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking". The Trust is a special purpose entity with no independent business activities other than acquiring and financing the purchase of Ownership Interests and related activities and has no significant assets other than Ownership Interests and the proceeds therefrom and related Eligible Investments. See "Glacier Credit Card Trust – Special Purpose Nature of the Trust", "– The Trust Assets" and "Use of Proceeds". While the limited nature of the Trust's business activities limits the Trust's business risk, the Trust remains subject to all ordinary commercial risks, including fraud relating to the Account Assets and related transactions, or lack of performance by counterparties under any relevant agreements. The Notes will not represent interests in or obligations of CTC, CTB, Computershare (other than in its capacity as trustee of the Trust), the Dealers, BNY, the Beneficiary or any affiliate thereof and none of these entities has represented or undertaken that the Receivables will realize their face value or any part thereof and, accordingly, neither the Trust nor its creditors will have any claim against any of these entities for any deficiency arising in the realization of the Receivables. The Trust is not a trust company and does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company. Neither the Series, the Notes nor the Receivables are "deposits" within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act and are not insured or guaranteed by CTC, CTB, Computershare, the Dealers, BNY, any affiliates thereof, nor CDIC or any other governmental agency or instrumentality.

Certain Legal Matters

The interests of the Trust may be subordinate to statutory deemed trusts and other non-consensual liens, trusts and claims created or imposed by statute or rule of law on the property of CTB arising prior to the time undivided co-ownership interests in Receivables are Transferred to the Trust, which may reduce the amounts that may be available to the Trust and, consequently, the Noteholders. CTB will not give notice to Obligors of the Transfer to the Trust of the Series or the grant of a security interest therein to the Indenture Trustee. However, under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, CTB will warrant that undivided co-ownership interests in the Receivables have been or will be Transferred to the Trust free and clear of the security interest or lien of any third party claiming an interest therein through or under CTB. The Trust will warrant and covenant that it has not taken and will not take any action to encumber or create any security interests or other liens in any of the property of the Trust, except for the security interest granted to the Indenture Trustee and except as permitted under the Trust Documents. In addition, while CTB is the Servicer, Collections on the Receivables may, under certain circumstances, be commingled with the funds of CTB prior to the time payments are made under the Notes and, in the event of the insolvency of CTB, the Custodian may not have a traceable interest in such Collections.

The intention of CTB is that the Transfers will be treated as sales for legal purposes and CTB will make a notation on its financial statements that the Transfers described herein are sales for legal purposes. As the subject of a legal sale, each Ownership Interest would not form part of the property of CTB subject to liquidation, receivership or control proceedings and, in any such case, available for distribution to the creditors of CTB. However, if insolvency proceedings were commenced by or against CTB, it is possible that a liquidator, receiver or a creditor of CTB may attempt to argue that the transactions between CTB and the Trust are other than a true sale of Ownership Interests. This position, if accepted by a court, could prevent timely or ultimate payment of amounts due to the Trust and, consequently, the Noteholders. Pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and the Series Purchase Agreements, any proceeding relating to the dissolution, liquidation, winding-up, insolvency of, or appointment of a receiver for, the Seller constitutes an Amortization Event and the insolvency of the Seller will limit the ability for further Accounts to be added pursuant to certain provisions of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement. Consistent with regulatory guidelines, it is specified in the Series Purchase Agreements that no other event, including regulatory action affecting the Seller, as the supplier of assets, shall cause an Amortization Event to occur. The application of any of the foregoing could result in a timing delay of receipt and the reduction of the amounts payable to the Trust and, consequently, the Noteholders.

Also, in the case of the insolvency of the Issuer Trustee, it is possible that the creditors of the Issuer Trustee may attempt to argue that the assets of the Trust are held by the Issuer Trustee in its personal capacity (and not as trustee of the Trust) and are to be available to the creditors of the Issuer Trustee. Assuming that the Issuer Trustee deals with the assets of the Trust in accordance with the provisions of the Declaration of Trust, the assets of the Trust would not constitute property of the Issuer Trustee available for distribution to the creditors of the Issuer Trustee. A trustee, liquidator or receiver appointed with respect to the Issuer Trustee may be able to recover from the property of the Trust a portion of its costs that are incurred until a replacement for the Issuer Trustee, as trustee of the Trust, is appointed or pending any proceeding in respect of the property of the Trust. Such costs may exceed the compensation provided for in the Declaration of Trust.

To further support the sale of each Ownership Interest, the Trust will make registrations in applicable jurisdictions in respect of the assignment to the Trust of such Ownership Interest in the Account Assets, as required by applicable law, and, as a result, the Trust would have an interest in the Account Assets superior to that of a liquidator of the Seller and any other party with a subsequently registered security interest therein.

Amounts that are on deposit from time to time in the Series Accounts for any Series may be invested in Eligible Investments. If insolvency proceedings were to be commenced by or against any entity with which an Eligible Investment is made or which is an issuer, obligor or guarantor of any Eligible Investment, the ability of the Trust or the Custodian, as applicable, to enforce its rights to any such Eligible Investments and the ability of the Trust to make payments to Noteholders in a timely manner may be adversely affected and may result in a loss on some or all of the Notes. In order to reduce this risk, the Eligible Investments must satisfy certain ratings criteria. See "Series of Ownership Interests – Eligible Investments".

After the occurrence of an Event of Default with respect to a series of Notes, including the insolvency of the Trust or the Issuer Trustee, and a declaration by the Indenture Trustee that Notes of a series are immediately due and payable, payments of interest and principal on the series of Notes are subordinate to all costs, charges and expenses of the Indenture Trustee incurred in exercising its rights under the Trust Indenture with respect to the related Ownership Interest (including the appointment of a receiver), including the reasonable remuneration of such receiver or any agent or employee of such receiver or any agent of the Indenture Trustee. Such amounts may be significant in the context of an Event of Default. If such amounts become too great, payments of interest on and principal of the Notes may be reduced or delayed.

While CTB is the Servicer, Collections held by CTB may, subject to certain conditions, be commingled and used for the benefit of CTB prior to making required deposits and, in the event of the liquidation, insolvency, receivership or administration of CTB, the ability of the Trust to enforce its rights to the Collections in a timely manner may be adversely affected and Collections that have been commingled may be unrecoverable. In the event of a Servicer Termination Event as a result of the insolvency of CTB, the right of the Co-Owners to appoint a Successor Servicer may be stayed or prevented.

The application to an Obligor of Canadian federal bankruptcy and insolvency laws and related provincial laws could also affect the ability to collect the Receivables. Federal bankruptcy laws generally release individual Obligors of their obligation to pay their Receivable upon their discharge from bankruptcy.

Expected Repayment Date

The accumulation of Collections each month during a Liquidation Period equal to the related Monthly Principal Accumulation Amount is expected to enable the Trust to repay the Notes on the related Expected Repayment Date with respect to a Series. However, there can be no assurance that the actual performance of the pool during the Liquidation Period will be in accordance with the assumptions underlying the determination of the related Liquidation Commencement Day or that the related Monthly Principal Accumulation Amount will be appropriate or correct or that any or all of the other factors underlying such determinations will be present. The distribution of sufficient Collections in respect of each Series by the related Expected Repayment Date is primarily dependent on the monthly collection rate and the availability of Excess Collections and will not be made if the Collections required to be distributed to the Trust in respect of such Series are insufficient. No assurance can be given as to the monthly collection rates that will actually occur in any future period. The actual rate of accumulation of Collections in the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account will depend, among other factors, on the rate of Collections, the timing of the receipt of Collections and the rate of default by Obligors. As a result, repayment of the Notes may occur later than the applicable Expected Repayment Date. The Expected Repayment Date would also be affected by the commencement of the related Amortization Period and potentially the existence of other Series. See “Details of the Offering – The Notes – Repayment of Principal”.

Consumer Protection Laws and Introduction of New Laws and Changes to Current Laws and Regulations

The relationship between the Obligors and the Seller, as credit card issuer, is regulated by the Bank Act (Canada) and regulations made thereunder. Other federal consumer protection laws of general application also regulate this relationship, including the Competition Act, the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, and the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act and its regulations.

Certain federal legislation and provincial and territorial legislation (to the extent that such legislation is determined to apply to federally regulated banks) limit a cardholder’s liability for unauthorized use, impose disclosure requirements before or when an account is opened, periodically thereafter at least monthly and for changes in account terms, and require that cardholders be given advance notice of at least one month if an interest rate is to increase. The information to be disclosed includes, among other things, the interest rate that is charged, the minimum payment required each month, and each month the total cost of borrowing, including all interest and fees. If proper disclosure is not provided respecting the interest rate and fees that are charged or the Receivables are not created in compliance with applicable federal and provincial legislation, the Trust, as owner of the Ownership Interests, may be directly liable in some jurisdictions as assignee for such failure to comply with applicable law, and, in all jurisdictions, has no greater rights than the Seller, such that, where under provincial and territorial consumer protection legislation the failure to provide prescribed information or comply with applicable law would give rise to any liability to Obligors or to any defences, rights of set-off or claims for reimbursement by Obligors, the Trust may be subject to such liabilities, defences, rights and claims with the result that the Trust may be unable to recover from the Obligor all or part of the credit charges owing by the Obligor.

Other regulations that apply to consumer credit card holders require that credit card holders give express consent to credit limit increases, impose restrictions and requirements on debt collection practices, prohibit over-limit fees resulting from a merchant placing a hold on a credit card and entitle Obligors to cancel certain on-going optional services that have been purchased on a credit card and to be refunded a proportional amount of the charges for that service based on the portion of the service that has not been used as of the effective date of cancellation, thereby reducing the balance outstanding under the particular Account. It is also a requirement that credit card holders be given a minimum grace period (21 days from the mailing date for residents of Québec and 21 days from the statement date for customers who reside elsewhere) to make payment in full before interest may be charged on new purchases and that payments on a credit card in excess of the minimum payment be allocated against charges carrying different interest rates either pro rata or based on the interest rate, beginning with charges with the highest rate and then against other charges in descending order.

Regulations also prohibit banks from sending unsolicited credit card cheques to holders of their credit cards, which may reduce the use of such cheques, and therefore, the amount of Receivables and interest that is charged under the Accounts.

All provinces and territories also have legislation that regulates the granting of credit to consumers and most provinces and territories have legislation which regulates the use of consumer reports with respect to the issuance of credit cards and legislation which regulates collection practices, which may be relevant to the Accounts to the extent that such legislation is determined to apply to federally regulated banks.

Canadian banks are the subject of extensive regulation by the Canadian federal government and the governments of the provinces and territories. Legislative and regulatory proposals and amendments are regularly advanced which, if adopted, could limit the types of products and services that may be offered and the amount of finance charge rates or other fees that may be charged and could affect the profitability of the Seller's credit card business or the manner in which it conducts its activities. It is impossible to determine the extent of the impact of any new laws, regulations or initiatives that may be proposed, or whether any of the proposals of the Canadian federal government or the governments of the provinces and territories will become law or changes to current or new laws and regulations or changes in their interpretation or implementation. Changes to existing consumer protection laws or other laws that govern the relationship between credit card holders and the originators of credit card accounts, including credit reporting and anti-money laundering legislation (including changes in the judicial or regulatory interpretation thereof), or the introduction of new laws of such type, may place additional requirements and obligations on the Seller with respect to the origination and maintenance of credit card accounts, may limit the products or services the Seller can provide or the pricing or delivery of such products, or may increase the ability of competitors to compete with the Seller's products and services. Any such legislative, judicial or regulatory changes may affect the Seller's ability to generate new receivables. If the rate at which the Seller generates new receivables declines significantly, the Seller might be unable to designate Additional Accounts and assign the Account Assets arising therein to the Trust, if any, and an Amortization Event with respect to a Series could occur, resulting in payment of principal to Noteholders sooner than expected. If the rate at which the Seller generates new Receivables decreases significantly at a time when Noteholders are scheduled to receive principal on the Notes, Noteholders might receive principal more slowly than planned. Moreover, the Servicer's failure to identify, communicate and comply with current and changing applicable laws and regulations could result in the Servicer not being in compliance in all material respects with requirements of law in connection with the servicing of Receivables in such a manner that would have a material adverse effect on the Accounts or the Receivables, and if such non-compliance has a material adverse effect on the interest of the Trust therein, such Receivables may be reassigned to the Servicer. See "The Account Assets – Mandatory Reassignment".

The overall consumer protection landscape continues to evolve. Quebec has made changes to its consumer protection legislation. Among other measures, these changes mandate a monthly minimum payment requirement of 5% for new credit card accounts and for existing credit card accounts, 2% rising to 5% in annual 0.5% increments. They also prohibit credit card issuers from charging an 'over limit' fee to Quebec credit card holders when such credit card holders exceed the credit limits on their credit card accounts and impose additional disclosure and adjudication requirements for new credit card accounts that are categorized as "High Cost Credit Contracts" (i.e. the policy interest rate of the Bank of Canada + 22%). These changes will come into force on August 1, 2019.

In the 2018 federal budget, the federal government of Canada announced that it had undertaken a comprehensive review of the consumer protection framework and, as a result of this review, it planned to introduce legislation to expand the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada's tools and mandates and continue the advancement of consumers' rights and interests when dealing with banks. On October 29, 2018, the federal government of Canada introduced such proposed legislation. The amendments set forth in the Budget Implementation Act, 2018, No. 2 (Canada) ("Bill C-86") establish a new federal financial consumer protection framework and create new consumer protection obligations on banks under the Bank Act (Canada), including in the areas of corporate governance, responsible business conduct, disclosure and transparency. Bill C-86 also amends the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada Act (Canada) to strengthen the mandate of the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada and grant it additional powers. The full extent of the changes that will result from Bill C-86 must await the publication of the related regulations. Further changes to consumer protection laws and the introduction of new laws and regulations, including in the application or interpretation thereof, may impede origination or collection efforts, change account holder use patterns, reduce revenue from interest and fees, or increase expenses in the business, any of which may result in acceleration of or reduction in payment on the Notes.

In October, 2004, a motion was filed for authorization to proceed with a class action in Quebec against CTB and a number of other banks with respect to cash advance transaction fees charged by CTB and such other banks. In November, 2006, the Quebec Superior Court authorized that class action to proceed. The agreement signed between CTB and the plaintiff to settle this action was submitted to the Court for approval. The Court did not approve it in view of the amount of fees payable to class counsel which were considered too high. The parties are currently considering their options. In May 2014, the Seller, CTS and CTC were served with an action before the Court of Queen's Bench of Saskatchewan. Also named as defendants were Mastercard, Visa, several other banks and two national retailers. The class action alleges that the defendants have conspired to create and impose rules that have resulted in merchants paying more for credit card acceptance than they would have in a truly free and competitive marketplace. The class action has not yet been certified. On April 16, 2015, the Court in Saskatchewan made an order staying this class action pending resolution of other similar class actions related to merchant fees. The Seller is not a party to these other class actions. CTB will agree, in connection with each series of Notes to be issued hereunder, to indemnify the Trust in respect of any loss it may suffer in respect of the foregoing claims if such claims remain outstanding at the time such series of Notes are issued.

Actions to Limit Interchange

In recent years, interchange rates and certain credit card network rules have been the topic of increased focus by industry groups and consumers, and increased scrutiny by regulators. In particular, Canada's Department of Finance indicated it would work with industry participants to "lower credit and acceptance costs for merchants" and on November 4, 2014 Mastercard and Visa each announced separate voluntary commitments to Canada's Department of Finance to reduce average effective interchange rates on credit cards to 1.5% beginning no later than April 2015 for the next five years. The Department of Finance announced that this represented, at that time, an approximate 10% reduction in average effective interchange rates. On November 18, 2014, Mastercard and Visa released additional details of their respective plans to implement these commitments, which included various adjustments to interchange rates that came into effect April 2015, and, as these plans are based on certain assumptions of future credit card usage, there is a continuing risk that Mastercard and Visa will have to make further adjustments to interchange rates and/or structure, including special arrangements for specific merchants, in order to ensure that the commitments are met and to respond to a changing competitive landscape. On September 14, 2016, the Canadian Minister of Finance released a statement acknowledging that independent audits confirm that Mastercard and Visa have met their respective commitments to reduce interchange fees. The Minister also announced that the Government of Canada will conduct a further assessment of the fees charged by credit card networks (Mastercard and Visa). On August 9, 2018, the Minister announced new separate voluntary commitments from Mastercard and Visa that will (1) reduce domestic consumer interchange fees to an annual average effective rate of 1.40% for a period of five years; (2) narrow the range of interchange rates (lowest vs. highest fee) charged to businesses; and (3) require annual verification by an independent third party. This reduction in the average effective rate from 1.50% to 1.40% will come into effect in April 2020 after the current voluntary commitments expire. The narrowing of the ranges between the highest and lowest interchange rates is intended to benefit small businesses over large businesses. These reductions in interchange rates under the Mastercard plan would result in a reduction of the interchange rate earned in respect of the Accounts and could therefore potentially have an adverse effect upon the Collections and Receivables available to make payments on the Notes, since interchange payable on the Accounts is included in Collections.

In addition, in the United States and Canada, several lawsuits have been filed by merchants relating to these matters. A U.S. $7.25 billion multi-district interchange-related settlement was approved in the United States in December 2013, however the settlement was struck out on appeal on June 30, 2016. On March 27, 2017 it was announced that the U.S. Supreme Court had declined to review that decision. A number of merchants had opted out of settlement and commenced their own actions. In Canada, a B.C.-based merchant lawsuit brought against the networks (Mastercard and Visa) as well as the banks who are issuers of credit cards to cardholders and/or acquirers, and entities that provide payment processing services to merchants, was partially certified to proceed as a class action in March 2014. CTB was not a party to this action. Both sides appealed the certification decision. On August 19, 2015, the B.C. Court of Appeal granted in part both sides' appeals, thereby de-certifying a portion of the claim that had been certified by the lower court and certifying a portion of the claim that the lower court had not certified. On February 8, 2018, the Supreme Court declined to hear the plaintiffs' appeal of the Court of Appeal decision. Therefore the plaintiffs' amendments to re-introduce the post-2010 Competition Act conspiracy allegations into their B.C. claim remain prohibited. The trial is currently scheduled to commence in October 2019. In June 2017, Mastercard and Visa reached a settlement with the plaintiffs, subject to court approval. Each of them will pay CDN$19.5 million and, beginning 18 months after the court approves the settlement, both networks will amend their rules to permit merchants to add a "surcharge" to credit card transactions. Moreover, a number of the credit card issuers that were party to the lawsuit have settled with the plaintiffs. Similar issue class actions are pending in four other Canadian provinces. The central allegation in these lawsuits is that, through network rules, the participants within each network (e.g. Mastercard and Visa and their issuers and acquirers) conspired to increase the fees paid by merchants. If successful, these actions could potentially have an adverse effect upon the Collections and Receivables available to make payments on the Notes, since interchange payable on the Accounts is included in Collections.

Mastercard International Incorporated may from time to time change interchange fee rates or the amount of interchange paid or payable to financial institutions such as the Seller issuing Mastercard credit cards.

There can be no assurance that the historical information regarding the Account Assets will be representative of the performance of the Account Assets during the term of the Notes.

Trading in Notes

There is currently no market through which the Notes may be sold. The Dealers expect, but are not obligated, to make a market in the Notes. The market for the Notes may be limited to the extent any law, treaty, rule, regulation or guideline applicable to a certain investor, or the charter, constating or governing documents of any investor, limits or restricts such investor's investment in the Notes (either directly or by virtue of the nature of Account Assets underlying the Series Ownership Interests owned by the Trust). There can be no assurance that a secondary market for trading in the Notes will develop or that any secondary market that does develop will continue. Accordingly, an investment in the Notes should be considered only by those persons who are able to bear the economic risk of the investment until the related Expected Repayment Date (or, if the Notes are not paid in full on the related Expected Repayment Date, the applicable Series Termination Date). This may affect the pricing of the Notes in the secondary market, the transparency and availability of trading prices, the liquidity of the Notes and the extent of Issuer regulation.

Changes in Accounts

Pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, CTB does not transfer to the Co-Owner(s) an interest in the Accounts, but rather only Transfers an undivided co-ownership interest in the Account Assets. As owner of the Accounts, CTB will have the right to determine the periodic credit, finance or service charges, discount amounts and the fees which will be applicable from time to time under the Accounts, to alter the minimum monthly payment required under the Accounts, to change the timing of write-offs and to change various other terms with respect to the Accounts, the Credit Card Agreements related thereto and its practices and procedures relating to the operation of its credit card business, subject to compliance with certain conditions. See "The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Restrictions on Amendments to the Terms and Conditions of the Accounts" and "– Servicing of the Receivables". There can be no assurances that changes in applicable law, changes in the marketplace, changes resulting from any adverse litigation settlement or judgement or prudent business practice might not result in a determination by CTB to change its periodic credit, finance or service charges or other charges assessed on the Receivables or otherwise take actions which would change the terms of one or more Accounts. Any change made by CTB may have an impact upon the Receivables.

Addition of Accounts and Substitution of Accounts

Subject to certain conditions, Mastercard credit card accounts, Canadian Tire credit card accounts and Other Credit Card Accounts and receivables thereunder may be added as Additional Accounts and Receivables. Such Additional Accounts and Receivables arising thereunder may include accounts that are originated or collected in a manner that is different than current Accounts. Consequently, there can be no assurance that such Additional Accounts will be of the same credit quality as current Accounts. Such Additional Accounts may consist of credit card accounts that perform differently than the current Accounts.

In addition, Mastercard credit card accounts, Canadian Tire credit card accounts and Other Credit Card Accounts and Receivables thereunder may be substituted with Mastercard credit card accounts, Canadian Tire credit card accounts or Other Credit Card Accounts (as the case may be) as Substituted Accounts and Receivables thereunder. Mastercard credit card accounts, Canadian Tire credit card accounts and Other Credit Card Accounts and Receivables arising thereunder may not be administered or collected in the same manner and may perform differently. See “Canadian Tire Bank Credit Card Business.”

There can be no assurance that the Seller will have accounts available as Additional Accounts should it become obliged to add Accounts. Changes required by applicable law, changes in the marketplace, changes in the Seller’s product line-up, changes resulting from any adverse litigation settlement or judgment or prudent business practice may all result in the reduction of the amount of new eligible accounts originated.

Co-Owner Action

Subject to certain exceptions, Co-Owners of each Series may take certain actions, or direct certain actions to be taken, under the Pooling and Servicing Agreement or the related Series Purchase Agreement. However, under certain circumstances, the consent or approval of a specified percentage of all of the Co-Owners or the owners of a particular Series or Class will be required to direct certain actions, including requiring the appointment of a Successor Servicer following a Servicer Termination Event and certain amendments to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement.

Additional Series

It is expected that additional Series (which may be represented by different Classes within a single Series) will be created from time to time. The terms of such additional Series may include methods for determining related allocation percentages and allocating Collections, provisions creating different or additional enhancements and Additional Property, different Classes of Ownership Interests within the Series and other terms in respect only of such additional Series. As Ownership Interests of different Series will have different attributes and entitlements, it is anticipated that some Series will be in their Revolving Periods, while others are in their Liquidation Periods (or potentially in their Amortization Periods). Subject to certain limitations, each future Series may have entirely different methods for allocating Credit Charge Receivables, Recoveries and Pool Losses and for calculating the amount and timing of distributions of Collections to the Co-Owner(s). Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the existence and future sale of Ownership Interests of other Series might not have an impact on the timing or amounts of distributions to the Trust in respect of other Series and, in turn, to the holders of Notes not related to such Series. In addition, the terms applicable to other Series may include Servicer Termination Events other than those applicable to a Series. No Series Purchase Agreement in relation to the future creation and sale of other Series, however, may change the terms of a different Series or the terms of the Pooling and Servicing Agreement as applied to a different Series. As long as a Series is existing, a condition to the execution of any such Series Purchase Agreement will be the satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the outstanding Notes. There can be no assurance, however, that the terms of any other Series might not have an impact on the timing or amount of Collections received by the Trust. The creation and sale of additional Ownership Interests of an additional Series to a Person other than the Trust does not require the consent of the Trust.

Additional Series of Notes and Other Obligations of the Trust

As of the date hereof, six series of Notes issued by the Trust under the Trust Indenture are outstanding. The Trust may, pursuant to the Trust Indenture, issue additional series of Notes (which may be represented by different classes within a series) from time to time and incur other related obligations. A Series Supplement delivered in connection with the issuance of a series of Notes will specify the terms applicable to such series of Notes. Such terms may include provisions creating additional security or other credit enhancements, different classes of notes (including subordinated classes of notes) and any other provisions, requirements, conditions, guarantees, indemnities, events of default and other matters relating to the terms and conditions upon which the notes of such series or class thereof are to be issued under the Trust Indenture. No Series Supplement, however, may change the terms of other series of Notes or the terms of the Trust Indenture as applied to such other series of Notes. However, a new series of Notes may introduce Events of Default which apply to each other series of Notes. Certain remedies arising upon the occurrence of Events of Default, including the right to replace CTB as the Administrator and to exercise certain rights and discretions of the Issuer Trustee under the Basic Documents, may only be exercised upon the affirmative vote of Persons holding a specified percentage of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all outstanding Notes. As long as any of the Notes are outstanding, a condition to the execution of any Series Supplement will be that the Rating Agencies shall have advised the Trust that the issuance of the new series of Notes will not result in the reduction or withdrawal of the Rating Agencies' ratings of such outstanding Notes. The issuance of an additional series of Notes does not require the consent of outstanding Noteholders.

Dependence on CTB

Pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement, CTB acts as Servicer of the Receivables. The servicing of the Receivables, including the collection and allocation thereof, the making of the required deposits into the Collection Account, including deposits of Interchange Fees into the Collection Account, and the directing of the Custodian to make the required withdrawals from the Collection Account are to be performed by CTB. In servicing the Accounts, the Servicer is required to apply the same policies and procedures that it exercises in handling similar matters for its own account. In addition, CTB has the ability to change the terms of the Accounts. See "The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Restrictions on Amendments to the Terms and Conditions of the Accounts". Pursuant to the Administration Agreement, CTB has agreed to perform certain of the Issuer Trustee's responsibilities, including administering each Series Accumulations Account and determining the cashflow needs of the Trust. Noteholders are relying on CTB's good faith, expertise, policies and procedures, historical performance, technical resources and judgement in acting as Servicer and as Administrator. It is possible that a material disruption in collecting the Receivables may ensue if a Servicer Termination Event occurs and a Successor Servicer assumes CTB's servicing obligations. In addition, the collection results achieved by a Successor Servicer may differ materially from the results achieved during the time CTB is the Servicer. If CTB were to cease acting as Servicer, delays in processing payments on the Receivables and information in respect thereof could occur and result in delays in payments to the Noteholders. The Issuer Trustee together with any other Co-Owner(s) may, subject to certain conditions, replace CTB as Servicer in specified circumstances. The Issuer Trustee may also, subject to certain conditions, replace CTB as Administrator in specified circumstances. See "The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Servicer Termination Events" and "Glacier Credit Card Trust – Administration of the Trust". Holders of the Notes are also relying on CTB's good faith, expertise, policies and procedures, historical performance, technical resources and judgement with respect to credit adjudication in respect of Obligors.

None of CTC, CTB or their affiliates is obligated to make any payment in respect of the Notes. In addition, none of CTC, CTB (except in its capacity as Servicer) or their affiliates is obligated to make any payments in respect of any Ownership Interest or the Receivables (other than the obligation of CTB to purchase certain Receivables or undivided interests therein due to a failure to comply with certain covenants or the breach of certain representations and to the extent of any Eligible Investments under which CTC or CTB is the covenantor).

The Superintendent has broad powers under the Bank Act (Canada) to take control of CTB or its assets if it believes that CTB does not have sufficient assets to adequately protect CTB's depositors and creditors or that such depositors and creditors may otherwise be materially prejudiced, or if CTB fails or is expected to fail to pay its liabilities as they become due and payable. Once control has been taken, the Superintendent has broad statutory authority to do all things necessary or expedient to protect the rights and interests of the depositors and creditors of CTB, including that it may apply for the winding-up of CTB under the Winding-up and Restructuring Act (Canada).

A restructuring of CTB's assets and liabilities may also be attempted under the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada), where appropriate, after the Superintendent reports that (a) CTB is not viable (or about to be not viable) and the Bank Act (Canada) powers outlined above cannot assist, or (b) the Superintendent can take control under the Bank Act (Canada) and grounds exist for a winding-up order. The Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) restructuring orders are as follows: (i) the shares and subordinated debt of CTB may be vested in the CDIC, (ii) the CDIC may be appointed as a receiver in respect of CTB; (iii) a solvent federal bridge institution may be established to assume CTB's liabilities; or (iv) the CDIC may convert or cause CTB to convert certain of its shares and liabilities into common shares of CTB or any of its affiliates.

There is considerable uncertainty about the scope of the powers afforded to the Superintendent under the Bank Act (Canada) and the CDIC under the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and how these authorities may choose to exercise them. If an instrument or order were to be made under the provisions of the Bank Act (Canada) or Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) in respect of CTB, such instrument or order may (amongst other things) affect the ability of CTB to satisfy its ongoing obligations under the Basic Documents (including as Seller, Servicer and Administrator) and/or result in the cancellation, modification or conversion of certain unsecured liabilities of CTB under the Basic Documents or in other modifications to such documents without CTB's or any Noteholder's consent. As a result, the making of an instrument or order in respect of CTB as described above may affect the ability of the Trust to meet its obligations in respect of the Notes.

CTC, CTB and their affiliates may from time to time purchase Notes either at the time of their initial issuance or in any secondary market that may develop.

Origination of New Receivables and Competition in the Credit Card Industry

Except where an Additional Seller is added, the Trust will be completely dependent upon CTB for the generation of new Receivables. The ability of CTB to generate Receivables under the existing Accounts is, in turn, currently dependent in part on sales of products and services at the Canadian Tire Retail Outlets. There can therefore be no assurance that CTB will continue to originate Receivables at the same rate as in prior years. The dependency on Receivables being generated from sales at the Canadian Tire Retail Outlets is reduced to the extent that Receivables are being generated under Mastercard credit card accounts from payments made at entities other than Canadian Tire Retail Outlets. CTB is a licensee of the Mastercard trademark, a member of Mastercard and customer of Mastercard International Incorporated. Certain Mastercard credit card transactions are processed through the Mastercard authorization and settlement system. Should CTB for any reason cease to be a licensee of the Mastercard trademark or unable to use the Mastercard system, delays in payments on the Receivables and possible reductions in the amount thereof could occur. In addition, the ability of CTB to originate Receivables would be adversely impacted, as in these circumstances Receivables might only be originated through transactions at Canadian Tire Retail Outlets.

In addition, the credit card industry is highly competitive and operates in a legal and regulatory environment increasingly focused on the cost of interest and fees charged for credit cards. See, for example, the discussion under “– Actions to Limit Interchange”, regarding recent comments by the Canadian Department of Finance and voluntary actions by Mastercard and Visa to reduce interchange rates. As new credit card companies enter the market and all companies try to expand their market share, effective advertising, the use of credit cards by consumers and interchange fees charged to merchants regarding their acceptance and processing, target marketing and pricing strategies grow in importance. New federal and provincial laws and amendments to existing laws and further changes may be enacted to regulate further the credit card industry or to reduce finance charges or other fees (including interchange) or charges applicable to credit card accounts. In addition, certain credit card issuers assess periodic finance charges or other fees or charges at rates lower than the rate currently being assessed on most of the Accounts. The Seller may also solicit existing cardholders to open other revolving credit card accounts which offer benefits not available under the current credit cards, including lower periodic finance charges. If cardholders choose to utilize competing sources of credit, the rate at which new Receivables are generated in the Accounts and the applicable yield may be reduced and certain purchase and payment patterns with respect to Receivables may be affected. The Trust will be dependent upon the Seller's continued ability to generate new Receivables. If the rate at which new Receivables are generated declines significantly and the Seller does not add Additional Accounts and Receivables thereunder to the pool, an Amortization Event in respect of each Ownership Interest could occur resulting in the repayment of principal to Noteholders sooner than expected. If the rate at which the Seller generates new Receivables decreases significantly at a time when the Trust is scheduled to receive distributions for the repayment of principal owing under the Notes, Noteholders might receive principal after the applicable Expected Repayment Date.

Geographic Concentration

In general, a pool of Receivables with a significant portion of those Receivables being owed by Obligor residents in a smaller number of provinces, territories or geographic regions may be subject to losses that are more severe than other pools having a more diverse geographic distribution of receivables. Repayments by Obligor could be affected by economic conditions generally, by changes in governmental rules and fiscal policies in the regions where the Obligor is located, and by other factors that are beyond the control of the Obligor. To the extent that general economic or other relevant conditions in provinces or regions in which the Obligor is located decline and result in a decrease in disposable incomes in the province or region, the ability of Obligor to repay the Receivables may be adversely affected.

Social, Legal Economic and Other Factors

Changes in credit card use and payment patterns by cardholders result from a variety of economic, legal, technological and social factors. Economic factors include the rate of inflation, unemployment levels and relative interest rates. Social and technological factors include payments made by other means such as cell phones and the increased availability of internet-based lending and payment platforms. The use of incentive programs (e.g. loyalty rewards for credit card usage) may affect credit card use. The Trust is unable to determine and has no basis to predict whether or to what extent changes in applicable laws or other economic or social factors will affect credit card use or repayment patterns. See “Canadian Tire Bank Credit Card Business”.

Changes in Interest Rates

Fluctuations in and/or a rise in interest rates could have a negative impact on the performance of the Account Assets and the ability of the Seller to generate new Receivables. In particular, rising interest rates may affect usage and payment patterns of customers in the Accounts, including a reduction of credit card usage, a decrease in the amount of balance maintained on Accounts, and increases in delinquencies, all of which could have an adverse effect on the performance of the Account Assets and the ability of the Seller to generate new Receivables.

Credit Card Security

The Seller, its affiliates and other third parties process, transmit and store cardholder account information, and in the normal course of business, the Seller collects, analyzes and retains significant volumes of certain types of personally identifiable and other information pertaining to customers and employees. Information security risks for financial institutions like the Seller have generally increased in recent years. Criminals are using increasingly sophisticated methods to capture various types of information relating to cardholders' accounts to engage in illegal activities such as fraud and identity theft, and to expose and exploit potential security and privacy vulnerabilities in corporate systems and websites. As outsourcing and specialization of functions within the payments industry increases, there are more third parties involved in processing transactions using CTB's Mastercard credit cards and there is a risk the confidentiality, privacy and/or security of data held by third parties, including merchants that accept Mastercard credit cards and the Seller's business partners, may be compromised. Moreover, the Seller's information technology systems may experience service disruptions or degradation which could prevent access to online services and account information, compromise company or customer data, and impede transaction processing and financial reporting.

If these information technology systems experience a significant disruption or if actual or perceived data breaches or fraud levels involving CTB's credit cards were to rise due to the actions of third parties, employee error, malfeasance or otherwise, it could lead to regulatory intervention (such as mandatory card reissuance), increased litigation and remediation costs, greater concerns of customers relating to the privacy and security of their data, and reputational and financial damage to the Canadian Tire/CTB brand, which could reduce the use and acceptance of CTB's credit cards, and have an adverse impact on the Trust, the Seller or the Seller's affiliates, including the level of Receivables or the amount of Notes issued in the future.

Ratings

The ratings of the Notes address the Trust's capacity to meet its financial commitments on the Notes. However, the Rating Agencies do not evaluate, and the ratings of the Notes do not address, the likelihood of payment in full of the outstanding principal balance thereof on the related Expected Repayment Date. A rating is based primarily on the credit underlying the Receivables, the level of enhancement provided by the related Enhancement Amount and, in the case of the ratings of the Senior Notes, the subordination of the payments on the related Subordinated Notes to the prior payment of amounts payable on the Senior Notes in the manner described in this Prospectus. There is no assurance that a rating will remain for any given period of time or that a rating will not be lowered or withdrawn entirely by a Rating Agency if in its judgement circumstances so warrant. The ratings of the Notes are not a recommendation to purchase, hold or sell such Notes and may be subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the Rating Agencies. The ratings also do not address the possibility of the occurrence of an Amortization Event or a related Event of Default, which events could result in the partial or complete payment of the outstanding principal amount of the related Senior Notes and, on a subordinated basis, the related Subordinated Notes prior to the related Expected Repayment Date. In addition, the ratings take into consideration the capacity of those parties in a key support relationship to the Trust and the degree of covenant protection available to investors as contained in the Material Contracts. Certain changes to the arrangements referred to herein are subject to the satisfaction of the Rating Agency Condition with respect to the Notes.

ADDITIONAL INVESTMENT CONSIDERATIONS FOR PURCHASERS OF SUBORDINATED NOTES

Prospective purchasers of Subordinated Notes should also consider the following additional investment considerations:

Subordination

If Credit Charge Receivables and other amounts allocable to the Trust in any month in respect of a Series are less than the Funding Costs and Additional Funding Expenses in such month due to reduced pool yield, or if a Pool Loss occurs in any month, the shortfall may constitute a Deficiency in respect of such Series. If the shortfall exceeds the Enhancement Amount and such excess shortfall is not recovered from future Credit Charge Receivables and other amounts allocable to such Series, a loss equal to the excess shortfall will be suffered by the holders of the related Subordinated Notes. See "Details of the Offering – The Trust Indenture – Security and Ranking". In such circumstances, a holder of Subordinated Notes could lose some or all of its initial investment in the Subordinated Notes.

Voting

Certain amendments may be made to the Trust Indenture and the Basic Documents and certain directions may be provided, relating to, among other matters, the waiver of Servicer Termination Events and the sale of any or all of a Series upon the occurrence of one or more Events of Default, based on a direction given by the holders of the applicable Senior Notes and applicable Subordinated Notes voting together as a single series. As the holders of Subordinated Notes will generally constitute a minority of the Notes eligible to vote at a meeting called to consider such amendments or to provide written directions, the holders of the Senior Notes may have the ability to control any direction provided to the Indenture Trustee and the Trust. See "The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Servicer Termination Events" and "Details of the Offering – The Trust Indenture – Amendments to the Trust Indenture" and "– Amendments to Basic Documents". Accordingly, the holders of Senior Notes of a series will, in practical terms, have the power to determine whether amendments will be permitted and actions may be taken without regard to the position or interests of the holders of Subordinated Notes of such series. In certain circumstances, the position or interests of holders of Senior Notes of a series and of holders of Subordinated Notes of such series may be in conflict. As a result, holders of Subordinated Notes may be adversely affected by determinations made which are beyond their control.

MATERIAL CONTRACTS

Unless otherwise specified in the pricing supplement for any series of Notes issued under this Prospectus, the following are the contracts which have been entered into by the Issuer Trustee on behalf of the Trust or which will be entered into on or prior to the related Closing Date and which are considered “Material Contracts” to investors purchasing Notes of any such series:

- (a) the amended and restated Declaration of Trust referred to under “Glacier Credit Card Trust – The Issuer Trustee”;
- (b) the Trust Indenture referred to under “Details of the Offering” and the Series Supplement relating to the Notes;
- (c) the amended and restated Administration Agreement referred to under “Glacier Credit Card Trust – Administration of the Trust”;
- (d) the second amended and restated Pooling and Servicing Agreement referred to under “The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Custodial Arrangement”;
- (e) the Series Purchase Agreement relating to the applicable Series;
- (f) the Series Subordinated Loan Agreement relating to the applicable Series;
- (g) the Dealer Agreement referred to under “Plan of Distribution”; and
- (h) the Seller’s Representation and Indemnity Covenant referred to under “Seller’s Representation and Indemnity Covenant”.

Copies of these agreements are or will be posted under the Trust’s profile on www.sedar.com upon execution and may be examined at the head office of the Trust upon execution during normal business hours during the course of distribution of the Notes and for 30 days thereafter.

PROMOTER

CTB assumed the rights and obligations of CTS in organizing the Trust, and as such may be considered to be a “promoter” of the Trust within the meaning of the securities legislation of certain provinces of Canada. The Trust will receive the proceeds of offerings hereunder and will apply the proceeds to purchase Series from CTB from time to time.

Under the Administration Agreement, CTB will provide services required in connection with the offering of the Notes and the ongoing operations, maintenance and regulatory compliance of the Trust. Under the Seller’s Representation and Indemnity Covenant, CTB, as Seller, has agreed to indemnify the Trust in certain circumstances. See “Seller’s Representation and Indemnity Covenant”. CTB will be obligated to lend the amounts described under “Series Subordinated Loan Agreement” to the Trust.

INTEREST OF EXPERTS

The partners and associates of McCarthy Tétrault LLP and the partners and associates of Stikeman Elliott LLP, as a group, beneficially own, directly or indirectly, less than 1% of the securities of the Trust as of the date of this Prospectus.

Deloitte LLP are the auditors of the Trust and are independent of the Trust within the meaning of the Rules of Professional Conduct of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Ontario.

LEGAL MATTERS

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable pricing supplement, certain legal matters relating to the issuance of Notes will be passed upon on the date of issuance of such Notes by McCarthy Tétrault LLP on behalf of CTB and the Trust and by Stikeman Elliott LLP on behalf of the Dealers.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

CTB is party to a number of legal proceedings which constitute routine litigation incidental to the business and, based on current knowledge, management of CTB believes that the ultimate disposition of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the results of CTB.

CTB is the subject of a class action proceeding (the “Desjardins-Émond Action”) regarding allegations that cash advance transaction fees charged on CTB issued credit cards are not permitted under the Quebec Consumer Protection Act (the “Quebec CPA”). The Desjardins-Émond Action was certified against CTB and a number of other banks in November, 2006 by the Quebec Superior Court. The plaintiff is seeking a return of all fees assessed against class members, plus interest and punitive damages of $200 per class member. The class in the Desjardins-Émond Action is comprised of all persons in Quebec who have a Credit Card Agreement with CTB and who have paid CTB fees for cash advances in Canada or abroad from October 1, 2001 to September 30, 2010. The agreement signed between CTB and the plaintiff to settle this action was submitted to the Court for approval. The Court did not approve it in view of the amount of fees payable to class counsel which were considered too high. The parties are currently considering their options.

In addition, in May 2014, the Seller, CTS and CTC were served with an action before the Court of Queen’s Bench of Saskatchewan. Also named as defendants were Mastercard, Visa, several other banks and two other national retailers. The class action alleges that the defendants have conspired to create and impose rules that have resulted in merchants paying more for credit card acceptance than they would have in a truly free and competitive marketplace. The class action has not yet been certified. The class is all merchants in Canada who accepted Mastercard or Visa branded credit cards commencing in 1992. The claim seeks compensatory damages and a disgorgement of fees. The plaintiff is also seeking punitive damages and injunctive relief. On April 16, 2015, the Court in Saskatchewan made an order staying this class action pending resolution of other similar class actions related to merchant fees. The Seller is not a party to these other class actions.

AUDITORS, TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR

The independent auditors of the Trust are Deloitte LLP, Chartered Professional Accountants, 22 Adelaide Street West, Suite 200, Toronto, Ontario M5H 0A9. BNY is the transfer agent and registrar for the Notes. Registers for the registration and transfer of the Notes will be kept by BNY at its principal office in Toronto, Ontario.

UNDERTAKING

The Issuer has filed with the local securities regulatory authority or regulator in each of the provinces of Canada (the “Securities Regulators”), an undertaking that the Issuer will not distribute credit card asset-backed securities of a type that, at the time of distribution have not previously been distributed by prospectus, without pre-clearing with the applicable Securities Regulators the disclosure to be contained in the pricing supplement pertaining to the distribution of such novel securities.

STATUTORY RIGHTS OF WITHDRAWAL AND RESCISSION

Securities legislation in certain provinces of Canada provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. This right may be exercised within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a prospectus and any amendment and any applicable pricing supplement relating to the securities purchased by a purchaser. The securities legislation further provides a purchaser with remedies for rescission or, in some jurisdictions, revisions of the price or damages if the prospectus and any amendment (including any pricing supplement) contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the purchaser, provided that the remedies for rescission, revision of price or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser's province. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal advisor.

SELLER'S REPRESENTATION AND INDEMNITY COVENANT

Under a Seller's representation and indemnity covenant (the "Seller's Representation and Indemnity Covenant") the Seller will (a) represent and warrant to the Trust that the Prospectus, any pricing supplement or any document incorporated by reference herein or therein contains all information and disclosure with respect to CTB and CTC and their related businesses, the credit card business of CTB, the Portfolio, the Accounts, the Receivables and the Account Assets, in each case, that is required to be included in the Prospectus, any pricing supplement or any document incorporated by reference herein or therein in order for such disclosure to constitute full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the Notes and otherwise comply with applicable securities laws, and (b) indemnify the Trust for any losses, claims, damages, liabilities, costs and expenses (or resulting claims, actions, suits or proceedings) arising as a result of any Misrepresentation contained in respect of such information in the Prospectus, any pricing supplement or any document incorporated by reference herein or therein or as a result of a breach by the Seller of a material representation, warranty or covenant contained in the Material Contracts. Pursuant to the Trust Indenture, the right, title and interest of the Trust in the Seller's Representation and Indemnity Covenant will be assigned by way of security to the Indenture Trustee and will form part of the Trust Assets securing the Trust's obligations under the Notes. The Trust Indenture provides that the Trust, upon having received an indemnity satisfactory to it, will enforce the Seller's Representation and Indemnity Covenant in the event that the Trust becomes liable to any purchaser of Notes on the basis described under "Statutory Rights of Withdrawal and Rescission".

GLOSSARY

The following are selected terms and phrases that are used frequently in this Prospectus. Unless otherwise defined herein or unless the context otherwise requires, such terms and phrases have the meanings set out below. If terms or phrases are defined but are not capitalized in this Prospectus, such terms or phrases are intended to have a similar meaning to the meaning ascribed to the capitalized terms, subject to applicable variations as the context requires to reflect differences, as applicable, between (a) the attributes of each Series and those of other Series, (b) the terms of the Senior Notes and Subordinated Notes of a series and those of other notes, and (c) matters relating to the Receivables forming part of the Account Assets and the receivables included in the Portfolio.

“1933 Act” has the meaning set out under “Plan of Distribution”;

“Account” means (a) each Initial Account, (b) each Additional Account, (c) each Substituted Account, (d) each Related Account, (e) any account originated as a replacement of an Account in connection with the amendment of the terms of such Account (provided that such replacement account can be traced or identified by reference to, or by way of, the applicable computer file or microfiche list previously filed pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement), (f) each Transferred Account and, (g) each surviving account resulting from the combination of two or more of the Accounts, but Accounts will not include Removed Accounts, Purged Accounts or Written-Off Accounts;

“Account Assets” means the Receivables owing from time to time under the Accounts, all monies due or becoming due under the Accounts, including credit and all other non-principal charges due or becoming due under the Accounts, all Insurance Proceeds and the then applicable Pool Interchange Amount, together with all monies on deposit in, and Eligible Investments credited to, the Collection Account, and all amounts received with respect thereto after the Cut-Off Date, in the case of the Initial Accounts, after the applicable Additional Cut-Off Date in the case of Additional Accounts and after the applicable Substitution Date, in the case of Substituted Accounts;

“Accumulation Shortfall” means, in respect of a Series and a month, the amount, if any, by which the sum of the Controlled Accumulation Amounts for earlier months exceeds the sum of amounts deposited into the related Series Liquidation Principal Funding Account in respect of Monthly Principal Accumulation Amounts for such earlier months;

“Addition Date” means, with respect to an Additional Account, the date, as specified in the notice in which such Additional Account is designated, on which undivided co-ownership interests in the Account Assets under such Additional Account as of the Additional Cut-Off Date in respect of such Additional Account are Transferred to the Co-Owner(s), and on and after which such Additional Account is included as an Account;

“Additional Account” means an Existing Account or a New Account added to the Accounts pursuant to the Pooling and Servicing Agreement in the circumstances described under “The Account Assets – Addition, Substitution and Removal of Accounts – Addition of Accounts” and “– Mandatory Additions of Accounts”;

“Additional Cut-Off Date” means, with respect to an Additional Account, the date specified as such in the notice in which such Additional Account is designated;

“Additional Funding Expenses” means, in respect of a Series, the portion of expenses of the Trust allocable to such Series, including an allocable portion of taxes payable by the Trust, fees payable to the Issuer Trustee (in its individual capacity), the Indenture Trustee and the Administrator, the Subordinated Loan Repayment Amount and any other payment required to be made under the applicable Series Subordinated Loan Agreement, plus the portion of the amount of the distribution to be made to the Beneficiary allocable to such Series, but excluding expenses, debts, liabilities and obligations that have been or will be paid with amounts borrowed under the applicable Series Subordinated Loan Agreement;

“Additional Ownership Interest” means an undivided co-ownership interest in Account Assets acquired in respect of a Series after the initial Closing Date applicable to such Series and having the same attributes thereof, in accordance with the Pooling and Servicing Agreement and in the circumstances described under “The Custodial, Co-Ownership and Servicing Arrangement – Additional Ownership Interests of Other Series”;
